Theater Atlanta Offers Special Rates

Theatre Atlanta is offering students opportunity to see world famous plays for less than the price of a movie.

Twelve productions are being given this season in Atlanta's new million dollar theatre with the seventy foot thrust stage.

Twelve admissions for $12.00, good for any performance, best seats in the house, are offered to bona fide, full time students. Bob Myatt, who may be contacted through the Sentinel Office, is campus representative.

Plays being produced include the Greek comedy hit "Lysistrata" by Aristophanes, one of the selections in KJC's English 201 course.

"Andersonville Trial" by Saul

Leavitt; "The Member of the Wedding" by Carson McCullers; "MacBird"; "Who's Afraid of Virginia Woolf"; "When the Kremlin Managed the Braves" are among the season's offerings.

"Saturday Review of Literature" recently acclaimed the opening of this first professional Repertory Theatre in the South-west. It is located on West Peachtree at 17th Street.

"Time" Magazine calls the theater "Peachtree Playhouse in a recent piece praising the development of dramatic art in Atlanta.

The 1962 crash of a chartered Air France plane in Paris, which killed more than 100 of Atlanta's cultural leaders seemed to spur efforts to make Theatre Atlanta a living memorial.

To Kennesaw students looking for entertainment more exciting than a drive-in movie, this opportunity to attend a legitimate theatrical performance by professionals for $1.00 should prove rewarding.

October Deadlines Student Government Elections

Students planning to run for office in the Kennesaw Junior College Student Government Association had better get on the ball. Deadline for filing written petitions with the Dean of Student's office is October 16, a week in advance of the election. This petition, by the way, must state qualifications, and must bear the individual signatures of twenty-five qualified student supporters.

Only full-time sophomore students who have earned a minimum of fifteen quarter hours at the college and who have a 2.5 overall grand point average may be elected as President, Vice-President, Secretary, Treasurer, and Senator from their class.

Continuing freshmen students who are elected as senators of the Freshman Class must meet the same qualifications as sophomore Senators. A continuing freshman student is defined as a student who has earned or attempted to earn academic credit at this college but who is not classified as a sophomore student. There shall be five senators elected from the Freshman class and five senators elected from the Sophomore class.

REMEMBER. . . Beginning freshmen students who are elected as senators must after two quarters, have earned a 2.5 over-all grand point average.

Civitan Club Organizes

First meeting for the Collegiate Civitan Club will be held on Thursday, October 5. Place for the meeting is the private dining room of the student services building.

Collegiate Civitan is a service organization sponsored by National Civitan. Primary objective of their service effort is best described in the Civitan motto "Builders of Good Citizenship."

This new club will render various services to community and school. It is not a social fraternity but an organization that hopes to build character and offer service to school and community.

The objectives of Collegiate Civitan Clubs are to emphasize the advantages of the American way of life, to promote good fellowship and high scholarship, to serve campus needs and to provide opportunities for leadership.

Collegiate Civitan provides another opportunity to students for participation in college life.

For further information contact Mr. Marc Adams in the Controller's office.

First Dance Set For October 7

Grab your coat hangers and come on out to the campus on Saturday, October 7, from 7:30 until 11:30.

The Sentinel Staff is sponsoring a weiner roast-dance in the Student Center.

Weather permitting, hot dogs will be enjoyed on the patio.

Dress will be casual. Chaperones for the night will be Dr. and Mrs. Jere Roberson, Mr. Jim Keith, and Mr. and Mrs. Tate.

Admission for students will be upon presentation of I.D. cards. Faculty, Administration, and Secretarial Staffs are especially invited.

The band is the Soul Sensations.

Montage Ready For Students

The first edition of the "Montage," the student yearbook published at Kennesaw Junior College, is now being distributed to students.

Edited by Grady Eskew and Ross Henderson, the publication is dedicated "with the most sincere feelings of respect, appreciation, and great admiration" to Dr. Horace W. Sturgis, "a most dynamic president, a fine man, and a truly wonderful friend."

The yearbook includes many candid camera pictures, some in color, of student activities as well as pictures of the classes, faculty and staff.

Faculty advisor for the "Montage" was David M. Jones, Jr., Assistant Professor of English.

Students who attended Kennesaw this past year are not enrolled in school may pick up their copy from the office of the Dean of Student Affairs.

Students attending Kennesaw for three quarters receive the book free. If a student for two quarters the book will cost $2.00. The cost for one quarter is $4.00.

Picture Day!

Girls, renew your make-up, and boys get your hair spray out, because on Tuesday and Wednesday, October 10th and 11th, pictures will be taken all day in the Student Center. These pictures will be used in the Montage. The price is only $1.00, and this fee must be paid when pictures are taken. Boys -- wear a white shirt, dark tie, and dark coat. Girls -- drapes will be provided. It is very important to the success of the 1967 - 1968 Montage that all students have their pictures taken.

Loans Give Aid To Qualified Students

From a number of private groups, institutions, and organizations financial assistance is available to qualified college students. The U.S. Department of Health, Education, and Welfare, and other government agencies also provide financial aid for study in specific areas. Several of these programs are offered to students at KJC.

The College Work-Study is a program of employment in which the student is compensated for the number of hours he works for the institution or for an eligible off-campus agency.

National Defense Student Loans is a program of borrowing in which the student has an obligation to repay his loan, with 3-percent interest within a 10-year period following college attendance.

Educational Opportunity Grants is a program of direct grants in which the student receives a non-obligatory award of funds based on exceptional financial need and evidence of fund based on exceptional financial need and evidence of academic or creative promise.

Guaranteed Loans is a program of borrowing, primarily for students from middle or upper income families. The student repays his loan with 3-percent of 6-percent interest.

If any student is interested in any program, contact Mr. Ron Ingle, in the Registration Office.

Religious Emphasis Series Planned For College

A committee of KJC students, faculty, and church advisors met September 11 to begin planning a Religious Emphasis series for the 1967-68 school year. The programs, entitled "Religion and the College Student", will be carried out one day each quarter.

Each one-day program will consist of a speaker or film, with a question and answer period, followed by small group discussions.

The program will be presented several times a day to permit as many students as possible to attend.

The committee, out of necessity, has selected the program and speaker for the first program. Other speakers are being contacted. However, the committee needs students' ideas and suggestions. Please bring any suggestions to the Dean of Student's office.

Extend Cafeteria Hours!

"Why can't the main cafeteria stay open at least from 11:30 until 1:30?" is a question much asked the first few days of school.

Comments on the food and service are most favorable, but many seem to feel that a two hour service period is necessary.

The cafeteria now opens at 11:30 and closes at 1:00. One and a half hours is not quite time enough for all students and faculty who want balanced meals to purchase them.

If students and teachers have eleven and twelve o'clock classes, ten minutes is not long enough to leave class, travel to the cafeteria, and purchase the food.

Meals in the cafeteria are well - balanced. Service is pleasant and speedy. Mr. Howland and his staff are much appreciated. But good food should be available to as many college students and personnel as humanly possible especially on a campus far removed from other restaurants.

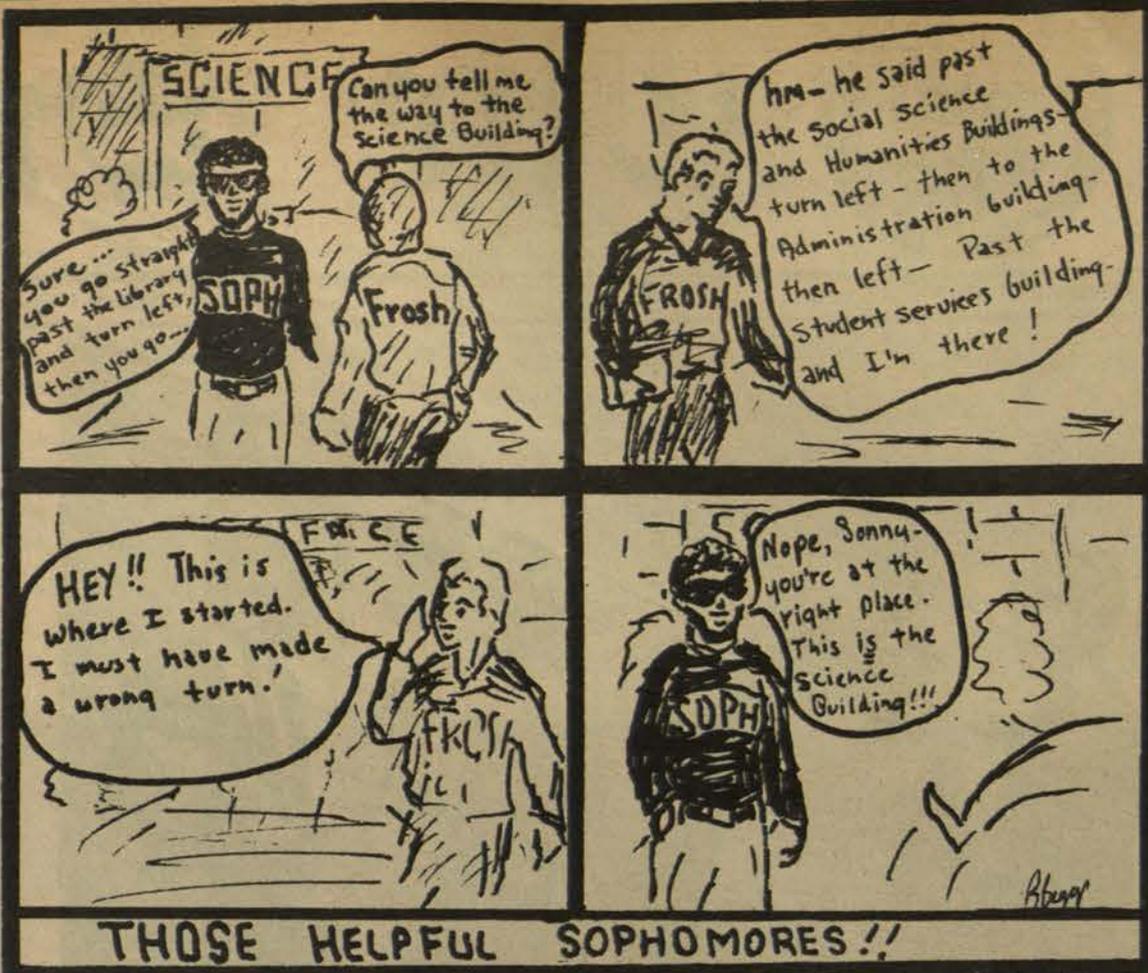

The snack bar seems to be the only alternative for a person who is unable, because of a cramped schedule, to eat in the cafeteria. Hot dogs and hamburgers may be fine for the student who is able to eat his evening meal at home. But for one who had both day and night classes, hamburgers become a tiresome repetition. - Besides the boredom of eating this popular food could cause ulcers, or at least malnutrition. Think, too, of those poor people on diets!

The Sentinel Staff sees a great need to keep the cafeteria open until 1:30 or 2:00, to allow those with noon classes to eat balanced meals. We appreciate the excellent food service - we just want more of it.

Thank-You Administrators

Despite all the jokes and quips published in the newspaper, it is about time someone really expressed the appreciation and gratitude the students felt for the Administration and faculty of the college.

It is certainly a rewarding experience to be able to have such a feeling of closeness as we do -- and it reflects the high quality of persons that we have here. Let's hope that in the future this relationship will continue to grow, and with it, the school and students.

Role Of Community Junior College In Advanced Education

By Howard H. Calloway

Education has long been valued as the key to useful participation in our Nation's society, and today with ever-increasing demands, the need for advanced education has become a necessity.

Georgia's responsibility in meeting this need is great, as in recent years we have witnessed tremendous progress in industry and in agricultural development, placing a greater value on college attendance by our growing population and greater demands on our education system.

To meet these demands, Georgia educators have turned to the community junior colleges, where a student - both college age and adult - can receive the quality education and training available previously only in large universities. This system gains strength from being community-centered, reaching the greatest number of people in the most economical manner and offering to all the benefits of a higher education.

However, the advantages in the junior college system extend far beyond the mere availability of college training. The junior college provides excellent short-term education for those seeking specialized skills in preparation for employment. Counselling and guidance opportunities in the junior college care for the needs of each individual, and closer attention can be given to these needs without the distraction of post-graduate work or research interest.

High School graduates lacking the necessary grades for senior college admission can prove themselves through the opportunities of a two-year program, and students undecided about their future can receive a general education while determining what course to follow and can later transfer these credits to a senior college in working toward their degree.

Can We See The Light

During this past spring and summer we have been privileged to take part, along with most of the citizenry of America, in the glorious experiment of Daylight Savings Time. This jewel of chronological ingenuity played havoc with our sleep while we tried to adjust, and will do the same come October 29th. Yes, friends, on that day we shall return to the normalcy of Eastern Standard Time only to find ourselves waking at the wrong time, getting hungry at ridiculous hours, and watching the sun go down much too soon, as we try hopelessly to readjust.

According to the supporters of Daylight Savings Time we receive the benefit of one extra hour of sunlight while at the same time staying in step with the rest of the nation. In reality if the rest of the nation "would see the light" they would not go on Daylight Savings Time to begin with.

During the summer, days are at their longest and the nights the shortest. Why make them even more so? The logical arrangement would be to try lengthening the winter days to balance things out, which of course we can not do because of the brevity of winter daylight. Next best choice is not to tamper with nature, to let things be just as is. Besides, why more daylight? There are things we do at night that "just don't make it" during the day.

Hopefully the January legislature will repeal the farical Daylight Savings Time law, and we can return to a peaceful co-existence with time and nature.

SENTINEL SPOTLIGHTS

The spotlight of "The Sentinel" has again stopped upon two students.

Cheryl Chapman
Richard Wheeler

Babbling Brooks

Cheryl Ann Chapman, the featured girl student for this edition of the paper, lives at 2871 Kennesaw Drive, Smyrna. Born September 26, 1948, Cheryl attended Osborne High School, and came to KJC Fall Quarter, 1966, as a first quarter freshman. Her reasons for coming to KJC were that she wanted to save money in order to continue her education after this year, and also to adjust her life to college in order to make the big step to a little smaller. When asked her opinion of KJC, she said, "The friendly smiles and cooperation among students, faculty, and administration is wonderful. I love the school!" Her one way to change the school would be to have less apathy towards school activities.

Our petite, brown-haired featured student may be seen several times each day on campus. Her major is Elementary Education. She is President - Elect of the S.G.E.A., and serves as Secretary - Treasurer of the Drama Club.

Included in her hobbies are reading and dancing. Cheryl's philosophy of life certainly fits her appearance on campus: "Not to let things keep me down -- and to smile, no matter what. Argument doesn't help."

Mr. Jim Keith Sociology Professor States Goals

Our featured teacher for this edition is one who could be no stranger to anyone -- except the incoming freshmen, that is -- and there is some doubt that he has not already become acquainted with them. For Mr. James French Keith, Jr., of 471 Johnson Ferry Road in Atlanta, is one of the best examples of the teacher - student relationship here at KJC.

Mr. Keith majored in sociology, minored in psychology and counseling, and is a member of the Social Science Division. He attended Wheaton College in Illinois, where he obtained his A.B. degree, cum laude. From there he furthered his education at Northern Illinois University, the University of North Carolina at Chapel Hill, where he obtained his M.A. degree, and the University of Georgia, where he did advanced work in counseling and psychology. He came to KJC fall quarter, 1966, and thus has watched the school expand from the campus of Southern Tech to its present site. Mr. Keith feels that KJC is a school with great

Her goal in life is to obtain a balance between her career of teaching first graders, serving her part as a citizen in the community, and maintaining harmony at home.

Richard Thomas Wheeler (alias Tom Jones) came to KJC fall quarter, 1977. Residing on Watkins Road in Mableton, Richard is 24 years old, and tells us that he is very definitely not married.

Born in Atlanta, Richard comes from a large family of 5 boys and 2 girls. He attended Fitzhugh Lee Elementary School, Campbell High School, graduating in 1961. At this time Richard entered the United States Air Force and served for five years. During his tour of duty he was an Instructor Loadmaster on C-124 and C-141 aircraft. He flew 32 combat support missions to Vietnam, flying troops and cargo, and doing air evacuation of wounded personnel to hospitals throughout the world.

Richard felt that KJC would be a good choice for a college because after these five years in the Air Force, "I felt academically inadequate to begin as a freshman at Georgia Tech and thus I decided that Kennesaw would benefit my educational aspirations." As his preference for Georgia Tech might indicate, Richard is majoring in Mechanical Engineering.

Our featured male student is also busy on campus and off. He is employed by Business Communications Co. He lists his hobbies as art, song writing, hunting, fishing, and playing his guitar with the "Sots". On campus he belongs to both the Drama Club and the Circle K Club. Richard has also been an important factor in the planning and establishment of the GERALD Dean Boggs Memorial Fund.

Richard states his philosophy of life as "truth to thyself results in honesty to others, live and serve others. Courtesy is contagious." As for his goal in life, "To find myself that I may find my goal."

His suggestion for bettering KJC would be to improve communications between student and faculty.

Mr. Keith's philosophy of life is that "Life is good under God-- that it has order, meaning, purpose, and design. I believe in the spirit of persons. Confidence in a personal God makes for confidence in life, because that's what makes underlying sense in and gives substance to a man reaching for more than he's grasped." Life is a spiritual quest, and how this quest is handled determines whether we become victims of an existence which we resent. His goal is "To be relentless in pursuit of the knowledge of God in a commitment to Him, to persons, and to life, and not to take myself too seriously."

It seems that someone in the Dean's office had his mind on vacation this summer. Emily Worthy, who was not even in summer school, received a letter congratulating her for making Dean's List summer quarter.

Ruth Beggs actually accumulated 8 cents for her outstanding production at Orientation last Friday. Of course all 8 pennies were thrown at her on stage -- but every bit helps -- doesn't it, Ruth?

Don't be disturbed if you find your swimming instructor to be a Mrs. Waters. It's true.

Dean Meadows - Put out any bonfires lately?

Doesn't the Editor of the Sentinel know she doesn't have special privileges in registration? I mean, trying to walk through a chair, yet!!

It certainly was a frightening sight to see Jodi Cannon in a car marked "Just Married." (Would you like a blind date Saturday, Jodi?)

KJC is certainly going along with the country's new low expenditure program. It seems the cafeteria has been selling doughnuts and apple turnovers left over from Orientation.

Can you imagine the looks of shock and amazement on approximately 40 students' faces when Dean Roberts walked into the 8:00 A.M. history 111 class and announced he was to be the instructor. (I mean, we love you, Dean Roberts, but a shock like that just doesn't get it at 8:00 A.M.)

A rumor has been heard concerning a group of students who are planning to meet one night soon for a midnight ride through Tennessee. I think it might have something to do with "The General". Could it be the KKK? (Keep Kennesaw's Kindred).

We hear by way of the grapevine that one overtired student chemist Sam Cherry took his 3rd course and finally passed it. Congratulations! Its about time.

Mr. Smith. . . Is that straight Pepsi that you stole from Mrs. May?

Orvil The Dragon Attends Kennesaw

KJC has at long last enrolled its first celebrity.

Terry Kelley, better known to the children of Georgia as "Orvil the Dragon" on WSB-TV's "The Popeye Club", is nineteen years old and has been working puppets for the past ten years. He is a first quarter freshman on our campus.

Terry and his puppets are also featured each Saturday on WSB-TV's children's show, "The Funtown Show", which has an average audience of 47,000 homes.

In addition to his television work, "Terry's Puppets" have entertained at birthday parties throughout the Atlanta area during the past ten years, and have drawn huge crowds at personal appearances at movies, shopping centers, and at promotional appearances at theaters, shopping centers, fund raising projects sponsored by various clubs, churches, and schools, as well as furnishing entertainment at numerous special events sponsored by various civic groups. Terry estimates that during his career in puppeteering he has entertained in person in excess of 75,000 children in addition to his daily television coverage.

For the past two summers Terry has had a regular personal appearance show each Tuesday night at Callaway Gardens, with an average audience of five hundred.

Terry was introduced to puppets when he was a third grade student in grammar school in Sandy Springs. The shows which his teacher had him put on for the class were so popular with his fellow students that she asked Terry to produce one each week. That summer his older brother, Pat, made him a stage, and Terry was launched on his career as a puppeteer. The first shows were given in the carport of his home each Saturday night for the neighborhood kids. (The show was free, but Terry raised money to cover his expenses by selling popcorn and cokes during intermission.) The first paid performance came when a neighbor asked Terry to entertain at a birthday party, and his stage and other equipment was moved to the party in his wagon. As bookings became more numerous his mother transported Terry, puppets, stage, and props in the family car until Terry was old enough to drive himself.

At fourteen Terry acted in Macbeth and The Drunkard at the Academy Theater in Atlanta, and on Saturday morning produced a children's puppet show at the Academy Theater. Later he presented his show at the Hideaway Theater each Saturday morning. The directors there were so enchanted with the puppets that they arranged for a guest appearance on WSB-TV's popular children's show, "The Popeye Club". Terry and his puppets were so well received that he was asked by WSB-TV to appear as a regular on the Popeye Club once a week. This soon increased to a five day a week appearance. In addition, during the past summer Terry has become a regular feature on WSB-TV's Saturday morning show, "The Funtown Show".

Counselors Advise Students

Office of Guidance and Counseling is now open to all students who need help in academic matters. Although it is advised that students see their appointed counselors, the main office is open to students.

The office has several types of tests ranging from aptitude tests to vocational preference exams available for students.

Dr. Carol Martin, head of the Guidance Department, studied at the University of Georgia and also received his doctorate there. Dr. Martin also holds a Master's degree in education.

Mrs. Inez Morgan, counselor, completed her studies at the University with a Master's degree. She studied at the University of Maryland during the past summer.

DR. MARTIN and Mrs. Morgan counsel prospective first quarter freshmen on orientation day. Over 500 new students have enrolled. The Office of Guidance and Counseling is open to all students who need assistance with their course of study.

'Guesstimate' On Registration

The Office of Admissions and Records finally gave the Sentinel a wild "guesstimate" of the Fall Quarter enrollment. They say that about 1270 students have enrolled. About 550 are new First Quarter Freshmen. This leaves 720 of the "Old Guard".

Meadows Becomes State Chairman Of ACPA

Dr. Mark E. Meadows, Dean of Student Affairs at Kennesaw Junior College, has been appointed Georgia Membership Chairman for the American College Personnel Association.

He was named to the post by Richard M. Trumpe, who is the ACPA National Membership Chairman.

As State Membership Chairman, Dr. Meadows will represent Georgia on the ACPA National Membership Committee. He is also responsible for planning and conducting all Association Membership procurement activities within the State.

The American College Personnel Association is a National Professional Organization composed of college educators and administrators concerned with the professional advancement of college personnel and guidance at all levels and in all phases of higher education.

Sentinel Shuffles

In May, the Publications Board of Kennesaw Junior College announced the Editor for the 1967-1968 Sentinel.

All students interested in joining the staff must secure an application from the Sentinel office on or before Friday, October 6.

Reader's Comment

Freshmen Are Not Overly Bright

Dear Editor,

I realize that Freshmen are not overly bright people, and I don't mind doing little things to help them out, like holding their hand when they cross the parking lot, or tying their shoe laces for them, but when it comes to letting them register first I draw the line!

Common sense dictates that with only half as many courses available to them, Sophomores should register before Freshmen. Many courses were closed out or open only at ungodly hours by one o'clock when I registered and Sophomores registering after 2:00 PM may as well have stayed in bed. One friend of mine has an early class in the morning, a late class in the afternoon, and two courses at night! Does that seem fair to you? (Sadist orientated Freshmen opinions do not count.)

There must be some logical explanation as to why the registration was set up in this manner, but for the life of me I can not follow the reasoning of our registrars office.

Mike Corbin

Dear Editor:

If Orientation Day, Friday, September 22, says to all Kennesaw students what it did to those who assisted in serving meals, students would realize the need for co-operating with cafeteria personnel. The ladies are so busy preparing food that they do not have enough time to gather trays and dirty dishes. Everyone should help these ladies by taking trays and dishes to the dishwashing window.

Richard T. Wheeler

Dear Editor,

My best friend, who is also a "hippie", asked me why school is so important to me, and taking a few minutes to think it out, I'm going to tell her and you.

In my limited world I come in touch with a lot of types of people: plastic hippies, real hippies, psuedo hips, semi hips, drunks, dope fiends, cool Joes, squares from square city, sexes guaranteed (sic) to blow your mind, genuines, and then just plain friends.

But my favorites are the ones I see and communicate with at school, the ones who are out for education, but who are just as tuned-in, turned-on, without the drop-out bit. They're the ones to whom everything is a passing phase for experience's sake, or just for kicks, except the education scene which is for real. They're the ones who love to wander and explore, trip out and turn on as much as you do, but who all consider the school and classes as home base, the starting point, the beginning and finish of all our trips, our only and foremost consideration, and the focal point that all our eyes are turned toward.

Until we no longer need it, and are finished with it, there is no other place for us, no other place we can run to or run away from. It's only and eternally school, what a draggy name for such a turned on place! And that, dearest friend, is just one reason why school is so important to me.

Anon

Dear Editor,

In reference to Doug Couch's "She's a Misfit" in the last issue of The Sentinel, I must confess that the article was most enjoyable: Enjoyably sickening -- O yes, a sixth person enjoyed the fun and games when the telling of "with a rusty razor blade, cut slashes on her cheeks and forearms"; was described. That sixth person was you, Mr. Doug Couch, anyone to name an article "Teeners Slash New Pupil Because She's a Misfit", and then describe the arts of fun and games that you did get (sic) more pleasure and enjoyment out of it than I and many others did.

As for Clint Eastwood killing 35 or more in his picture he died the Wild West a favor for you see, according to history books, there were many Indians and white men killed in the West. But also closer in our times, say 30 or even 25 years ago, there was Baby Face Nelson who killed for fun and games.

So you see, Mr. Couch, we may hear and see. Killers like Speck, Whitman, and of course, we can't forget the "loyal" Boston Strangler -- now, can we? Only in the role of Bad Guys. Because that's what they are, you talk about "murder and rape and blood -- it sells", of course it sells! It's news straight from the heart of the true gore and hate for one human to another doesn't show. So take your Alka-Seltzer and pick up a copy of The Boston Strangler!

Nancy Blackwood

P. S. G. ng, don't forget your Rusty Razor Blade and your manual "Six Easy Lessons on Violence as Entertainment."

New G.I. Bill Approved

G.I. BILL

On October 3, 1966, the President approved a law passed by Congress to provide educational assistance for veterans who served on active duty with the Armed Forces after January, 1955.

The government is underwriting under this program the cost of education of many of the students of Kennesaw Junior College.

The government will pay up to $175 a month for a veteran two or more dependents. The limit is 36 months which covers 4 years of school. If the veteran served less than three years, he may receive one full month of assistance allowance for each month or part of a month served on active duty, on or after February 1, 1955.

The government has found that money spent by them has returned many times over in the form of taxes veterans pay on their higher earnings. This, plus a steady stream of skilled men and women pumped into the labor force in a technician hungry nation, make the G. I. bill a boon to all.

Hinton Receives Doctorate

Dr. Virginia Cooksey Hinton, as Assistant Professor at Kennesaw Junior College, was awarded her Ph. D. degree in English by the University of Georgia, August 18, in Athens.

In working toward her Ph. D., Dr. Hinton majored in "American Literature Before 1865" and minored in "American Literature After 1865," "Victorian Literature," and "Literary Criticism." Her dissertation is entitled, "The Columbus (Georgia) Enquirer and Literature, 1855-1872."

Dr. Hinton, who began her teaching career with the Columbus Center of the University of Georgia, also taught at the Marietta Center before renewing her graduate studies. She then joined the faculty of Kennesaw Junior College when it opened last year.

Before entering the teaching profession, she served as a staff reported for the International News Service (both in Atlanta and Cleveland), the Atlanta Constitution, and the Columbus Enquirer.

Orientation Day As Seen From Eyes Of A Near-Sighted Student Guide

By RUTH BEGGS

The day began badly. First there was a wreck on Highway 5, and about 4 miles of stagnant traffic to get past. Then, when I finally arrived at KJC parking lot, there were miles and miles of cars. (Suggestion to the Administration -- How 'bout reserving the first two lines of parking spaces for the upper classmen?)

Well, back to the story. The Student Orientation committee placed themselves firmly in front of the gymnasium and began handing out catalogues and packets which contained a meal ticket, pen, paper, name tag, schedule, and a few other interesting items. The standard spiel was "welcome to Kennesaw Junior College. Here is a catalogue and a packet. The packet contains a name tag, please print your name on it and wear it and be seated in the gym."

After several exciting, enlightening speeches by Dean Meadows, Mr. Ingle, Dr. Martin, and Mr. Hopkins, came the big moment of the day. A twelve act play written and produced by the Student Orientation Committee was presented to the flabbergasted freshmen. The brilliant acting of Richard Wheeler as Tom Jones, Stella Merritt as the slinky sex pot and the superb acting of Dr. Sturgis as Dr. Sturgis were the highlights of the play.

The incoming Freshman Class then was released and allowed to go to the parking lot where they were served Cokes and allowed to mingle with the actors. (THRILL)

At this point, the Student Orientation Committee left to plan for campus tours, have their lunch, and ready themselves for the lunch hour rush. I was a little unhappy with this arrangement. I had planned to stay for the library information lecture, discussion of student rules, registration information, and college organization and study programs. One just never grows tired of such exciting lectures and I was a little perturbed that I wasn't allowed to attend.

Anyhow, the Student Service building was soon swamped with over 500 eager freshmen, all out to get a free lunch. (When they see the price of books this year it may well be their last lunch.)

If Friday is a sample of life behind a lunch counter, then I assure you, I intend to find another line of work. I always thought driving a tank was bad, but this beats it all. For two hours we filled and passed trays. I began to feel like an automat. Cries of "Hot, Hot, Hot! -- More french fries! -- We're outta plates! -- Betty, get your finger out of the cole slaw!" rang out as the hungry horde surged by.

Just as we collapsed into chairs it was time to take students on campus tours. Would you believe it takes one hour and 25 minutes to take a 45 minute campus tour?

"This is the Administration Building, home of Dr. Sturgis, Dr. Roberts, and Dean Meadows. -- This is the Humanities Building -- Flunk out rate 50% -- This is the Social Science Building -- Flunk out rate 70% -- This is the Library -- no smoking or bridge playing. -- This is the Gym -- please notice the sign at the pool: "All girls and long haired boys must wear swim caps." And finally, this is the Science Building where you have the privilege of cutting on one odorous, decaying, long dead rat for 6 weeks in a row. The last week is murder. Bring out the gas masks!!

By now everyone was beat so we took a breather and resumed our mad pace at 7:45 with a speech by Dr. Sturgis, president of Kennesaw Junior College. I figured everyone should be tired and the turn out would be small. Ha! Imagine 400 parents and 300 students! I still can't believe it.

Well, if these people came out expecting to hear a bang-up concert by the Wayfarers, then they deserved what they got. The best singing group I've heard in ages.

Some of their songs were a little ribald and they did take a few liberties with the language -- for instance -- I noticed Dr. Roberts squirming in his seat during some of the jokes -- but this is supposed to be college level entertainment and there are far more bawdy passages to be found in such classics as Dante's Divine Comedy, Shakespeare's Hamlet, or Chaucer's Canterbury Tales.

Once more this generous institution of higher learning showed it was all heart. Officials served coffee, cokes and donuts in the Student Services Building to about three hundred people who had made it through the day.

Montage Presented To Judge Daniell

A copy of the first edition of the MONTAGE, student yearbook of Kennesaw Junior College, was presented Thursday, September 7, to Judge James J. Daniell "In recognition of his untiring support of education and his special interest in Kennesaw Junior College."

The presentation was made by the President, Dr. Horace W. Sturgis, at a regular meeting of the Kiwanis Club of Marietta held in the Student Services Building on the college campus.

A key to the campus was presented by Dr. Sturgis to Davis Walker, President of the Kiwanis Club.

The college president expressed his appreciation to the civic club for its support of Cobb County's newest institution of higher learning. He called attention to a collection in the Library in honor of Dr. Glenn R. Reed, Past-President of Kiwanis International.

Recapping briefly the history of the college, which opened a year ago in temporary facilities with 1,014 students, Dr. Sturgis told the group that this fall's enrollment is expected to be at least 1,300 and possibly as many as 1,500.

He pointed out that 38 percent of the students enrolled in Winter and Spring Quarters attended evening classes.

"Kennesaw Junior College has truly brought both adult and continuing education to the community," he explained. He added that 30 percent of the students during those two quarters were married.

At the conclusion of the luncheon the members of the Kiwanis Club were conducted on a tour of the campus by members of the faculty.

Sixty-One Students Make Dean's List

Sixty-one students at Kennesaw Junior College from 15 different communities have been named to the Dean's List for the Summer Quarter of 1967.

Dr. Darrell C. Roberts, Dean of the College, explained that these students have achieved a cumulative grade point average of 3.0, or an average grade of B on all the work taken at Kennesaw Junior College, with a minimum of 15 credit hours in residence being required for eligibility.

Those included in the list for the first time deserve special commendation, for in many cases they have been able to improve their records sufficiently to achieve the necessary grade point average.

The names of the students follow:

College Catalogue Published

Kennesaw Junior College published its first catalog this year. Dean Roberts originated the catalog and was in charge of the publication.

The front cover, designed by Ike Boyette of Taylor Publishing Company is gold and black with the seal of the college on it. Taylor Publishing Company, of Atlanta, was publisher. The rough draft was completed in Dec. 1965.

The 1966-67 calendar begins the catalog. It also contains rules and regulations, admission rules, programs of study, courses of instruction, Regents of the University System of Georgia, Office of Administrative and Instructional Staff, Plant Operations, Auxiliary Enterprises, the Kennesaw Junior College Faculty, Administrative Council, Standing Committees of the Faculty, and Special Committees of the Faculty.

Student Handbook Plans Begun

Plans for a Student Handbook were begun this summer and are now in full swing. Students working on this book are Louise Bishop, Thomas King, Peter Pomeroy, and Kenny Smith.

The handbook will contain messages to students from Dr. Sturgis and Dean Meadows.

Information about staff members and department heads will be published also.

A campus map with descriptions of buildings and offices will be in the center of the handbook.

This handbook will be a guide to the students of the college for information on staff, faculty, grades, and all phases of college life.

The Baptist Student Union has gotten off to a rip-roaring start beginning with the first day of Fall Quarter. As students left the Science Building, weary and tired from the trials and tribulations of registration, they were greeted by members of the BSU with hot chocolate. Cheryl Tumlin and Charlie Davis gave out pamphlets called College Is. A social took place September 28th at 7:00 PM at the Marietta

First Baptist Church, with the theme of a "Shakespearean Shenanigan".

President Charles Davis and Secretary Cheryl Tumlin disclosed that the BSU will hold its first official meeting on October 3rd, and will welcome all newcomers and old members.

Meetings this year will be at 12:00 every Tuesday. Featured will be films, guest speakers, and discussions.

Circle K Begins Activities

What is Circle K?

The Circle K Club is a voluntary service organization for college men, operating on campus. It is similar to Kiwanis, Rotary and other civic clubs - a leadership and character building group which serves the campus and community.

Circle K is an opportunity for college men because it provides a means for the same type of leadership in a college community which service clubs are giving in the business and professional world. It is an opportunity for joint as well as individual participation in many activities for the service of humanity and for campus and community betterment. . . .An opportunity for self expression, for self development, leadership, good citizenship, education, and fellowship. . . .An opportunity to associate with outstanding representatives of the business, professional, agricultural, and institutional life of the community, in an atmosphere of friendliness, mutual helpfulness, and service. . . .An opportunity to serve and learn at the same time.

Date and time of meetings will be announced later.

General Becomes Chattanooga Choo-Choo

Used to be when you mentioned you attended Kennesaw Junior College people thought you were enrolled in some unheard-of-out-in-the-sticks institution.

No more! Now when you mention KJC, people think of the city that was the victim of a train-napping. Oh, they may still think you attend some out-in-the-sticks institution, but not an unheard-of out-in-the-sticks institution.

As of 1 A.M., September 12, 1967, Kennesaw was on the map. This is the time that the dastardly deed was done by those terrible Tennesseans. Only two days before the Kennesaw or Big Shanty Fair, Mayor Ralph Kelley and his charging Chattanoogaogians abducted the General in a darkened freight yard north of Chattanooga.

In case you've not up on your history, the General is the famed locomotive from the Great Locomotive Chase of Civil War fame. Secret agent James J. Andrews and nineteen of them danged Yankees had the gall to steal it on April 12, 1862, while conductor William A. Fuller was over at the Lacy Hotel trying to have a little breakfast. The Western and Atlantic Railroad men hopped the Texas and took off in hot pursuit, backwards as is often the Southern manner of doing things. As the two trains headed northward, the General gave out of steam and Andrews and his men were caught and hung as spies.

The Great Locomotive Chase of 1967 doesn't seem destined to have such a dramatic end. Here, no doubt, the General will be the hung one - hung up in court, that is. October 16 is now the next date for a hearing on the case which could drag on for years.

Meanwhile, back in Kennesaw, all is gloom. The Kennesaw, or Big Shanty, Fair, had as its main and almost only attraction - the conspicuous by its absence General. The fair was a financial flop. And Mayor Adams of Kennesaw sums up the whole affair in seven words, "If it's a joke, it's real stupid."

MSM Meets

September 31

The Methodist Student Movement will hold its first meeting on Tuesday, September 31. The meetings will be held at 12 noon with inter-denominational discussions conducted by Dr. Robertson and Rev. Sealey. Members of all faiths are invited to attend this meeting in the private dining room in the Student Services Building.

The MSM was originated to provide a forum to discuss matters of religion and everyday life in an atmosphere of acceptance and friendship. All students are invited to attend the first meeting of the year.

Drama Club Resumes Soon

The Drama Club, which received its charter last May 4, has yet to set a date for meetings to begin. A special meeting of the remaining officers will be called to decide the time and place for its first meeting.

Requirements for membership will be published after the first meeting of the Drama Club, but interested students may contact Bob Myatt for further information.

Melanie Taylor Places In 'Miss General' Contest

Among the freshman entering KJC is the pert and pretty Miss Melanie Taylor. Melanie graduated from John McEachern High School last year and on September 16 captured second place in the "Miss General" contest.

Melanie is studying under the Business Education program and would like to teach high school business courses. She enjoys reading, horseback riding, and singing. But her favorite pastime is sewing. Melanie makes all her own clothes.

Miss Taylor also is interested in serving people. She would like to join the Peace Corps and serve abroad.

After Kennesaw, Melanie plans to attend Sanford University in Birmingham.

The following is an excerpt from Miss Taylor's speech.

I believe in the saying, "Do unto others as you would have them do unto you." I think a person is put on earth to help those who cannot help themselves. He should donate his talent to benefit those who are lacking in that particular talent.

Physical Education Dept Offers New Sports

Students who took physical education last fall must remember the drudgery of treading through the mud and wet cement enroute to the gymnasium at Southern Tech. When Kennesaw Junior College began, it had to borrow its gymnasium.

Winter Quarter at the college campus placed even more handicaps on the Physical Education classes. For two quarters, winter and spring, students used the social science building for their gym.

Kennesaw's gymnasium opened for the first time summer quarter.

With the facilities of the new gymnasium the physical education department gets off to a good start fall quarter.

Approximately twenty sports are being offered for 1967-1968. Cross country, swimming, and free-throw shooting are a few of the sports being offered for the first time this year. Different sports are offered at different quarters with approximately five sports offered each quarter.

Coffee Honors K.J.C. Faculty Members

Dr. Horace W. Sturgis, president of Kennesaw Junior College, gives a good luck wish to Prof. and MRS. I. David Harris who are taking leave from the faculty. Harris, of the physical education department, will continue his studies for the doctor's degree in physical education at the University of Southern Mississippi.

He expects to return to Kennesaw as head of the physical education department next summer.

The morning coffee, given by Mrs. K. M. Smathers, secretary to Mr. and Mrs. Harris, featured a four clover motif in the decoration carrying out the good luck theme. Assisting in serving were Mrs. Ann Harris and Mrs. Mildred Stringer.

These tests were given September 12th through the 15th, with make up tests on September 30th.

Students came to the campus for an approximate 6 hours, with the understanding that the tests would not affect their admittance to KJC. The result of the tests, which are based on English Composition, humanities, mathematics, natural sciences, and social studies - history, help to place these students in courses which are on their level of academic achievement, to indicate where they stand in relation to other freshmen, to provide them with an insight into their academic and to furnish these students a point from which to measure their progress while at KJC.

Mrs. Waters Assist College

Appointment of Mrs. Margaret W. Waters as assistant professor of physical education at Kennesaw Junior College, effective September 1, was announced by Dr. Horace W. Sturgis, president.

Mrs. Waters comes from the University of Mississippi, where she has been an assistant professor since 1963. There she served as editor of a statewide newsletter in the field of physical education.

The new faculty member is the wife of Clyde H. (Jack) Waters, who was recently appointed to the position of basketball coach at Georgia State College in Atlanta.

A native of Cleveland County, North Carolina, Mrs. Waters received both her B.S. and M.A.

degrees, with a major in physical education, from Appalachian State Teachers' College.

Mr. Norman Joins Staff

A native of Valdosta, Georgia, the new Instructor attended the Georgia Institute of Technology and South Georgia College before receiving his B.S. degree from Florida State University.

He has taught at Taylor County High School and Caroline Brevard Elementary school. He is a member of Phi Epsilon Kappa, honorary society for physical education majors, and Lambda Chi Alpha, a social fraternity.

Mr. Norman is married to the former Miss Susan Shaver, a teacher in the Leon County School System in Florida, and is a member of the Methodist Church.

Frosh Take Tests

An entering freshmen are required to take the General Examinations Section of the College -Level Examinations before credit will be given for courses taken.

Intramural Sports Begun

Kennesaw Junior College will hold intramural sports competition throughout the entire year with all the sports offered in the physical education department.

All college students are eligible and encouraged to participate in any of the sports.

Intramural games will be played on Tuesday and Thursday in the gymnasium. The games will be held from three until five o'clock.

For further information on intramural games, contact Coach Palmer.

Each edition of "The Sentinel" will carry an article on Physical Education known as Intramural News. This article will carry news of competition, scores on games played, and box scores. All sports news will be found on the last page of the paper.

If you have not filled out an application for intramural sports you can pick one up at the gymnasium.

Mrs. Smathers Becomes P.E. Secretary

Mrs. Olivia B. Smathers, who is secretary to the division of Physical Education at Kennesaw Junior College, formerly worked at Sears in Marietta. She is and has been a resident of Kennesaw, Georgia, for the past seventeen years.

She teaches an adult Sunday School Class at the First Baptist Church in Kennesaw. She has three children, two of whom attend J. J. Daniels Junior High School, Marietta, Jimmy, her youngest boy is a sophomore at North Cobb High School, Acworth, Georgia.
