BUSINESS PROFILES

When the word antiques is mentioned the first person to come to mind is Morris Ringel – not because he is 81 years old, but because he is one of the most prominent antique dealers in the Atlanta area, and Kennesaw is fortunate to have M. Ringel and Son Antiques located here.

Morris Ringel is not only an expert on antiques, but a fascinating person to talk with on any subject. His life has been based on hard work, honesty, and high ideals.

Born in Austria, now a part of Czechoslovakia, in 1896, he came to the United States at the age of 16 to live with an uncle. As he was able to speak English (as well as German and Hebrew) he had no trouble finding odd jobs in New York. He worked for a shoe company, a box manufacturer, then settled into the fruit and produce business. He sold fruit on the streets of New York, then at the end of the day, he would go back through those same streets giving what was left in his truck to the children of the poor. He traveled from New York to Florida buying and selling produce.

The produce business played an even greater part in his life when he met his wife, Elizabeth (Betty) in a Municipal Market in New York City. She was a nurse at that time, in her thirties, and he was a confirmed bachelor of over forty. They now have a daughter, Rachel Thompson, and a son Michael, and four granddaughters.

Mr. Ringel started in the antique business quite by accident. Owning his own truck, he was given a consignment of antiques to deliver South. What should have been a weeks work turned into several months when the antiques did not sell. Having a love for heritage and old things, Mr. Ringel decided to learn more about antiques. Upon returning to New York he contacted a friend in the business and he was on his way to a new career. He began buying and selling antiques in New York and traveling South where he found that the demand was great. In 1954 he moved permanently to Atlanta from New York as he did most of his business there.

He opened an Antique shop in Atlanta, but soon found that Atlanta was not the place he wanted to have his business, with parking problems and very little protection from theft. He moved his business north to Kennesaw where the area was steadly growing.

Mr. Ringel sells primarily European antiques and has been importing since 1947. He met many people in Europe after the war and is still doing business with many of then - or their sons. He travels to Europe to buy antiques, then has them shipped back to Kennesaw. His primary business is wholesale and he has helped many people get started in their own antique shops.

He believes that in furniture it's not the price that makes the quality. He says a a person can spend the same amount of money for an antique as a new piece of furniture, but with the antique you get the quality of a fine craftsman and not the plastic veneer you get in furniture of today. Antiques are also a good investment because the price isn't going anywhere but up.

Take the time to drop by Ringel's Antiques and get to know more about Morris Ringel. We guarantee you won't be disappointed.

FROM THE GAZETTE: Congratulations to Frank Boone and staff of the K.B.A. on the tremendous success of "Trade Days".

Through our festive Trade Days, I tried to find who had traveled the greatest distance to our town. Seems to have been Petie Popham and Bill Elliot from Indiana, pictured here with Helen Burrell.

This picture was made over 50 years ago. He was born in Kennesaw and has lived here ever since. If you haven't guessed by now, that's H. B. Butler. "We love you."

YOUR POLICE DEPARTMENT

Each month we will furnish the Kennesaw Gazette with information that we feel will keep you abreast of, and more aware of the continuous work of your Police Department. Recently we installed the TD-800 computer. This computer will allow us to instantly check any information of a police nature. Stolen property, missing persons, crimes of any nature can instantly be reported or inquired about. This will prove to be our most helpful tool in combating crime.

Another step in our citizens service program is our elderly or incapacitated peoples report. This program allows the aged or unable to call the switch board and get immediate help with necessary errands that they are unable to do for themselves. 422-2505 is the number to call. You may have noticed more patrol cars around town. The new additions to the force have added much needed patrol capabilities to our department.

On lighter note, the Police Department has formed a softball team. The members are from the city council, the Police Department, and various other members of your city government. We think we're the best and urge all the teams that think they know how to play softball to give us a call and arrange to play the greatest infield combination in softball. That switch board number again is 422-2505.

We sincerely hope that you have found this article informative and in some small way enjoyable, and we will continue to work for the betterment of our community. Our motto at the department is "To serve and protect".

Thank you,

Chief P. S. Howard

A NEW FACE AT CITY HALL

You may have noticed someone new behind the desk in the Recreation Office at City Hall. For those of you who have not had the opportunity to meet our new Recreation Director, we would like to take this column to introduce him to you.

Joel Daniels is originally from Marietta and graduated from Sprayberry High School. He attended Kennesaw College and Mercer University, graduating in 1972 with a major in Physical Education and Recreation. He then attended graduate school at Appalachian State College in Boone, North Carolina, and from there enlisted in the Marines and served two years, part of that time in Viet Nam. He is single and at the present time is looking for a house in the Kennesaw area.

He enjoys working with children and has many plans for new activities in recreation this year.

Joel has been involved in Kennesaw baseball with his brother, Dan, for several years. He says he likes Kennesaw and the people here so he applied for the position of Recreation Director when it came open.

Congratulations to Vic Allred on his new "natural" look.

We hear Carol Thompson is thinking about taking a Drivers Ed. Course, or maybe becoming a driver in the Demolition Derby. Seriously, Carol, we're glad you weren't hurt in your accident.

Happy Birthday to Terry Coil on May 23rd.

Due West Circle is a very exciting street. Sherry and Phil Norman recently had a "fugitive from the law" hide in their driveway.

Why doesn't Luther Carter gain any weight from all those peanut butter sandwiches?

Little Miss Jamie Higdon was 6 years old on April 6th. Happy Birthday, Jamie.

Hugh Smith says, "Never trust a barber. They'll cut you short every time." "Abner" Cantrell, Hugh Brinkley, Lamar Shelton, is it really true that he charges balding men more because he has to search for it!

Frank Boone, have you chauffered a motor home full of local Russell Arthur fans lately?

Seems like there's been a bit of tall fish stories going round among some of the retired gents in town, but no pictures. Right, Paul Black, Harry Gault and Reverend King?

Oliver Wibur and Jerry Davis are there really that many old maid school teachers that owned all those cars?

If you think Doug Hunt's face was swollen, you should see Herbert Huffman's. Keep eating that yogart, Herbert.

Should have been in the Shanty House April 13th, Thursday nite. Sounded like the Saturday night fights. Bill Jiles and Capt. Hooper were arguing about whether or not the Etowah River was in Ellijay. Think Hooper's blood pressure really shot up. He was going to get a map to show Bill that the river is in Ellijay. Two hours later Bill was still waiting at Shanty House for Hooper to show up with the map. Now, now, boys . . . .

102 And Going Strong

BY JIM ALLEN

On Thursday morning, April 13, 1978, I had the pleasure of conducting an interview with Mrs. Mattie B. Chester, known to most of the people here abouts as Mrs. Taylor. The interview was conducted in the front yard at Mrs. Taylor's home on Summers St. extention, with her some Arvil Wayne, James Harley, and his wife Doris in attendance.

Mrs. Taylor, who is 102 years old or more, is very alert and spry for one of such advanced age and to talk with her is a most delightful experience.

To the best of her recollection, Mrs. Taylor says she was born May 12th, 1876, somewhere in the vicinity of Murphy, North Carolina. The daughter of, in her words, "old man Sammy Beavers, a soldier man who worked about on the farm". She had ten brothers and sisters, of which, she is the only one still living. Life on the farm in those days started at four a.m., and when Pa called the kids knew to hit the floor. Asked about churches and schools, Mrs. Taylor said "There weren't any; that is, none close enough for them to attend so their education, both religious and academic was learned from Mother and Father, with the Bible as their guide."

As a small child, Mrs. Taylor remembers the first train she ever saw. She tells it like this: "My daddy was to catch the train to go back to the Army, so we all went to the train station with him. That train was the ugliest thing I ever saw but I wasn't afraid of it, and I went right up to it. After we got

FOUR WHEELING

For those who enjoy an enhanced feeling of freedom, few experiences equal that of driving along a two lane blacktop realizing that the end of the pavement is not the end of the trip. Realizing, in fact, that the end of the pavement is actually the beginning, because off road is what four wheel drive is all about.

Given a clear path, a properly equipped vehicle, and a winch (for emergencies and/or super tough grades) there are very few places a four wheeler can't go. Serious outdoorsmen, have long known that a four wheel drive vehicle is essential for getting to the out of way paradise that are inaccessible in a normal sedan or truck.

And one particularly amazing thing, is that the vehicle that will climb a 45° grade and handle boggy ground doesn't necessarily have to be uncomfortable in civilization. Many 4WD's double as a primary mode of tranportation-as family cars-when they aren't being called upon for the more exotic uses. Most have power steering, power brakes, automatic transmissions, air conditioning, and ride as well or better on highway than comparable cars. Many 4 wheeler's are equipped with towing packages capable of carrying anything from small boats to 5000 pound trailers with impunity on paved or dirt roads.

And of course there is always the basic clothtop fun machine equipped with roll bar and flotation tires for off road racing, rallies, or in general creek hopping and gully jumping. You can build a 4 wheeler to your specifications to fit your needs, and then drive and enjoy on road and off.

There's no better way to take a little civilization to the country and to bring a little excitement to civilization.

Try it - You'll like it!

MEET THE CANDIDATE

Kem Shipp is running

This Column is a regular feature in the Gazette to aquaint you with candidates running for political office. It is not an endorsement, only a short character sketch of the people who have chosen to serve their community through goverevenment service.
You be the judge... Your vote counts!

Kem Shipp is running "Tax reform and honesty in government are my major campaign pledges to the people of the western district of Cobb County."

Mr. Shipp made this statement to the Gazette in a personal interview shortly after his announcement that he would be a candidate.

Mr. Shipp has never sought political office before, but after he received his new property tax bill he immediately went to work to find out the reason for the excessive increases. His search for some of the answers led him to represent the Cobb Property Owners Assn. as co-chairman of that citizen group.

"The future belongs to Cobb County and it's citizens and now is the time for us to elect officials that can help implement tax reform and restore respect and confidence to their country government," Shipp said, "and I think that with my broad business background and my true desire, I can work hard for the people of my district."

Kem Shipp is a graduate of Furman University and has been an active member of the Cobb Lions Club with a seven year perfect attendance record, the Optimist Club, Kennesaw Business Association and other civic groups.

Shipp along with Lanie, his lovely wife and two beautiful children live at "The Barn", that he personally designed and built, just off Jim Owens Rd.

Kem Shipp is a candidate for the Cobb County Commission - Western District.

A TRIBUTE TO MOTHER

Miss Anna Jarvis of Philadelphia, whose mother died May 12, 1906, was founder of this sacred occasion. By 1910 several of the states had formally proclaimed the day. Both Houses of Congress declared May 10th, 1913 as the first national observance and President Wilson issued the first national proclamation in 1914.

It was originally the custom in England, to observe annually one day known as "Mothering Day", a day in which the children as well as adults gave flowers or some little gift to their mother. Miss Jarvis probably got her idea from the ancient custom.

QUOTE FOR THE MONTH

Happiness is as a butterfly, which when pursued, is always beyond our grasp, but which, if you will sit down quietly, may alight upon you.

there, they let daddy go back home with us." When asked if her father was a slave owner, Mrs. Taylor said, "No, and she didn't remember anyone near their farm who did own slaves." She does remember the first black person she ever saw and told me this; "One day I was playing in the yard and I saw this black woman coming up the trail. Well, I didn't know what she wanted or who she was, so I shinnied up a tree. The woman called me to come down or she would climb up and get me. I told her to come ahead, you'll never catch me! And I climbed to the top of that old tree. The black woman finally went on and I still didn't know what she wanted" Her folks weren't around at the time to find out.

Mrs. Taylor likes to sew and still sews quite a bit. She works in the garden and likes to see things "a growin". Her favorite food is cornbread and sweet milk for supper, and fresh vegetables for dinner. On her doctor's advice, she walks two miles a day, every day. She and Wayne are a familar sight in Kennesaw on their daily walk. Mrs. Taylor has a deep and profound belief in God. She says, "I ask God to let me live a little longer and he does, and God will give you anything you want if you believe in Him and pray. I say my prayers every nite before I go to bed because I love God, and He loves me and if I put off my prayer till tomorrow I may not be here to pray."

Mrs. Taylor attributes her long life to food that agrees with you, exercise and a strong belief in God and Prayer. She also believes that folks "pass on early because they give up and sit down?"

Mrs. Taylor, who has been a widow for thirty-five years, moved her family to Kennesaw from Ellijay in the early 1940s. This remarkable woman with her absolute faith in God should inspire more of us to look closely at our own life style.

Should you see Mrs. Taylor and Wayne walking down the street, wave and say "hello". She will be delighted.

FOOD FOR THOUGHT

Modern version of the well-known fable of The Little Red Hen: Once upon a time, there was a little red hen who scratched about the barnyard until she uncovered some grains of wheat. She called her neighbors and said, "If we plant this wheat, we shall have bread to eat. Who will help me plant it?" "Not I," said the goose. — "Then I will," said the little red hen. And she did. The wheat grew tall and ripened into golden grain. "Who will help me reap my wheat?" asked the little red hen. "Not I," said the duck. "Out of my classification," said the pig. "I'd lose my seniority," said the cow. "I'd lose my unemployment compensation," said the goose. "Then I will," said the little red hen, and she did. At last it came time to bake the bread. "Who will help me bake the bread?" asked the little red hen. "That would be overtime for me," said the cow. "I'd lose my welfare benefits," said the duck. "I'm a dropout and never learned how," said the pig. "If I'm to be the only helper, that's discrimination," said the goose. "Then I will," said the little red hen. She baked five loaves and held them up for her neighbors to see. They all wanted some, and in fact, demanded a share. But the little red hen said, "No, I can eat the five loaves myself." "Excess profits!" cried the cow. "Capitalist leech!" screamed the duck. "I demand equal rights!" yelled the goose. And the pig just grunted. And they painted "unfair" picket signs and marched round and round the little red hen, shouting obscenities. When the government agent came, he said to the little red hen, "You must not be greedy." "But I earned the bread," said the little red hen. "Exactly," said the agent. "That is the wonderful free enterprise system. Anyone in the barnyard can earn as much as he wants. But under our modern government regulations, the productive workers must divide their product with the idle." And they lived happily ever after, including the little red hen, who smiled and clucked, "I am grateful. I am grateful." But her neighbors wondered why she never again baked any more bread.

MOTHER AND AUNT HELEN'S APPLE TREE

The Skin of the apple is smooth and firm and true, the first taste comes to you as sweet and soft as the Georgia morning dew.

The tree that bears this succulent delight is strong and round and sound, with many crisp green leaves that help the fruit abound. The September days are dimming now as the summer storms are past and the fruits begat in early spring are off to the market at last.

I'm sitting here thinking preparing to renew, of how strong and wise I grew and all I owe to you.

As I see your picture together it warms me deep inside, to think of you as partners protecting the family pride.

The apple Leaves are turning now as they must to renew, that zeal for life will soon be back as sweet and soft as the Georgia morning dew.

I Love You!

MOTHER'S DAY

Mother's Day is a day to care.
Do we do her right, do we treat her fair?
She tries her best in every way to keep us happy from day to day.
Can you truthfully say "I respect my mother and obey.?"

When we were young, she taught us to walk. . .
She watched us closely and taught us to talk.
As we grew older and played in the sand,
We got awfully dirty, but Mother thought is was grand. . .
to have children so happy and content,
she knew that blessings from heaven had been sent.

Then school days began and Mother was sad,
but in her heart she knew we were glad.
She polished our shoes and ironed our clothes.
She combed our hair and tied our bows.
We were fussing and squirming, but she was so patient with us, as she rushed us out to catch our bus.
Why couldn't we have been more of a helping hand?
Perhaps we were too busy having fun to understand.

Now that Mother's hair is turning gray and she is getting old, her love I can't deny and her smile means more than gold.

Love you, Mama.
(P.S. To think, at that time I thought Mama was old and she was younger than I am now.)

I GET SO CORNFUSED

Flo Motes' mother took the bobby pins from her hair and stuffed them in an empty envelope, while at the beauty shop. Flo, seeing the envelope in her stack of mail, noticed it was addressed to her brother. She took special care of it since it had City of Kennesaw on the return address. After giving the envelope to her sister-in-law, she discovered her Mother's bobby pins inside.

While managing a restaurant, I was training new waitresses, and wanting them to work faster. Having this on my mind while I was ringing up a food check, I told the customer, "Thank you. Hurry up!"

If Roxann at Shanty House gives you coffee to go, better check it. It might be tea. Huh, Roxann?

Anotner restaurant, another time, two men from a foreign country, understanding very Little English, were approaching the door to leave. I called out, "Thank you. Y'all come back.", which they did immediately and I had to explain that was a Southern Expression.

SUCCESS

Every man who holds a high position gets there through "luck." All he has to do is: Cultivate a pleasing personality, make himself well liked by others, sow seeds of kindness and good cheer wherever he goes, perform his work better than the "unlucky" man, and render his best service regardless of salary. Luck does the rest. (Sunshine Magazine)

IT SOMETIMES RAINS FROGS

Scientists explain the phenomenon of raining frogs in this way:, Spawn are sucked up from rivers and lakes into the atmosphere by whirlwinds. The lightweight embryos are carried through the air for great distances. The spawn hatch en route. When the full force of the wind is spent, the wee animals, having taken on weight, drop to the earth!

Serving The Vision Needs of Kennesaw

At the present time, he is busy getting three baseball fields and one softball field in shape for summer and is working on a new football field at Adams Park to be completed by this fall. A new Colt League is also planned for this year - the first for Kennesaw in several years.

For those not interested in baseball or softball, new tennis courts have been approved, bids made, and grading is being done at this time. When the tennis courts are finished, tournaments are planned.

Summer Day Camp will be scheduled as usual with Registration beginning the end of May. Activities such as crafts and games are planned each day with field trips throughout the summer. Anyone wishing to volunteer their help or suggestions, please call Joel at 422-9714. He welcomes your ideas and suggestions to help make your child's recreation program better.

Congratulations, Judy Gallman, for being chosen "Secretary of the Year" in the Cobb County Chapter April 24th.

As part of National Secretary Week, each chapter of the National Secretaries Association, by independent judging, selects a secretary of the year.

Judy has been a member of NSA for 4 years. She has been executive secretary of Burrellco since Jan., 1974, and has been a resident of Kennesaw since 1963.

Selection is made by a panel of judges who review a written personal and professional performance form submitted by the employer.

MAY IS SENIOR CITIZENS MONTH

We are happy to hear that the Kennesaw Senior Citizens have built their membership back up to over 30 members after several months of non-participation. Mrs. Geneva Willbanks, coordinator for the Kennesaw Senior Citizens, tells us that there is always room for more members. The Senior Citizens meet two days a week, Tuesday and Thursday, in the downstairs of Kennesaw City Hall. The hours are from 10:00 a.m. to 2:00 p.m. and the Senior Citizens enjoy crafts, discussions, exercises, and many other activities. Transportation is furnished.

The Senior Citizens also enjoy trips to various spots in and out of the county, visiting places that many of them have not seen in years, or never had the opportunity to visit at all.

Anyone needing more information may call the Kennesaw City Hall, 424-8274, and ask for Senior Citizens. We would like to see more Senior Citizens take advantage of this opportunity to meet with their friends for special activities just for them.

SPEND TOO MUCH TIME DECIDING WHERE TO BEGIN AND IT WILL BE TOO LATE TO START.

Activities

ARCHERY, HIKES, NATURE STUDY, CRAFTS, and CAMPING SKILLS are some of our traditional activities. However, we offer others which are not so traditional, but are loved by past campers. The most popular of these are: egg gathering, gardening, feeding and caring for the camp animals.

SPORTS also play an important part in our camp program. Softball, dodgeball, relay races, trampoline and other such events which stimulate physical and mental alertness are encouraged.

CANOEING, SAILING and FISHING are popular on our three acre camp lake. Campers must pass the camp administered swimming test before being permitted to take canoes into the lake. All campers wear life preservers when in canoes.

HORSEBACK RIDING is taught, bareback, in small classes emphasizing safety and pleasure. Interested campers will have the opportunity to ride daily when possible.

In June Josh Powell opens its sixth Summer Day Camping Season. This camp for girls and boys is located in the midst of 24 beautifully wooded acres just north of the historic town of kennesaw, off I-75 on Wade Green Road.

NEW BUSINESS PROFILE

"Singing the Blues"

How can anyone be singing the blues when "Spring has sprung and the leaves are young--do--da, do-da"?

Craig and Viki Grant, owners of Kennesaw Paint and Wallcovering have had plenty of reason to sing, or in their case, cry the blues.

Their store opened in January of this year, after 8 years in the paint business in Bartow County, and I don't have to tell you what the weather has been like for painting so far. Craig said his mother's famous words from his childhood, "all the money going out and none coming in" are still ringing in his ears.

Besides Mother Nature being unkind, their newspaper ads (except for the Gazette) have been "unbelievably riddled with mistakes". Even the great American institution "Ma Bell" left them out of the new Yellow Pages, and when confronted with the error, they remarked, "Oh well, Maybe next year." Say it ain't so, Ma.

After meeting the people of Kennesaw, Craig, Viki and their 18 month old daughter, Sossity, have decided to move to our town, and have put their house in Cartersville up for sale. Of course, their highly recommended agent has yet to show the house after six weeks.

Finally saving the money to put new tires on the car, three out of the four went flat within an hour of purchase. As Craig put it, "If I owned a dog, it would have died or had kittens."

Craig and Viki are both accomplished musicians, being able to sing and play quite a

THE ONE THAT GOT AWAY

Since there is six times as much water as land on this earth, any fool can plainly see the good Lord meant for man to fish six times as much as work.

FISHING TALES

Sportsmen take heart!! There are a few good fishing spots left in the Kennesaw vicinity.

DOUG HUNT, well known area fishing expert, reports that some fine catches have been made recently on Stamp Creek at Lake Allatoona and at the Victoria Landing area.

(Note: "Exact" locations cannot be pinpointed due to the "Fisherman's Code" - Silence regarding favorite fishing holes.) This requires a great deal of cunning on the part of the fisherman, such as going out in the dead of night so he won't be seen (excuse: Fish bite better during the dark hours of early morning.) Leaving false trails such as telling everyone "the fishing is great at (He wouldn't wet his purple worm there.), and of course, NEVER telling the "little woman" lest she give away his secret spot. Spies are everywhere, you know.

According to Doug, crappie are biting good this month. ROY DAVENPORT recently caught 12 crappie with one reported weighing 2 lbs. 14 oz. (Sounds like a bunch of "crappie"). This catch was made "Somewhere" on Lake Allatoona. JIM PITNER caught 12 bass also on Lake Allatoona, but they can't top J.C. TURNER'S 90 crappie caught on Lake Weiss above Rome on the Ga.-Ala. border.

Other area fishermen who report good catches are BUDDY KEMP and JIM BEARDEN with 19 trout caught on Rock Creek in the North Ga. Mountains, PETE McCOLLUM with 35 crappie near the new 75 bridge at Allatoona Lake, DENVER HUGHES with 2 five-lb. plus bass caught on Acworth Lake, and DOUG HUNT and SAMMY MORRIS with 6 bass caught on Acworth Lake using a PURPLE WORM. (Purple Worms are "in" this year.)

Doug reports that the overall fishing is "fair" for this time of year, but to this reporter it sounds pretty good.

Be sure to watch for this column in next month's Gazette. We will have more up-to-date coverage for the Kennesaw fisherman.

KORN KOLUMN

You have just enjoyed the second edition of the KENNESAW GAZETTE.

So far we've had numerous people to comment that they've been driving all the way to Marietta or elsewhere, because they either didn't know that particular business was in Kennesaw or didn't realize the prices in our town are just as reasonable.

We urge you to please take a moment to turn to each page and make a mental note of who the advertisers are that make your free subscription possible, and drop by their place of business to let them know you saw their ad in the Gazette.

The advertisers can't know their ad is seen, if you don't mention it, and they are our sole source of support.

We hope you like the new columns we've started. We'd like to add to them each month. Call and mention the column title: What Bugs Ya? Korn Kolumn, etc. and tell your tale.
