Southern Technical Institute

A UNIT OF ENGINEERING EXTENSION • GEORGIA INSTITUTE OF TECHNOLOGY

foreword

Often the future is blurry and the past buried beneath today's problems, but such is not quite the case here at Southern Tech. By the time the readers of this year's Technician Log need their book to bring back into focus the efforts on their part here at Southern Tech, the college will have moved into its new campus at Marietta.

The future of Southern Tech, Marietta, is now clearly in focus with nothing but bright hopes for achieving its aims. From the time of the creation of Southern Tech in 1948 a new campus of its own has been the school's goal. In the near future that goal will be a reality!

The efforts put into this year's yearbook are mainly for the purpose of keeping the clouds of time from making Southern Tech, Chamblee, hazy and unclear in the minds of the graduates.

dedication

The yearbook staff wishes to recognize the twelve original members of the Southern Tech faculty and staff who are still devoting their life's work to the school. Energies and devotions like theirs can result in nothing but success, as the history of the school has proved.

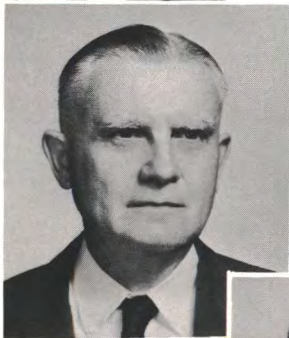

It is a small gesture but a pleasant one to dedicate the 1961 Technician's Log to these "pioneers" of Southern Technical Institute.

a message from the president

The thirteenth year in the history of the Southern Technical Institute will certainly become a milestone, for it will mark the realization of the new facilities in Cobb County in the fall of 1961.

Already over 2,000 engineering technicians have been graduated and are now proving their special utility and worth as a most essential supplement to the various tasks performed by modern professional engineers in Georgia, the South, and the Nation.

Once again, we wish to express our complete confidence in the efforts of the very capable faculty, administrative officials, and the student body of the Southern Technical Institute, and to pledge our full support to its expanding technological programs.

Edwin D. Harrison, President
Georgia Institute of Technology

a message from the director

You men who are graduating have the distinction of being the last graduating class from our facilities in Chamblee. It may seem strange to you that I would say "distinction" when I refer to facilities that consist of converted Navy barracks with a decided physical lack of academic atmosphere, but I mean just that.

The fact that you have doggedly pursued a difficult course of study under such conditions is a monument to your dedication to learning. Your determination to get a good education is exactly the same determination that has made America great. Because you have exhibited the stubborn singleness of purpose that industry values highly, I predict for each of you a bright future in industry; and we of Southern Tech sincerely appreciate your having given us the privilege of helping you to prepare for it.

civil department

The Civil Technology course prepares students for jobs in the surveying, construction and consulting engineering fields. Upon completion of the course and after the required experience and examinations have been completed the Civil Technician may become a Licensed Professional Land Surveyor. Many Civil Technicians have become superintendents or project managers on construction jobs; others are working for various engineering companies, or in sales engineering and promotion work.

building construction

The curriculum of Building Construction Technology is concerned with the design, supervision, and construction of homes, schools, factories, stores, and municipal projects. The student is taught the methods of designing, drawing plans, and following through with construction details and methods. Emphasis is placed on Architectural Technology; and upon successful completion of this course the student has many varied job opportunities in architectural and engineering offices, and with building contractors, and manufacturers of building materials.

The Mechanical Technology curriculum offers training in three categories:

1. Specialization Courses—Subjects that deal with the mechanical aspects of manufacturing.
2. Personnel and Management Courses—Subjects that deal with the human problems that arise in manufacturing, including time and motion study, supervisory training, etc.
3. Basic Courses—Subjects that are basic in any manufacturing set-up such as English, physics, mathematics, etc.

Classroom theory is correlated with laboratory work in which the student becomes familiar with the basic tools and machines used in the mechanical field. The mechanical curriculum is the least specialized of any of the programs offered at Southern Tech, due to the fact that it is practically impossible to predict the type of position a man will hold when he graduates.

The Electrical Department offers courses in the three major fields of Electrical Technology. All students in this department receive training in mathematics, physics, English, and electrical-circuit theory. On completion of these courses the student specializes in his option. The Power Option offers training in electrical machinery, power distribution, and illumination, to enable the graduate to fill positions in electrical utilities, and electrical consulting and sales. The Electronics Option gives training in electronics circuits, and microwaves, to prepare the graduate for employment in many electronics industries. The Telephone Option gives training in the principles of telephone systems to enable the graduate to fill important positions in the many telephone companies throughout the country.

heating and air conditioning

One of Southern Tech's major distinctions is its gas fuel technology department—the only course of its kind in the United States.

The gas industry is one of the top leading industries in the United States and the demand for trained technicians seems almost insatiable; at least, Southern Tech cannot supply 10% of the technicians which the industry needs. This means that gas fuel students have a wide choice of jobs from all sections of the country.

The course encompasses the transmission, distribution, and utilization of natural and liquefied petroleum gas. Of course, basic science subjects, English, management courses, and courses related to the major technical speciality are included. The program is constantly surveyed by leaders in the gas industry to assure that the curriculum is designed to adequately train gas technicians.

In the past few years the heating and air conditioning industry has become one of the largest in the country. Already air conditioning is a "must" for homes, offices, hotels, and theaters. New applications of air conditioning and refrigeration theory are announced daily.

The heating and air conditioning course is designed to train technicians to plan, install, operate, and maintain all types of heating, air conditioning and refrigerating equipment. Basic courses in physics, mathematics, mechanical drawing, shop, human relations, technical writing, public speaking, and supervisory training are included.

industrial

The great value of Industrial Technology graduates to almost any industry is developed through an ever-expanding knowledge of and training in the principles of scientific management, and the ever-changing methods, systems and procedures of industry.

Alert, expanding companies, and those who are creating their place in the forefront of industry need and are employing many of the graduates of the Industrial Technology Department, who have this background.

Industry in Georgia has requested that Southern Tech present a curriculum designed to more specifically qualify graduates for industry's staff and administrative positions. Industrial Technology (Management Option) does this by supplementing industrial know-how with such subjects as Industrial Psychology, Organization and Management, Labor Management and others.

The demand for trained, qualified men by the textile industry is much greater than the number enrolled in the textile schools of the nation. The course in Textile Technology at Southern Tech is designed to fill this need.

The student is trained in communication, basic sciences, managing people, and textile manufacturing. This special training should give him the imagination, the knowledge and the ability to develop eventually into a valuable executive in this great industry.

athletics

The athletic program at Southern Tech consists of two parts, varsity athletics, and intramural sports. STI competes in intercollegiate athletics in five sports: basketball, baseball, track, tennis, and golf. STI holds membership in the Georgia Junior College Athletic Association and competes with junior colleges and freshmen teams in Georgia and Florida in basketball and baseball.

Harry S. Lockhart is the Athletic director and coaches basketball and baseball. Floyd J. Gangloff is assistant basketball and head track coach. Bob Myatt coaches the golf team, and Harry V. Smith, Jr., is the tennis coach.

The intramural program consists of departmental teams within the school. These teams compete in flag football, basketball, volleyball, softball, track, tennis and ping-pong. First, second, and third place points are awarded for each sport, and the total points for the year determine the winner of the intramural trophy each year.

engineering extension division

The Engineering Extension Division is that division through which the Georgia Institute of Technology extends its educational resources to those who do not desire to enroll as full-time day school students, or who desire special programs of instruction in the technical institute, engineering, or management areas.

The Engineering Extension Division includes three units in addition to Southern Tech. These are the Engineering Evening School and the Short Courses and Conferences units both operating on the main Georgia Tech campus, and the Industrial Education Department operating throughout the State.

Through the Engineering Extension Division, Georgia Tech extends its resources to serve approximately 12,000 people each year.

ATLANTA GIRL CROWNED MISS SOUTHERN TECH

Lester Shepperd presents roses to Miss Diane Stynchcombe while Carl Mathews and Professor Gus Thomas, master of ceremonies, agree with the judge's decision.

A twenty-year-old secretary of Fulton Superior Court has won the title of "Miss Southern Tech, 1961," in a beauty-talent contest which was sponsored by the Student Council in conjunction with the social and professional organizations of STI. Miss Diane Stynchcombe, of Atlanta, won the title at the Southern Tech Valentine Dance on February 10.

Miss Stynchcombe won her title in a field of sixteen entrants sponsored by Southern Tech social and professional organizations. Five young ladies, including Miss Stynchcombe, were in the semifinals of the contest.

A 1959 graduate of Bass High School, Miss Stynchcombe is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. LeRoy N. Stynchcombe of 1148 North Virginia Avenue, Atlanta. She will hold the title of Miss Southern Tech for a year.

Miss Southern Tech has been interviewed once on radio, and another interview is scheduled as The Technician goes to press. Saturday, the day after the dance, WQXI interviewed her. Another interview is scheduled for WGST.

Four other young ladies were selected as semi-finalists in the contest. They are as follows with their sponsors: Miss Jan Aumiller, Gas Fuel Power Club; Miss Linda Denmark, The Technician; Miss Barbara Ann Founier, Gamma Phi Kappa, and Miss Anne Starnes, Circle K.

tech annes

Tech Annes is a club made up of the wives of Southern Tech students. Meetings are held each second and fourth Thursday of each school month in the clubroom under the gym. The Tech Annes started off the New Year with a visit from Dr. M. C. Payne, who gave an informative lecture on child psychology. Although not professionally a child psychologist Dr. Payne's experiences as a new father helped to make his lecture interesting to Tech Annes, many of whom are mothers or expectant mothers.

A large number of "first-nighters" were present to hear Dr. Payne speak, and a number of new members were recruited from the large attendance. All wives of students at Southern Tech are invited to all meetings.

The campuswide Valentine Dance and "Miss Southern Tech of 1961" contest also held special interest for Tech Annes. Their sponsor for the contest was Mrs. Rachel Goolsby.

A Benefit Card Party was given in March. There were numerous door prizes and everyone seemed to have fun.

The year was closed with the annual May banquet. As usual it was a gala affair, with many past sponsors of the Tech Annes attending, as well as the members. All of next year's officers were introduced at the banquet.
