Southern College of Technology Moving Up '87 Vol. 38

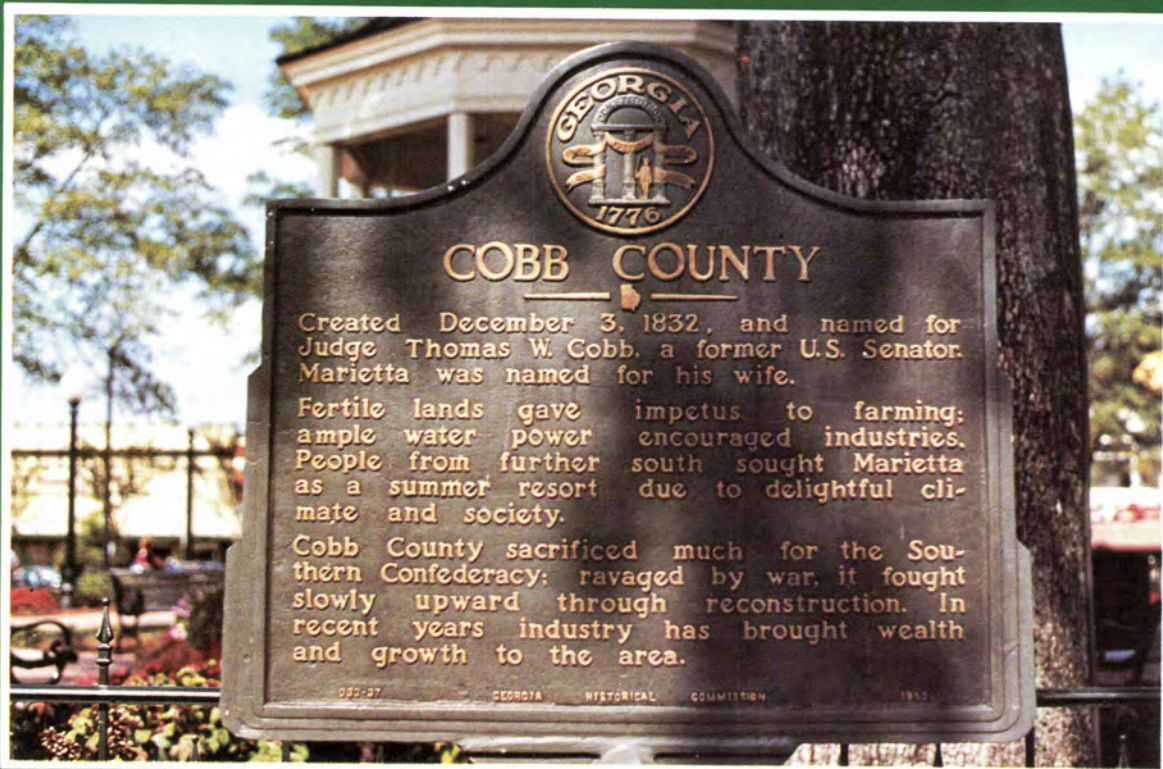

An important part of a college students' life, besides the importance of an education and leading an active life on campus, is his life off campus. For many of us, the Marietta Cobb County area serves as a place of business, employment, recreation, residence, etc. Through the eyes of our photographers, we present to you the beauty of the city of Marietta.

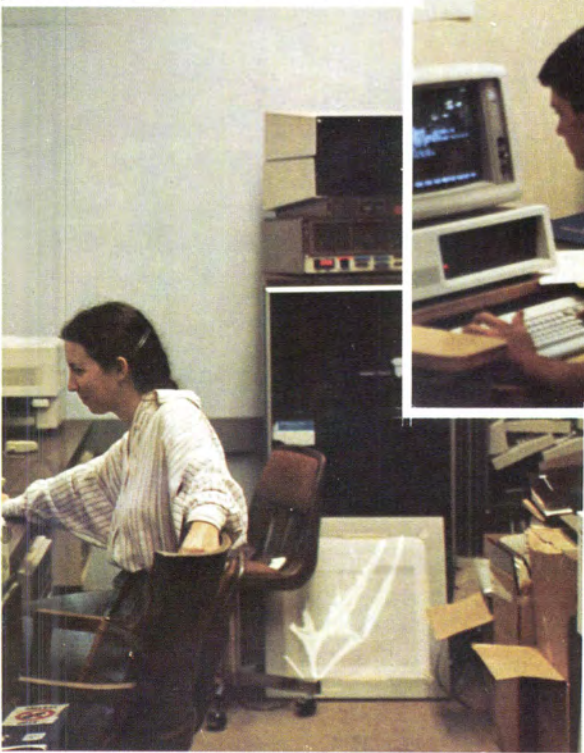

The Town of Marietta

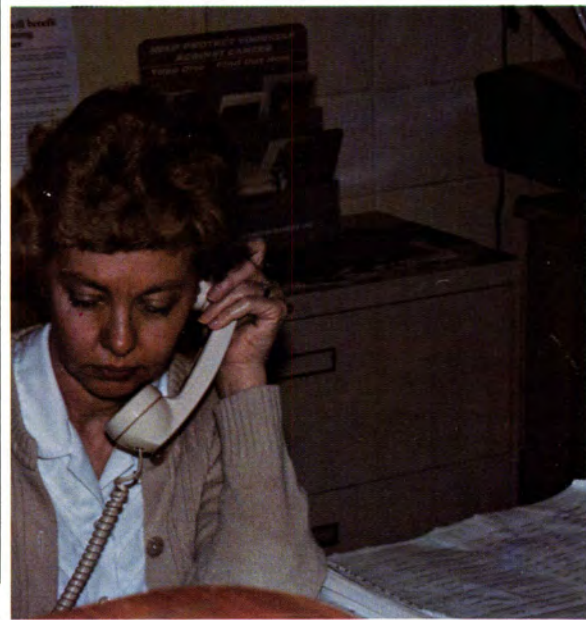

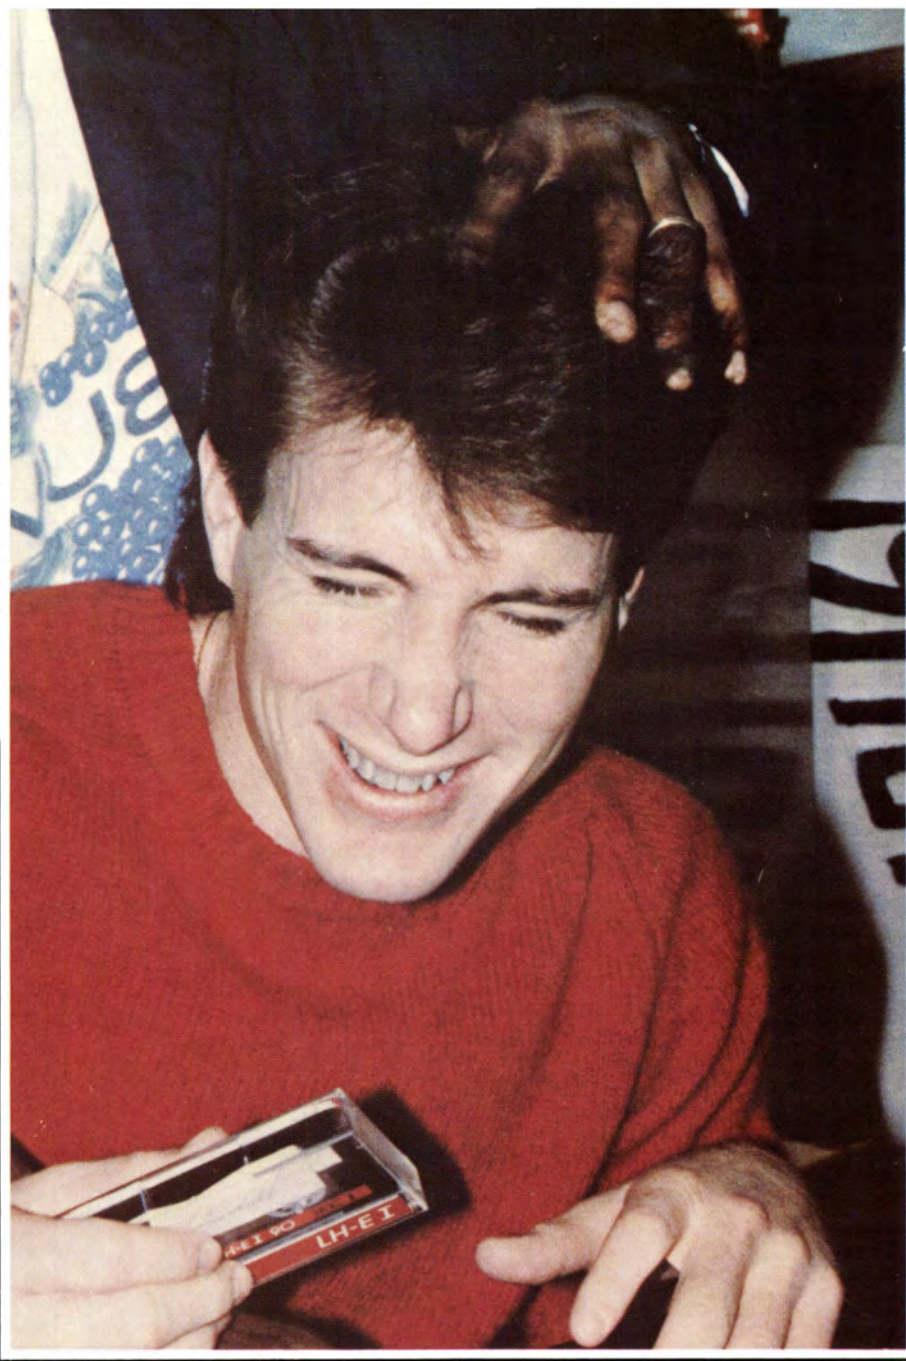

Whether at work or play, Southern Tech's finest are always busy leading active and rewarding lives. In this short pictorial and throughout the yearbook, we will try to cover all facets in your life, the average college student, through words and pictures from events and scenes on campus, as well as off campus. Be advised, you could very well be in one of our photos and never knew that we took your picture.

Beach Party, a wild and fun function created for the students of SCT. The students have CAB — Campus Activity Board — to thank for this fun get loose event. Beach Party is full of contest and games for the entire campus: contest such as Bathing suit, Simon Sez, and Wacky Tourists. Of course, a party is a party unless there is music. Therefore, CAB deserves many thanks for making this event a happening. Another thing that made Beach Party a success was the weather — for once, Beach Party was not rained out and held in the gym.

Bath Tub Race

Just as Southern Tech has grown, so has the Bathtub Race. With its meager beginnings during the mid-sixties as fraternity pledges dragged a bathtub full of iced down beer and a driver through a muddied road, the Bathtub Race has evolved into the high-tech form of racing that it is today. The race gives the students a chance to show off not only their driving and split second pit stop performances, but also provides an outlet for alternate applications of their engineering skills taught in the classroom.

The racing vehicles, or tubs, as we call them, are actually 140 pound cast iron, roll rim, claw foot bathtubs from years ago. The crew usually must search diligently to find a suitable tub, which usually involves tromping through many a cow pasture. The tub is surrounded by a frame of which material and design are devised by the crew to provide the handling characteristics they desire. Then the tub is fitted with an engine, usually a motorcycle engine and transmission having a displacement of less than 175cc. Additional features are added, such as rack and pinion steering, 4-wheel disc brakes, aerodynamic body panels, and release fuel tanks which allow top crews to make a pit stop in less than five seconds.

Each team and crew is made up of a tub and its driver, as well as up to four crewmen. Each crew must build their entry to conform to the current rules and pass a tech inspection before the tub is allowed in the race. The drivers and co-drivers must likewise pass a written exam and situation drivers school before being certified as a qualified driver. Each entry must also supply additional manpower to help with placing the protective tire barriers and to serve as "Track Marshalls" to help with crowd control on race weekend.

There are currently two bathtub races held each year at Southern Tech. The Fall race, a 60 lap event over the 1.1 mile road course on the campus, and the Spring race, a 75 lap event over the same course, is held each May. The two races, although only 15 laps different in length, have developed into two distinct — yet similar races. The shorter of the two events, the Fall race, is held each October when the weather is cool and dry. This allows crews to set their tubs up to run a 60 lap sprint race where quick lap times are of the major objective. The Spring race takes on the appearance of an out endurance race where reliability plays just as big a role as quick lap times. The lap times do not drop, as is evidenced by the fact that three of the previous four track records have been set during the Spring race. The crews just have to work harder to make the tub last through the grueling heat for close to 1½ hours.

Southern Tech was fortunate in 1987 to be visited by prominent speakers. These speakers enriched the world view of Southern Tech's student body and faculty. They brought different ideas about the world and what they thought the world should eventually be like.

One of the biggest speakers to visit Southern Tech was Governor Joe Frank Harris. His visit in the fall of 1986 was one of the highlights of Techfest, a two day celebration of the construction projects occurring on ST's campus. Governor Harris along with Pres. Cheshier and other prominent guests officially opened the new academic building with a ribbon cutting ceremony.

Another major visitor to Southern Tech was honorable Mayor Andrew Young, mayor of the city of Atlanta. Mayor Young came to ST in February in observance of Black History Month. Young spoke of the inadequate educational system in this country. Mayor Young's speech was very informative and eye opening. His analysis of the educational system in this country caused ST to question the current path of education in this country. The ST community benefitted greatly from these speakers. Hopefully next year will bring even more speakers with bright new ideas.

Southern Tech's student body loves to be entertained. The year of 1987 had a deal to offer where entertainment was concerned. CAB (Campus Activities Board) worked very hard to provide a variety of entertainment. Whether you like country music, classical, or comedy there was something for everyone.

CAB sponsored a talent show in winter quarter, in which students displayed their talents. Tim Johnson, who sung a gospel selection, was the winner of the talent show.

One of the bigger acts to entertain Southern Tech was Byron Allen, former co-host of the t.v. show "Real People". Byron had the student population rolling as he fired fast one liners. No student was safe from Byron's wrath as he searched the audience for potential victims of saline. After hearing Byron perform, Southern Tech felt as though it had truly been entertained by a true comedian.

Southern Tech was entertained by some great acts this year. Entertainment plays a very important part of a college student's life. In years to come, Southern Tech will hopefully be entertained by bigger and better acts but for now this year was a banner year.

1. Blue grass band performing in the student center.
2. Blue grass singer belting out a lyric.
3. Byron Allen joking with the audience.
4. Comedian/Emcee, David Kenny performed at several functions this year.
5. Star Search winner performs here on campus.
6. Ms. Brown singing in the talent show.

Campus Life can actually be fun

College can give any person a lonely feeling but after you get involved with the activities, there is endless enjoyment.

The dorms are constantly being provided with entertainment. The hall parties sponsored by the RA's or the bands provided by the campus activities board. Students are provided with outdoor movies with popcorn when the summer heat starts to warm up the rooms.

There is also a volleyball court between the dorms to give students that togetherness feeling.

The fun never ends once a student moves on campus.

I wish everybody could like their roommate as much as I like mine. I just can't keep my hands off her.

This is the bottle ballet class; the registration fee for beginners is a 12-pack of Miller Lite. The advanced classes are required to have Bud also.

For some people, there can never be enough air to keep them cool, so they "bare-it-all" and open the door (Future Exhibitionist of America) F.E.A. "I am a member of the F.E.A.; our motto is 'bare-it-all, then open the door.'"

Behind this door, stands the wall of Gerico — compliments of Susan.

This picture was the only thing that kept me on my homework and off my boyfriend, I swear.

Yes, I did wash my hands before leaving men's room; I even helped my friend do his dishes.

After working on this project for a week, I decided that this room wasn't big enough for my project and my roommate, so, I packed her bag.

This room came in second place in the home of the week contest. (The buck stopped here).

I never thought flunking a class could make me so happy. Well, back to the "Want Ads".

There will never be another summer that this room will be caught without a working cooling system. (They don't call us engineering students for nothing.)

When the going gets tough, the tough get drunk — in groups.

The telephone is a wonderful invention; you can ask your parent for money without seeing their facial expression.

The Dormitories— Home Away From Home

Learning to adjust to being away from home is difficult for most students.

Going away to college is more than just being "On Your Own." Going away to college means meeting strange new people, learning to compromise, having valuable experiences and friendship. Living in the dorms is an experience in itself.

Southern Tech has two air-conditioned dormitories which provide a home for more than 400 students each quarter. Each room is usually occupied by two students and provides a convenient home on campus.

Learning to adjust to this new lifestyle is sometimes difficult. Although Steve Holtz and Terri Carruth do as much as they can to help each and every student, they cannot because they are only two people. Therefore, they are assisted by a staff of resident assistants (RA's). These resident assistants have been carefully picked from many students which applied and were chosen because of their individual talents and ability to get the job done.

The residents know that they can go to any RA at any time to discuss any problems that may troubling them at that moment. The RA's, are living "big brothers and big sisters" that want to make this "Moving UP" transition as smooth as possible.

Don't bother me. I can't cope. Yes, it was something to do with finals.

That's right, I'm relaxed, very relaxed as a matter of fact.

So, what do you want to do tonight?

I always smile when I flunk a class.

Hall parties can be fun.

Yes, you can get home of the week applications here.

Apparently, Love gets him through his work.

OLD FRIENDS

Old friends are best I do agree,
But to this fact I hold;
That everything must first be new
Before it can be old.
That old friend whom you love so much,
Who's staunch and true and bold;
Was brand new on the day you met,
Tho' now you call him old.
So make new friends each passing day
The years quickly unfold;
And new friends whom you make today
Will soon be classed as old.
And then you'll have a store of wealth
That far surpasses gold;
For all the friends who now are new
You'll soon be calling old.

GIVE ME A FRIEND

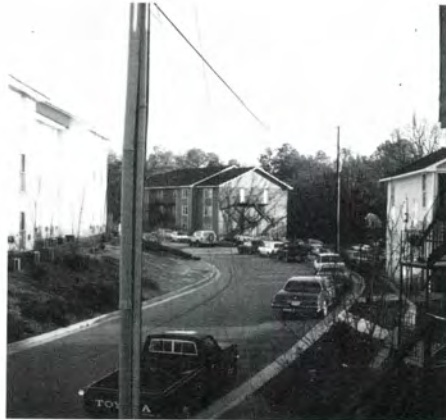

Give me a friend and I'll worry along;
My vision may vanish, my dream may go wrong;
My wealth may lose, or my money may spend;
But I'll worry along, if you give me a friend

Give me a friend, and my youth may depart
But still I'll be young in the house of my heart
Yes, I'll go laughing right on to the end
Whatever the years, if you give me a friend.

Student Government Association

The Student Government Association serves a very important function. It is through this organization that the students may voice their opinions and concerns for the decisions and policies of the college. All students have a part, be it voting in the elections or holding an office. This year's Student Government Association did a fine job representing the student body.

Graduation

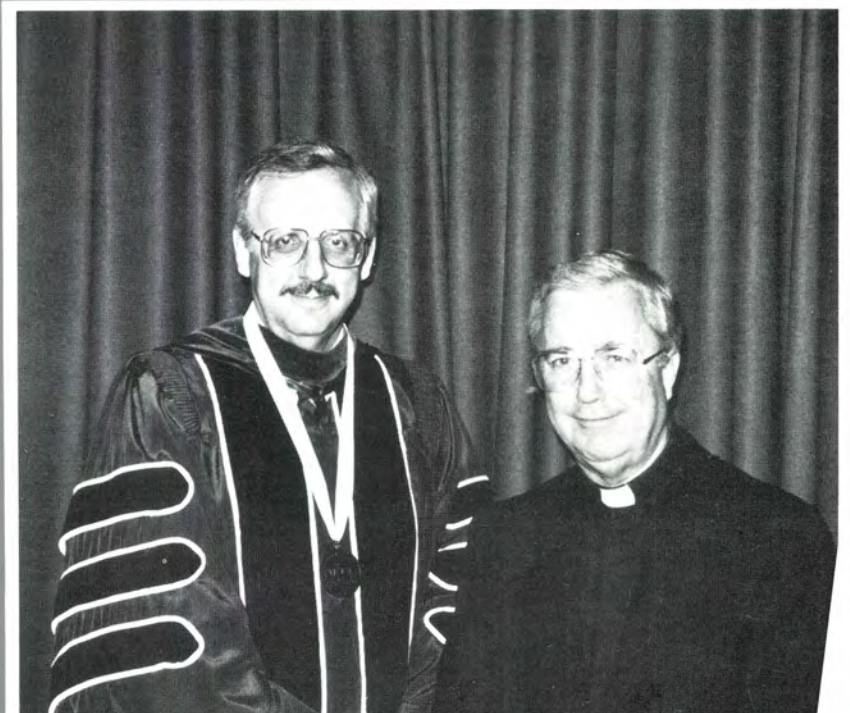

This year's graduation marked the forty-first graduating class here at Southern Tech. Guest speaker to the 500 bachelor and associate degree graduates was Major General Alan G. Sharp, commander of the Fourteenth Air Force, Dobbins Air Force Base. Other commencement program participants include: Dr. Stephen Cheshire, president of SCT; Dr. Harris T. Travis, vice-president of academic affairs; William D. Rezak; dean of faculty; Pam Thompson, President of the Southern Tech National Alumni Association; and Father Thomas J. Carroll, pastor of the Catholic Church of St. Ann's in Marietta.

From all of us here at Southern Tech publications office, we would like to congratulate the forty-first graduating class on a job well done and wish them good luck!

"May tomorrow's dreams be yours today!"

1987 Homecoming Queen

The tension thickened as the 10 candidates stood anxiously awaiting the final announcement of hearing their name broadcasted over the intercom as the "1987 Homecoming Queen" of the Southern College of Technology—Southern Tech. All of the candidates felt shaky all over, but Deneen Sorrells was shocked to hear her name over the intercom.

Sorrells, escorted by Mike Bryant, represented Alpha Delta Pi of which she is the Chaplain. Also, she is involved with the Tau Alpha Pi Honor Society, Baptist Student Union, and Computer Geeks of America.

Becoming a Homecoming Queen is a long and hard path to follow. To qualify for the homecoming queen candidacy, the candidate must be a student of S.C.T. for 2 quarters and maintain a G.P.A. of 3.0. Once the candidates have met these stipulations, they must be chosen by an organization or greek group to represent. Once each group has its candidate, the candidates are then subjected to a campus wide vote of which only 10 can become finalists. After the first campus wide vote, each candidate is given an interview by CAB. Now that the remaining finalists have had their interview, they will be subjected to another campus wide vote. Through the second campus wide vote, the homecoming queen and the four runners-up are picked.

Homecoming Dance

The Homecoming Dance was held after the game at the Radisson Inn in Atlanta. Thanks to the planning and organization of CAB, the Dance turned out to be a spectacular event. Mardi Gras was the theme and was entirely evident, as balloons and streamers were everywhere. The refreshments were tasty and the music was great. The dance floor remained crowded as Phoenix, a local band played, played hit songs, and Kristy Tanner, one of hottest DJ's from one of Atlanta's hottest radio stations, 94Q, hosted the dance. The celebration continued as Ms. Sorrells joined last year's Queen, Alicia Jordan, and past Queens from 1982 to the present in a reunion during the Queen's dance.

The Homecoming Game 1987

The homecoming game is one of the many and essential events held during Homecoming Week because without it there would be no need to celebrate it. The game was held at 7:30 p.m. in the gym, and the Running Hornets coasted to an easy victory as they dominated over Allen University 83 to 63. During half-time, prizes were awarded for the banner contest. Tau Kappa Epsilon (TKE) and Alpha Delta Pi (ADPi) tied for first place, while Pi Kappa Phi (Pi Kapp) placed second.

Techfest

Techfest '86 was a two day celebration of $12 million of capital construction projects on Southern Tech's campus.

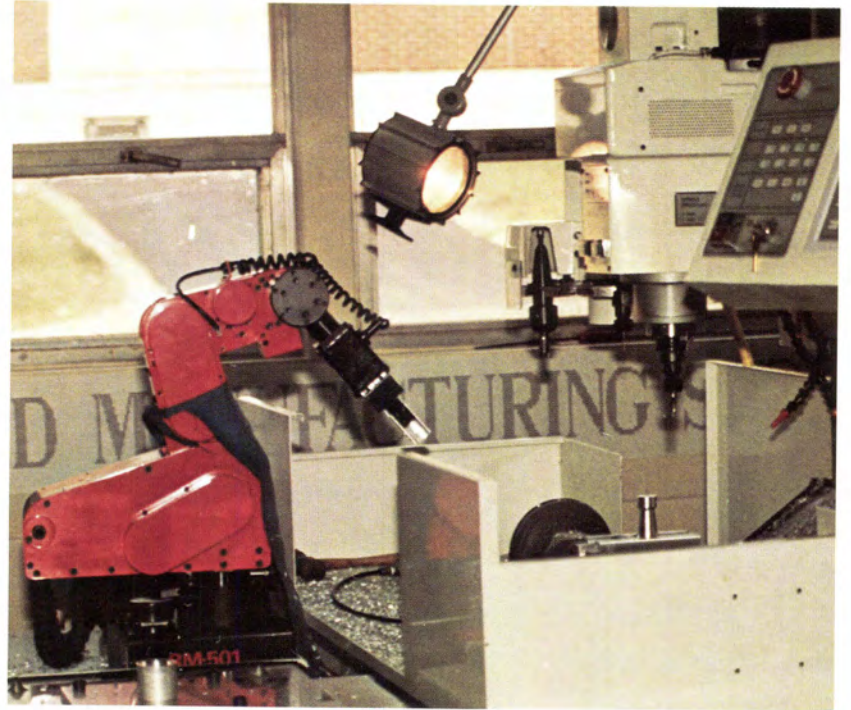

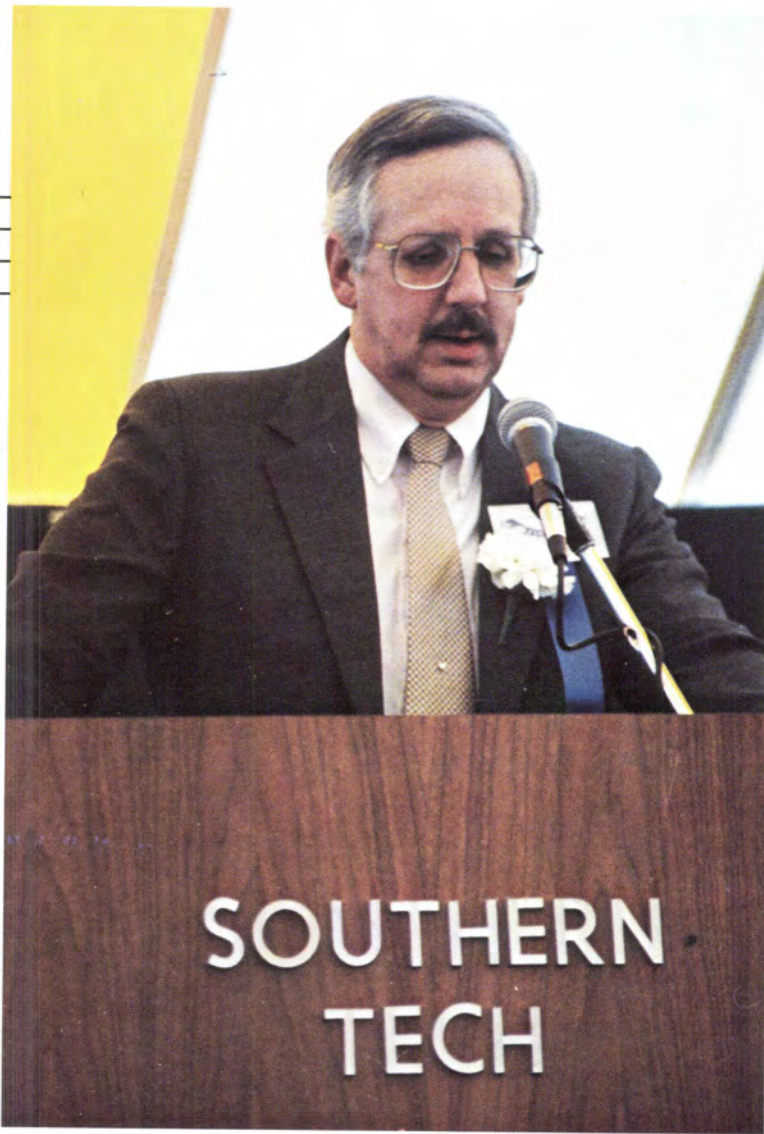

"Touch Technology at Southern Tech" was the theme for the open house, held October 3rd, which kicked off with a dedication and ribbon cutting of four major construction projects consisting of the new academic building, the library addition, the Apparel/Textile Center of Excellence, and the Student Center addition. Georgia Governor Joe Frank Harris was the dedication speaker with closing remarks made by B. Gentry Lee, Chief Engineer of Project

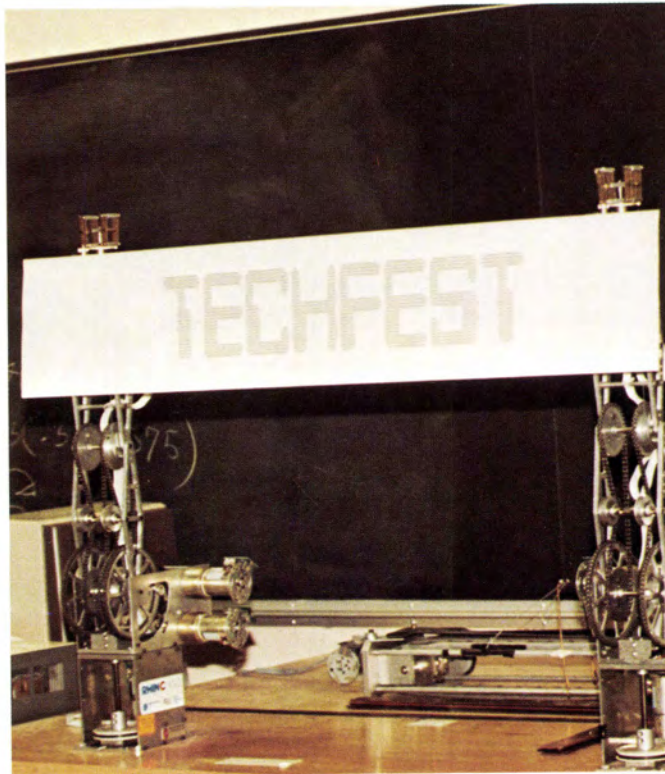

Gaileo at the Jet Propulsion Laboratory in Pasadena, California and on loan to NASA as Director of Advanced Projects for future space exploration as well as co-producer with Carl Sagan of Cosmos.

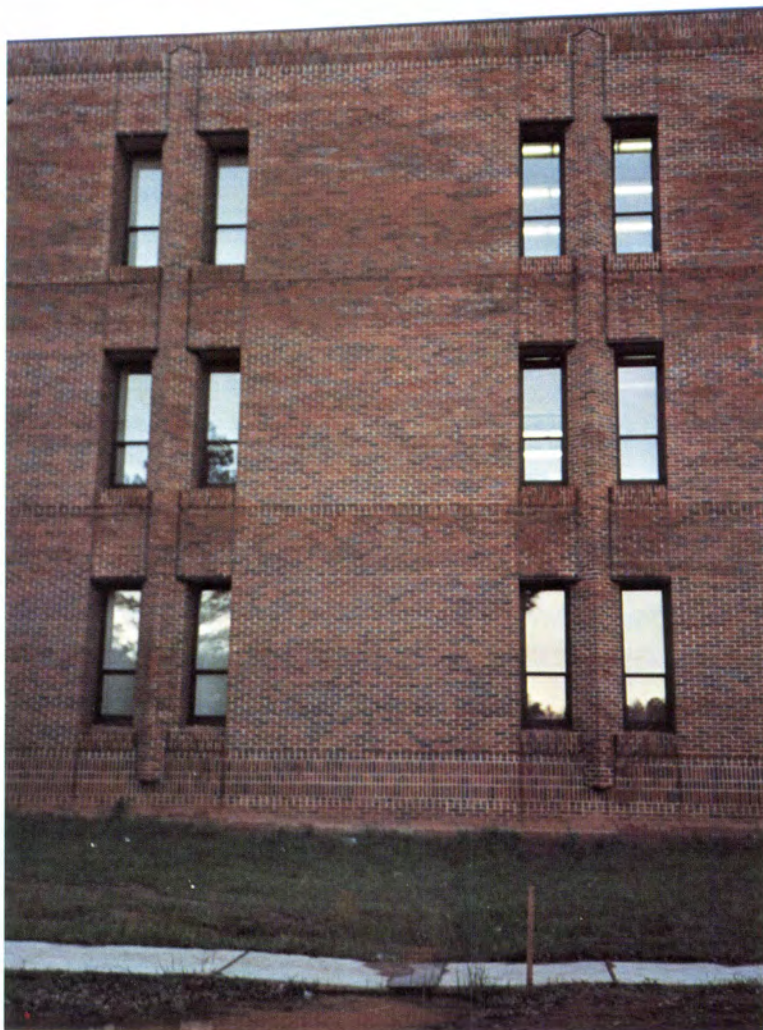

On October 4th, visitors were invited to tour the Southern Tech campus and learn what's new in the area of engineering technology. Under the big tent, entertainment was provided along with displays and demonstrations using robots, lasers, and computers which enabled visitors to literally touch technology. The days' events ended with a multi-slide show presentation presented by B. Gentry Lee.

The final season record of 34-19 marked the fourth consecutive year the hornets have won over thirty games during a season. Head coach Charlie Lumsden along with assistant coach Roger Hackett coached the team to victory after victory.

The awards presented at the sports banquet went to the following players:

Sam Dart – Best Hitter – GIAC Conference player of the year; All District; All Area

Chris Jones – Best Defensive player

Mike Muse – Most Improved

Mark Minter – Best Relief Pitcher

Ivan Phillips and Kevin Minter – Best Pitcher

Mike Williams was selected All – Conference

HORNETS PACK POWER IN THAT STING!

The 1986-87 Southern Tech Hornets were District 25 Champions once again — a feat last accomplished in the 1979-80 season. Head coach George Perides along with assistant coaches Richard Stallworth and James Waldon led the skill-packed Hornet team to victories all season. The Hornets boasted a tremendous total of 28 wins over 7 losses for the season in the National Association of Intercollegiate Athletes (NAIA).

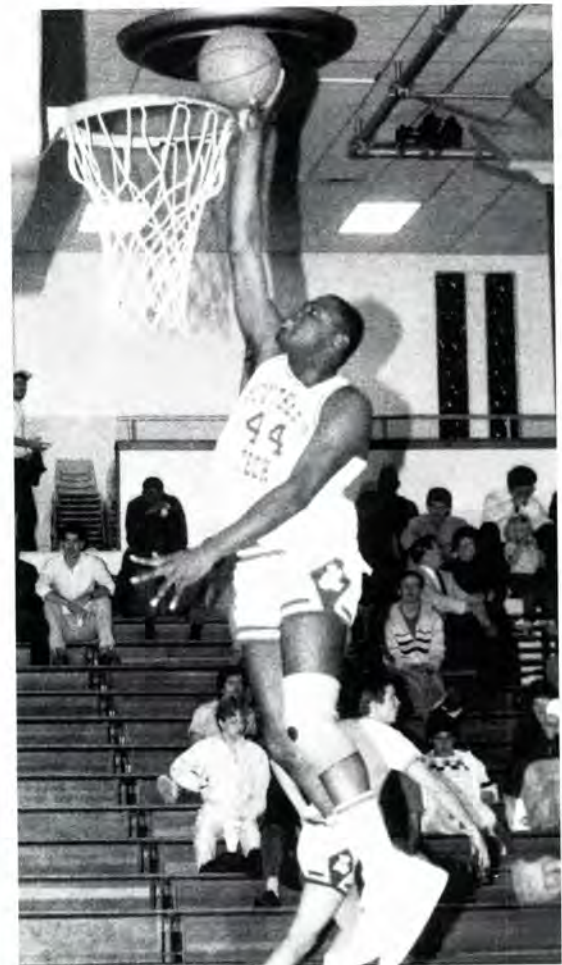

The Hornets had five Seniors on the team which contributed to the Hornets' success. The Seniors were Anthony Daniel, Preston Gates, Eric Jones, Fred Watson, and Dennis Williams. Assistant coach Richard Stallworth noted, "The Seniors were a key element in our team leadership and unity." The undergraduates on the team were Chris Carter, Craig Collard, John Boulware, Reagan Earney, Terry Givens, Darren Holley, and David Shelton.

The running Hornets held the nation's top percentage in field goal completions at 59%. By winning the Conference Championship against Nova University and North Georgia, the Hornets enjoyed home-court advantage and played Georgia Southwestern for the District Championship. Unfortunately for the Hurricanes, they felt the sting of Southern Tech's Hornets. After that, the Hornets advanced to Kansas City to contend for the National Championship Play-offs. Taylor was the opponent and they captured the victory in the game against the Hornets with a score of 65-56. Although disappointed by the loss, the Hornets were satisfied with an impressive season. The Hornet team remains optimistic about the future and the members feel confident about next year's season. Congratulations Guys!

Desperately looking for the inside pass, Senior Anthony Daniel dribbles back to the point position.

The Leader of the Pack

The LOG recently interviewed assistant coach Richard Stallworth and discovered the inside story on head coach George Perides. The 1986-87 Hornet season was Perides' 11th. In the beginning of the season, the running Hornets were picked to win the District at a meeting of coaches in Jekyll Island, GA. Perides was under pressure to meet the pace and get the team together to win. With the super talent of the team and Perides' coaching skills, he got the job done. As a result, Perides was named Co-Coach of the Year for the third time. Way to go coach!

The New Seal

Along with the name change, new construction on campus, and becoming a college consisting of three separate schools: School of Engineering, School of Arts & Sciences, and School of Management & Information, a new school seal was added. This is not the end of Southern Tech's good fortunes; there are more to come.

After much design, debate, and decision, the new seal for ST is finally a reality. Liked by most, the seal is a pictorial description of our school and its personality. The seal was designed by a professional art firm with solicited input from students and faculty. According to the administration, the pictures comprising the seal describe the following: Inside of the name, a circular, gear-like border refers to ST's beginning as a sister school of Georgia Tech (The gear appears in their school). At the center of the seal is a shield, apportioned into quadrants and divided horizontally by a banner which carries the school motto: IMAGINATION, INNOVATION, APPLICA-TION. At the top of the shield is a torch, an emblem of learning and the leadership role ST has in its fields and a symbol of diligent and continuous application. The torch is a logo for the school: a flaming "S" over the handle "T". The upper left hand quadrant contains an open book whose pages are in motion. The book is emblematic of the various schools at ST. One page of the text refers to the non-technical disciplines. The opposite page reveals a drawing of a damped sine wave, a scientific emblem that is common to all of the technical departments. The upper right hand quadrant refers to the University System of Georgia and Southern Tech's state-wide mission and places the three columns and arch from the System and State of Georgia Seals over an outline of the State of Georgia. The lower left-hand quadrant refers to ST by showing the main archways at the entrance of the school. The large rock in the foreground is also a campus landmark and represents the solidity and focus of the student body. The lower righthand quadrant refers to a continuous line of alumni by showing a Southern Tech diploma. Over the diploma, appears a divider, an ancient tool that is basic to all of the technical disciplines at ST. The dividers also appeared on the old seal of the school.

The School of Arts & Sciences is a school that has a specialty all its own. This specialty is the base of a college student's career. The School of Arts & Sciences consists of Mathematics, Physics, Chemistry, English, and Social Studies. These subjects make up the School of Arts & Sciences which is also the beginning of a college career.

To show that you are not forgotten, because your picture is not in the yearbook, we decided to print your name in the book. Each Professor, Instructor, or Dr. will be located in the department in which he or she works in.

SCHOOL OF TECHNOLOGY

LOG SUMMARY

The School of Technology is made up of the eight Engineering Technology Associate and Bachelor of Science degree programs (Apparel, Architectural, Civil, Computer, Electrical, Industrial, Mechanical, and Textile) and the Construction Administration program. These programs account for approximately 3400 student majors and 70 faculty.

This past year the academic arm of the college published its first ever Long Range Plan. The purpose of this document is to define curriculum and laboratory development plans for the next several years. This will allow us to plan the appropriate application of resources to support these plans.

Several new options/minors have been developed and implemented in the Technology School. These include manufacturing, graphics, industrial digital controls, microcomputer controls, and quality assurance.

During the course of the year the college received quality improvement funding in the amount of $500,000 for enhancement of laboratory facilities. Major laboratory acquisitions have been made with this money. Approximately $2.5 million in laboratory enhancement is still required if we are to offer state-of-the-art technical programs based on computer automation.

In 1986 the Georgia General Assembly approved a $1.6 million authorization for construction of a Center of Excellence in Apparel and Textile Manufacturing on the Southern Tech campus. This new building, which is currently under design, will contain approximately 20,000 square feet of laboratories, classrooms and faculty offices. The laboratories will include apparel processing, textile processing, textile testing, robotics and instrumentation, and computer-aided design/computer-aided manufacturing. The primary purpose of this new Center will be to better serve the apparel, textile and related industries in Georgia, while attracting more technically oriented graduates to these industries.

Student enrollment in the Architectural Engineering Technology program significantly increased during the past academic year. This has resulted in the addition of a new faculty position for the department. The AET Computer-Aided Design/Drafting Laboratory is the department show piece.

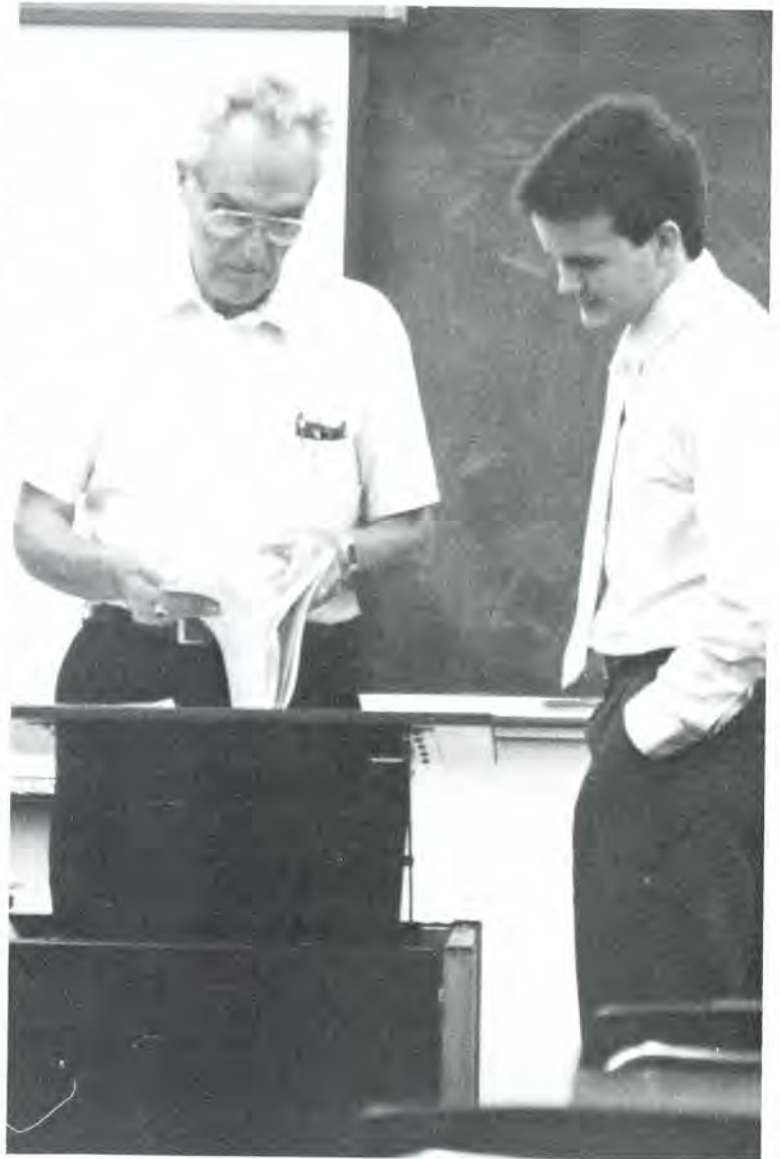

Quarter credit hour generation for the Civil Engineering Technology program has risen sharply during the past year, justifying an additional faculty position. The CET Computer Laboratory was developed, along with acquisition of computerized surveying and plotting equipment.

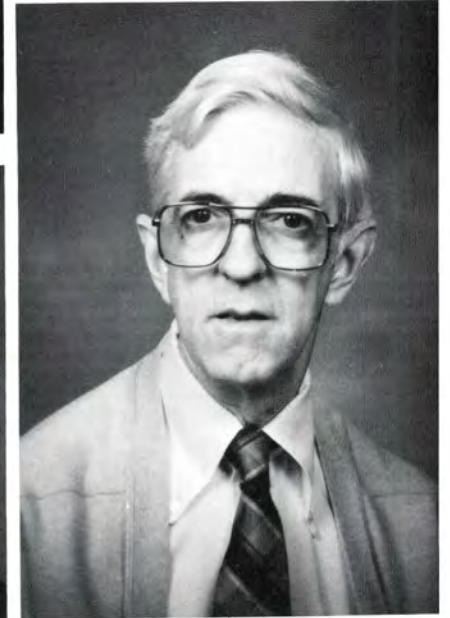

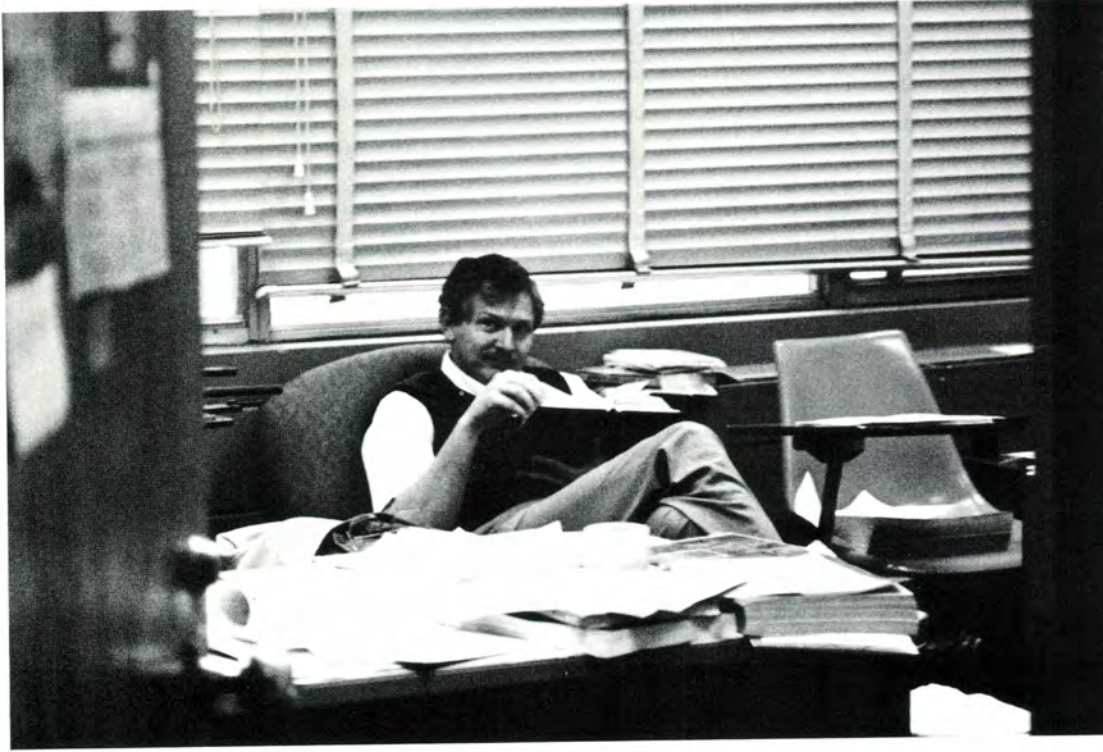

In Fall Quarter 1985, Southern Tech began offering the Bachelor of Science Degree in Construction Administration. The curriculum for this program was developed in concert with the Associated General Contractors, the construction industry association helping to sponsor the program. This curriculum is designed to meet accreditation requirements of the American Council for Construction Education (ACCE). Southern Tech was formally accepted as a member of the Associated Schools of Construction (ASC). With the help of ASC, it is anticipated that the program will become accredited by ACCE by 1990.

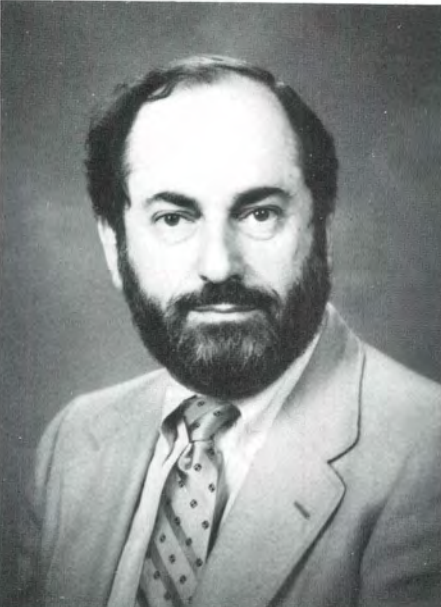

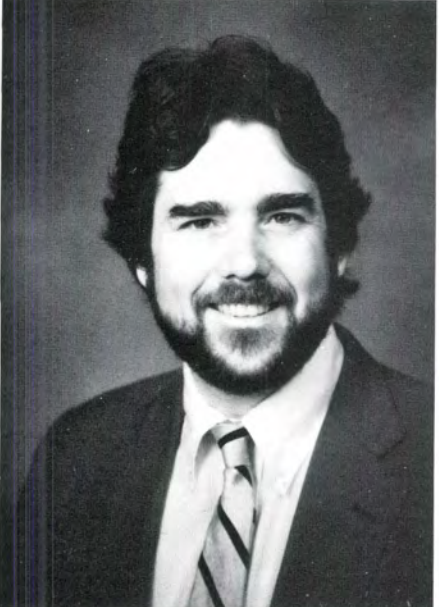

The Electrical and Computer Engineering Technology department made major revisions in its curricula during the past year. A two-course sequence in differential equations is now required by baccalaureate students, the associate degree program is eight quarters instead of six; and new courses have been developed for fiber optics, bit-slice technology, artificial intelligence, optoelectronics, and industrial controls. Two minors for non-electrical students were developed. A $50,000 matching grant was awarded to ECET by the National Science Foundation for development of a Fiber Optics Laboratory.

The Industrial Engineering Technology department initiated a Quality Assurance minor during this past year. A new minor in Technical Sales and Distribution is being added this summer. The potential for a loss control and risk management minor is under consideration. The material handling, methods of work, work measurement, and plant layout laboratories were relocated to the new Academic Building.

The Mechanical Engineering Technology associate degree program has been revised to require seven quarters rather than the previous six. A manufacturing option was developed for the bachelor degree program. A grant of over $300,000 was received from the Georgia Research Consortium for the development of an Automated Manufacturing Laboratory. In order to aid in the development of curriculum utilizing this new laboratory, a $17,000 grant was received from the Society of Manufacturing Engineers.

THE MASTER OF SCIENCE IN TECHNOLOGY MANAGEMENT

A significant event for Southern Tech this year was the creation of the School of Management. This occurrence signalled the beginning of a new era for us — Graduate Studies!! Inaugurated in the Fall of 1986, the new graduate degree is named the Masters Degree in Technology Management (MSTM). This degree program is designed for people who possess training and experience in technical fields, but who wish to learn more about the field of management.

"The program came about as a result of input which Southern Tech received from several of our alumni. After working for several years in the businesses and industries of their respective technological fields, many alumni were faced with opportunities to become managers. Because they had no management training; however, they frequently had to forego those opportunities. Over time, many former students requested that Southern Tech initiate a graduate program which would enhance their opportunities first, to be selected to management occupations, and secondly, to be successful in those management positions. Our program was designed to accommodate both of those objectives . . ." according to Dr. Robert J. Yancy, who serves as Dean of the School of Management.

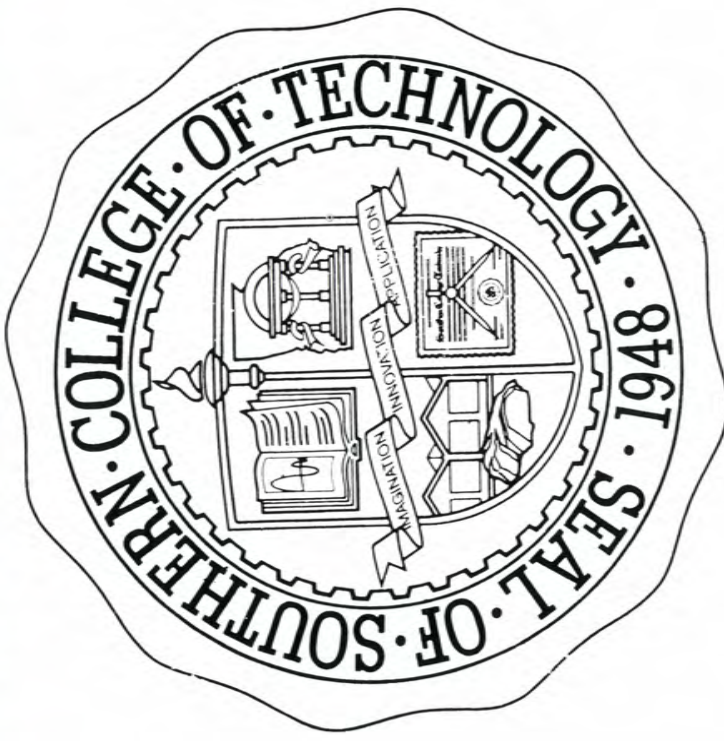

The original class consisted of 39 engineers and technologists. About half of them were Southern Tech Alumni, while the other half represented seventeen other colleges including the University of Wisconsin, Minnesota, Purdue, Georgia Tech, Auburn, Alabama A&M, and the University of Georgia, among others. The students range in age from 33 to 56 years, and are black, white, Oriental, African, Asian, Persian, and South American. The program currently has three full-time equivalent faculty members and expects to increase to four faculty members for next school term.

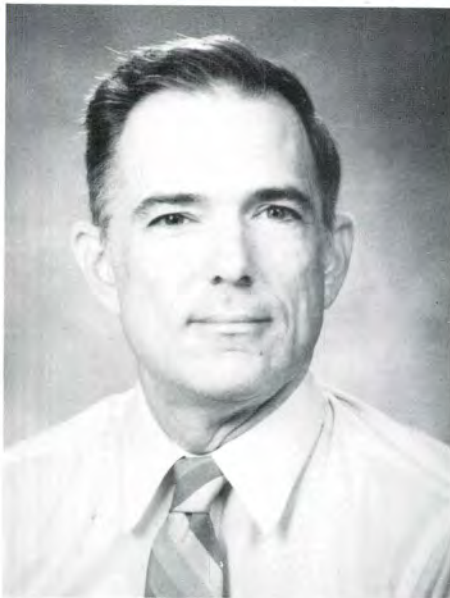

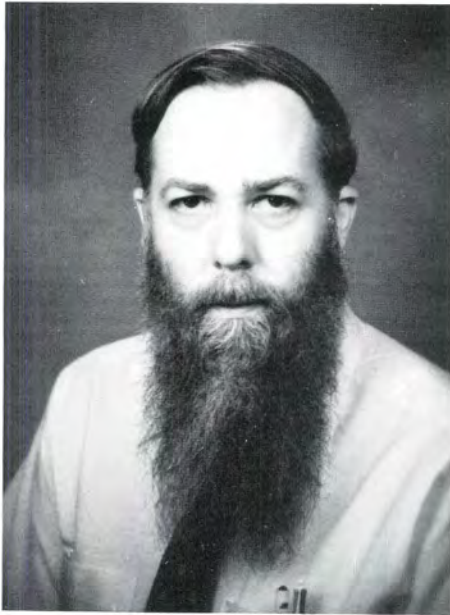

The program of study for the MSTM degree involves a twelve-course curriculum of which ten course requirements are specified, and two are elective. Students, who attend classes twice per week in the evenings, may select up to three of these courses per quarter. The capstone to the program is a major research project through which the student will have the opportunity to demonstrate abilities in management research, writing, and problem solving. This ten credit hour project provides valuable application of the skills which managers must apply in the workplace.

Requirements for admissions to the MSTM degree program are:
an undergraduate degree in engineering, technology, or one of the applied sciences two years professional work experience in an engineering environment test scores from the General Test of the Graduate Record Exam three letters of reference from an employer and/or a former college professor.

"We are very excited about this program . . ." Dr. Yancy said, ". . . and we have very optimistic expectations and projections for its future growth and success."

INTER-FRATERNITY COUNCIL 98

FRATERNITIES & SORORITIES 100

Through their representation of brotherhood and leadership, the Greeks way of life has become a very important part of a students overall college experience. From these experiences, we will attempt to give you a perspective of the Greek way of life from actual Greek members.

The Southern Tech Interfraternity Council is a governing body composed of the representatives of the social fraternities of Southern College of Technology, both National and Local. The individual membership of the IFC consists of three delegates elected or appointed by each fraternity, and each member has one vote on the council. The purpose of the IFC is to represent the fraternities on all matters for which they share a common concern, enhance the positive traditions and values of Greek Life, and to strive and strengthen the Greek system and thereby improve the quality of each individual chapter.

Alpha Delta Pi is a Greek society that promotes Christian Womanhood. She was founded in eighteen hundred and fifty-one at Wesleyan College — Macon, Ga. Since that time, Alpha Delta Pi has grown to be a national sorority with 136 collegiate chapters. The Alphas also have the largest number of alumnae in the nation. Alpha Delta Pi was founded on the Southern Tech Campus in 1983 and continues to promote leadership, education, and lifelong friendship.

1986-87 was a fantastic year for the Pi Kapps! Our national fraternity recognized the Chapter at Southern Tech by awarding it with the Champion Master Chapter Award, one of only four out of 107 Chapters. We also increased in size considerably. This was the sixth anniversary of our founding at Southern Tech. Our house is still standing at 439 East Dixie Avenue overlooking the track and field of the Cobb County Civic Center. Picnicing and skiing into '87 is the way for the Pi Kapps at Southern Tech.

One Day a group of girls were sitting on the rock, and they took a vote and decided to form their own sorority. Now this was a big step for them and the school because there had never been a Women's Greek Organization at Southern Tech. The girls decide to call their organization a local sorority and gave it the name of Alpha Chi Alpha (AXA). In 1979, a year later, they petitioned to several national women's fraternities, and they expressed an interest in one group called Gamma Phi Beta. The girls took a vote, and it was decided that Gamma Phi Beta offered everything that they were looking for in a National Sorority. After one year of colonization, AXA was chartered as the Delta Omicron Chapter of Gamma Phi Beta on January 26, 1980.

The Sigma Phi Epsilon Fraternity was founded on November 1, 1901, at Richmond College in Richmond, Virginia. The Georgia ETA Chapter was founded here at Southern Tech on February 14, 1981. We are one of the fastest growing fraternities here at Southern Tech. Also, our members are very active in other activities, such as Student Government Association (SGA), Intramural Sports, Campus Activities Board (CAB), and many others. Nationally, Sig Ep is the largest fraternity in active brothers, alumni members, and a number of chapters. We promote Brotherhood by following our three Cardinal Principals: Virtue, Diligence, and Brotherly Love.

The Iota Pi, Sigma Nu Fraternity, is proud to announce that this is our tenth anniversary at Southern Tech. Sigma Nu has an ongoing growth in leadership and brotherhood. We are a Fraternity based on Love, Truth, and Honor. Sigma Nu is always setting our goals high and looking towards the future. We also expect hard work and true dedication from our brothers. With these standards, Sigma Nu has, and will always be, a fraternity above all others.

This has been one of the best years of our history at Southern Tech. This year was the year that we turned our grades around. We received support from each brother to accent our study habits. With a little help and effort, we maintained G.P.A.'s that 85% of the time were higher than the independents and the rest of the Greeks.

This is also the year that we cried as we saw Mike Smoker win the Spring Bathtub Race for himself and Lambda Chi Alpha. This was an overdue victory which tastes as sweet as an "A" in Calculus.

This is the year that we increased our chapter size by forty percent. Unfortunately, with good grades comes graduation and with graduation sometimes, a person has to say goodbye. However, rushing new members turned out to be easy when we made a personal friend before we made a rushee.

This is the year that we spend being the "good guys" raising money for the Epilepsy Foundation by eating pizza. We also served our community by keeping the elementary kids from terrorizing their parents at Halloween. The carnival proved to be more fun to us than the kids will ever know.

This is the year of the rock. There was trouble with the real one — it wasn't portable. So we made one. Contrivertial, beautiful, and representative of the true Lambda Chi. This one can't be defaced like the one in the middle of campus.

This is the year we upheld our winning tradition in sports by once again beng undefeated by another fraternity team in football. We have not been defeated by any other Fraternity team in football in the last five years.

If you think this was the year . . . wait 'til next year !!!

Lambda Chi Alpha . . . There is a difference.

With 58 charter members, Sigma Pi was the first National Fraternity chartered on the Southern Tech campus. Sigma Pi fell on hard times at Southern Tech: membership and priorities fell. Four men decided they wanted to see Sigma Pi thrive, with the help of our national office, decided to reorganize the Fraternity. The beginning of Fall Rush '84, Sigma Pi had four members, but once the rush was over, our fraternity membership consisted of twelve men. We began participating in intramurals again finished fourth in intramural football. We also participated in basketball and were the contenders in softball. We won four ribbons in Greek Week and the president was nominated Outstanding Brother of the Year by the National Fraternity

Since then, we've been improving. Last year we placed first in basketball among all Greeks. This year we are striving for the same record. Today our membership contains thirty-three active brothers, and we are planning to move into our new Fraternity House. We are now, and always have been the number one Fraternity at Southern Tech.

Above are the men of Tau Kappa Epsilon at their finest. The occasion is their annual Red Carnation Ball, where TEKE Fraters celebrate fourteen years of Xi-Chi chapter existence and the founding of T.K.E. in 1899.

Although eighty-eight years has attributed to the superiority of TEKE, ideals also play a key role. The high ideals of love, charity, and esteem dominate TEKE fraters' daily lives and serve as the life blood of the largest fraternity in the nation.

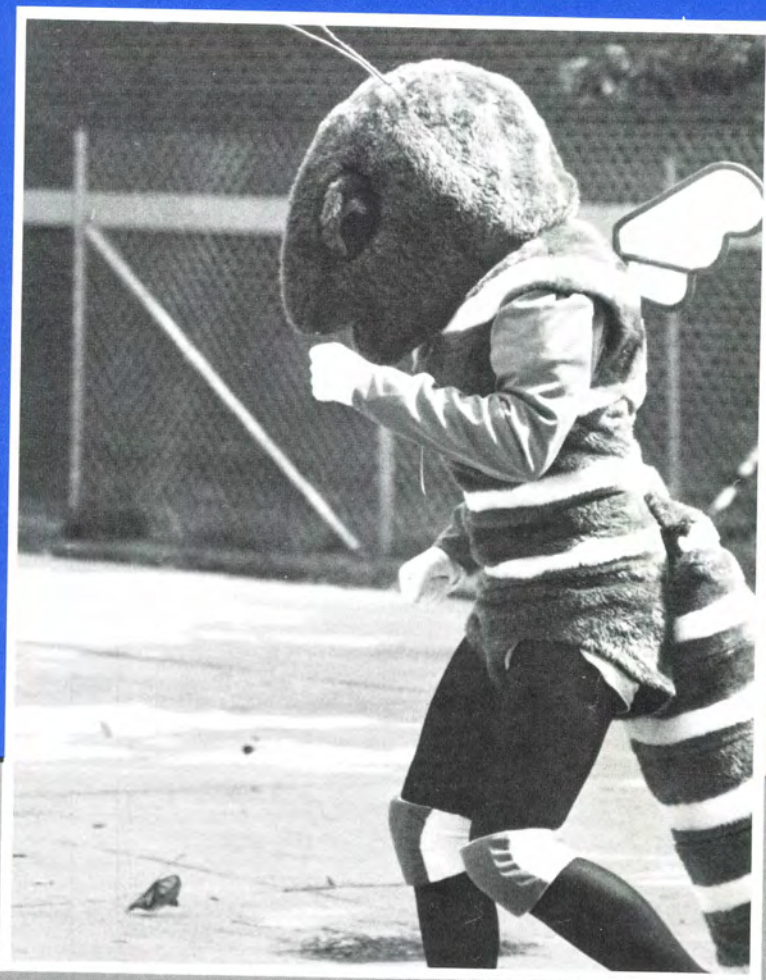

Recognizing the social desires of college men, TKE has brought various likes of these men together for the ultimate college experience and the ultimate fraternal experience . . . FOR LIFE!

ORGANIZATIONS

Another important part of college students' lives are the organizations and clubs that they may participate in. Through interaction with other students interested in common areas, clubs and organizations provide means for students to share their ideas and goals with other students.

Campus Activities Board

Throughout the year many recreational, social, cultural, and educational activities occur on campus which help in the rigors of studying. Southern Tech's Campus Activities Board (CAB) is the primary creator of these events.

CAB is a student organization made up of six committees which are governed by a central Executive Board and a Program Advisor. Student members can choose from categories of Films/Videos, Special Events, Lectures/Cultural Events, Recreation/Novety/Variety, Music/Concerts, or Publicity/Promotion. Events incorporated into these committees include the back to school Street Dance, Homecoming, Beach Party, Goat Week as well as mini-concerts, art festivals and more.

Student members put a lot into CAB and, in turn, get a lot out of it. In the past we've attended conventions in Charleston, Washington D.C. and have an opportunity to attend the convention in Raleigh this year. We meet many people from many places. We get chances to meet and work with many celebrities including Billy Ocean, Eddie Kendricks and Dave Ruffir (of the Temptations), Kathy Rigsby, Joe Bonsal (Oak Ridge Boys) and numerous others. In addition, we also have fantastic leadership retreats.

CAB is always looking for energetic, high-spirited individuals who are looking for a creative outlet. There are no fees or dues, just fun and learning. We hope you will consider CAB. Our doors are always open.

The Newly Formed S.T. Drama Club has had an exciting year. Our fall quarter production — Neil Simon's "Plaza Suite" — was a great success. We followed in winter quarter by producing a done as fund raiser for a local organization. We anticipate a successful upcoming year.

Jazz Ensemble

The Southern Tech Jazz Ensemble was formed several years ago as a Pep Band for the Basketball Team. Since that time, the band has grown to an award winning Jazz Ensemble. Some of the highlights of the recent past include: winning an award at a Jazz Festival in Orlando, performing at A Night In Old Savannah as the warm-up band for the Preservation Hall Jazz Band in New Orleans, Cobb County Kaliedoscope, and performing for the Lockheed's Management Association Dinner and the Southern Tech Alumni's Formal Dinner. Throughout the year, the Jazz Ensemble also performs at various school functions.

Formed seven years ago, WGHR broadcasts at 102.5 FM for 18 hours a day seven days a week. The staff, including managers, engineers, and announcers, is composed entirely of Southern Tech students. With its recent format change to new progressive alternative college music, WGHR has achieved national recognition in the college market and servicing from over 80 record companies. The broadcasting studio is located on the lower floor of the Student Center and the transmission site is also located on campus. We at WGHR are always looking for adventuresome types to expand our staff.

We of the STING have seen a year where our paper has advanced in great bounds. The STING has grown from an "Okay" paper into a dynamic award-winning publication. This awesome achievement was due to the diligent efforts of our dedicated staff of volunteers. The quest for perfection has only begun!

The Baptist Student Union (BSU) is a well-balanced Christian ministry providing opportunities for faith-development, community-building, and involvement in meaningful missions. The program is sponsored by cooperating Southern Baptist churches, but opens its membership to all interested students.

Leadership comes from an elected, executive council which receives direction from The Baptist Campus Minister and a Faculty Advisor. A wide variety of programs are offered including weekly meetings, luncheons, local missions, mission trips, retreats, conferences, and social-recreation activities.

SME

By Bud Wohlhueter
SME Vice Chariman

With the start of a new year, the Society of Manufacturing Engineers (SME) is currently working on its programs and membership growth. However, SME has learned that many mechanical students are not familiar with the organization and its functions. So the SME would like to tell a little of what it is about and what it has planned for the next few months.

The SME is a professional organization designed to familiarize the student with the latest technology used in manufacturing. Such areas as automation, robotics, and computer-integrated-manufacturing (CIM), as well as lathe and milling machines and welding are published in SME's monthly magazine, along with a chance to receive others called 'CIM Technology,' 'Robotics Today,' or 'Machine Vision Quarterly.' With the use of these magazines, the mechanical student can have this up-to-date information at his disposal. In addition, as a member you will hear speakers talk about industry and will go on plant tours.

Diplomats

On February 12, 1987, a reception was held for the new "elite" group on campus, "The Southern Tech Diplomats."

The Southern Tech Diplomats is a new service organization, comprised of students, which promotes communication within the college and the community.

The Student Affairs and Development and College Relations Division co-sponsor this program, which will create opportunities for student alumni interaction and provide services for many official functions within the college setting. The Diplomats promote Southern Tech's mission and spirit and take great pride in serving the college community.

Army R.O.T.C. has enjoyed another successful year at Southern Tech. Mark Coffin, Chris Kirkman, Russ Newman, and Hank Moody all completed Airborne School at Fort Benning, GA, making five jumps from C-130's and C-141's aircrafts. Amos Durr and Scott Wilder completed Camp All American at Fort Bragg, N.C.

Lewis Fricks had a very successful trip to Fort Knox, KY., Basic Camp, then highlighted by winning a scholarship. Hank Moody, Mark Coffin, and Tommy Wood participated in the simultaneous membership program with the Georgia National Guard.

The highlight of R.O.T.C. occurred when Amos Durr, Hank Moody, and Scott Wilder received their commissions into the Army, Army Reserve, or National Guard. This brings the total number of lieutenants in the total Army who matriculated at Southern Tech to eleven in the program's five short years.

During the school year, Tech students participated in three field training exercises to Fort Benning, a military ball, orientation trips to missile command, Redstone Arsenal, AL, The Army Aviation School, Fort Rucker, AL, and to the Army Engineer School at Fort Belvoir, VA. On another occasion, the cadets enjoyed a ski trip to Sugar Mountain, N.C.

The International Students Organization was newly reformed in the fall of 1986 after a lapse in activity of several months. Amendments to the constitution were approved, officers elected, and now the ISA is well on its way toward a permanent place in the SCT community.

The ISA is dedicated to aid and support foreign students with their activities. The organization is open to all Southern Tech students with a focus in International Student concerns and on fostering a positive International atmosphere at Southern Tech (as per the Preamble of the ISA Constitution).

In the fall quarter, ISA held a highly successful dance on campus with guests from five local colleges. Winter quarter saw the excitement at a Raffle with a $900.00 Simmons Hide-a-Bed donated as a prize. As a final event of the academic year, the ISA sponsored an international dinner for members and select guests. Plans for next year include a Cultural Festival for the campus and community.

The most important part of the campus here at Southern Tech are the students that occupy it. Through the eyes of Southeastern Portrait Company, we bring to you, your fellow classmates.

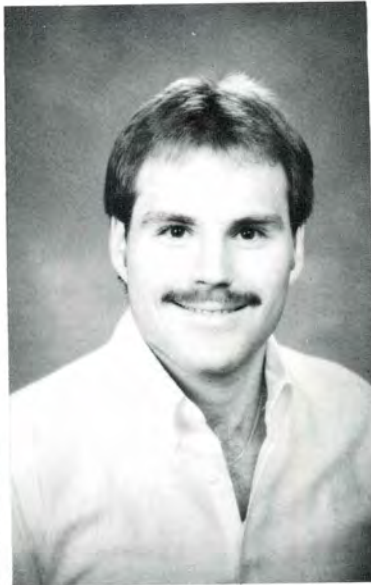

They have come a long way but only to take on another challenge — a challenge that will have ten times the ups and downs their college lives has given them. But the Seniors that graduate from SCT have a handle on this challenge called life because SCT prepares its students for the real world.

Becoming a graduate is taking a step closer to reaching a goal a student has had all his life. A goal that has taken four to five years of academic study. The graduate deserves all the recognition and good fortunes he has coming to him. He has earned it for all the long and hard hours of study he has put in.

BEING A FRESHMAN ISN'T EASY

I thought I wasn't going to make it through my freshman year; my classes were hard and I hadn't the talents to make it in college — THANK GOD for SCT 101!!!! That class taught me college survival skills; test taking, note taking, time management, and library usage. This class also gave me guidelines for a successful, social, and mental adjustment to the HARD-SHIPS of COLLEGE LIFE.

Right: Believe or not, it's March.
Left: The best in drag — Goat Night.
Middle Right: You ain't gonna do no rambo on me!!
Bottom Left: Now this problem worked when the instructor did it on the board.

The remainder of the pictures are candid pic-shots of students studying and working together. Being serious about their classes and wondering who in the world came up with these "hair-brain" formulas that they must use in order to get a simple answer. Then the other question pops into mind, Why did they (whoever they might be) spend the time to find these formulas — there had to be something better for them to do.

Being editor of the yearbook is a job in itself. I should have known something was up when I was the only one that volunteered for the job. Everybody else obviously knew something I didn't. In the end the job proved to be rewarding. Through all the rough times: Pulling all nighters, pushing deadlines, keeping appointments, etc., I'm glad I had the chance to try and make a better yearbook. The editorship of a yearbook is an experience for a person who is willing to put forth an utmost effort and an enormous amount of time.

I would like to thank my staff for coping with my various mood changes — if a person doesn't normally have them, he will once he takes this job — because without them, this book would have never gotten off the ground. Special thanks go to Guy Barrett, Ed Bernard, Doris Combs, and Derek Stewart for their support and being ready and willing to do assignments on the spur of the moment. Another special thanks go to the groups and organizations who submitted the information that was needed to help print this book.

We, the log staff, hope you, SCT student body, enjoy this book as much as we did putting it together.
