Game plan.

Success in basketball requires plenty of training, good coaching and team play. And it requires a game plan.

At McDonald's, our game plan is simple. We have the team to produce winners every season.

Winners like Quarter Pounder Sandwiches (weight before cooking 4 oz.), Big Mac, Sandwiches, Golden French Fries, and Thick Shakes.

And our game plan includes careful handling. We never drop the ball when it comes to service. Prompt and courteous - whether you're home team or visitor.

So, before or after the next battle on the hardwood, include McDonald's in your game plan.

National Association of Intercollegiate Athletics

THE NAIA

The National Association of Intercollegiate Athletics (NAIA) is a completely autonomous association which administers programs leading to national championships in 15 events for more than 500 fully-accredited four-year colleges and universities in all 50 states and Canada.

Established in 1940 as the National Association of Intercollegiate Basketball the NAIB evolved from the institution of a "National Small College Basketball Tournament" which was inaugurated in 1937. In 1952, the NAIB expanded to include tennis, outdoor track and golf, and that year the organization was renamed the NAIA.

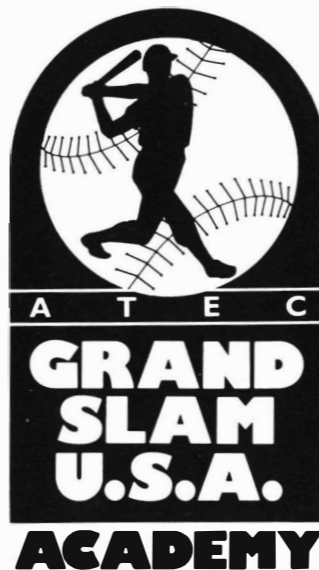

Since that time the NAIA has further enlarged to encompass football (two divisions were formed in 1970), cross country, baseball and swimming, which were added to the NAIA championship program in 1956, wrestling (1958), soccer (1959), gymnastics (1964), indoor track (1966), ice hockey (1968) and volleyball (1969).

With its national headquarters and staff located in Kansas City, MO, the NAIA is organized into 31 districts. The District Executive Committee is the governing body in each District with the District Chairman serving as the chief officer. Within the district an eligibility chairman and publicity chairman are appointed to handle various duties.

A major factor in the success of the NAIA program is the importance placed on "grass roots" organization, in which each district administers and organizes the programs of the schools within their own district. The districts are usually small enough in the number of schools involved that each individual institution has a major voice in the policy and decision-making process within that district. This procedure carries forward to the national level, where each of the 31 districts have an equal voice in national matters.

The NAIA clearly outlines its own responsibilities and those of its members: a sound athletic program, administered and controlled by those responsible for the administration of the college or university. The NAIA encourages a broad program of athletic pursuits in its member institutions and aims at uniformity and equity in policies and practices through its district and national championship events.

Eligibility rules in the NAIA govern all competition in sports recognized by the NAIA, not just post-season competition. These rules must be adhered to by all NAIA member institutions, including those members holding dual affiliations with other associations. NAIA member institutions must pay the annual membership dues and be in support of the policies of the Association.

ACADEMIC AND ATHLETIC EXCELLENCE

Dear Basketball Fans,

Welcome to Southern Tech. Tonight's game promises fast-paced basketball action with one of the best NAIA teams in the nation. Based on the past fourteen seasons, Southern Tech ranks tenth among the winningest men's basketball teams in the NAIA - with an impressive won-loss record of 319-130. Last year's team boasted an outstanding 24-8 record and were in the District 25 playoffs. This success record is due to the talent and teamwork of our athletes under the strong leadership of Head Coach George Perides, who is entering his 15th season at the college.

Each year the program continues to grow. Joining our three returning players will be outstanding junior college and freshman recruits from throughout the state, as well as Alabama, Florida, Tennessee, Virginia, New Zealand and the Bahamas.

We're experiencing growth throughout the college. A new Student Center should be under construction by summer and indoor/outdoor recreational facilities, a new dorm, an academic building and an applied research center are all planned. A new School of Architecture opened this fall and degrees in Math and Physics also began. MS degree in Engineering Technology have been approved and begin next fall. We hope that you'll find an opportunity to return to the campus during the day and get a first-hand look at our growth and facilities. Although technical in nature, nationally prominent, and one of the most selective colleges in Georgia, Southern Tech maintains a comfortable student oriented atmosphere. We are proud that this year U.S. News & World Report ranked us as the number one "up and coming" engineering college in the U.S.

Webster defines teamwork as "work done by a number of associates each doing a part, but all subordinating personal prominence to the efficiency of the whole." Because of it, Southern Tech not only has one of the winningest basketball teams in the country, but is a flagship technological college. The young people on our athletic team exemplify the winning spirit of our over 4,000 students and 500 employees. We're glad you're here tonight to share in that spirit.

Sincerely,

Steve Cheshier
President

THE TRADITION CONTINUES

Last season George Perides, while coaching the Southern Tech Runnin' Hornets, reached a personal milestone, his 300th victory. It is with this kind of determination that the Runnin' Hornets enter into each basketball season. The Hornets have qualified for the NAIA District 25 playoffs each of the last 13 years. In the 1989 - 90 season, the team made it to the semifinals to be beaten by Georgia College, at Georgia College. A heartbreaking loss for a team that finished 24-8 for the season.

The Runnin' Hornets student assistant coach, former player Daren Holley, says that the fans are in for a surprise this year. With only three returning players, Maurice Charlton, Brad Durr, and Lamar Smith, the usually low scoring, strongly defensive team will come off the bench with surprising quickness, scoring more than the usual number of points. Perhaps this newly offensive team will catch our opponents, as well as our perennial fans off-guard.

This season's schedule features the Hornets hosting Talladega College, High Point College and Nova University in the Hornet Classic Tournament on November 30 and December 1. Then they will play, at home, always powerful conference rivals North Georgia College on Saturday, January 5, Kennesaw College on January 14, Georgia College on January 19 and Georgia Southwestern College on January 28.

Expect to see new players, Melvin Smith as a shooting guard, Jesse Usher as forward, Diego Davis playing point guard, Keith Willis as guard or forward, John Feltman as forward, and Don Berry as guard. The Runnin' Hornets also have their first freshman in four years in Greg Hill and Gary Beasley. Gary will be red-shirted this year, but Greg will play as guard or forward. Transfer Chris Pollard, playing center, is the Hornet's tallest player in a while, standing 6'8".

With all this new talent and a new look for our Hornet's, we hope to see you at many of our 17 home games and some of the remaining 13 away games. The Runnin' Hornets are your team, show your support!

THE COACHES

Head Coach George Perides enters his fifteenth season of leading the Runnin' Hornets with an impressive track record. In Perides' fifteen seasons at Southern Tech, the Hornets have compiled a 319-130 record and have captured the NAIA District title for a record five straight from 1978-1982 and again in 1987. In twelve of his last thirteen seasons, his teams have won at least 20 games.

George Perides came to Southern Tech from small Palm Beach, Florida. His team made one trip to Kansas City and posted a 82-43 mark over four seasons.

Tyrone Dean, a former player, is assisting with the coaching duties.
