Gubernatorial Candidates Speak To Students At STI

Lester Maddox, Democratic nominee for governor, speaks Wednesday, November 2, on the Southern Tech campus.

Howard "Bo" Callaway, Republican candidate for Governor of Georgia, spoke Thursday, October 20, in the Southern Tech gym.

In an address aimed at the students of Southern Tech, Mr.

Baptist Student Union Organized

The first organizational meeting of the Baptist Student Union was held on October 17, on the Southern Tech campus in Room 225. Mr. D. Eugene Briscoe, North West Georgia Area Director of the Department of Student Work, Georgia Baptist Convention, was present and set forth the motives and objectives of the Baptist Student Union.

Mr. Briscoe spoke on what the Baptist Student Union has meant to other campuses such as Georgia and Georgia Tech. After the speech, the students present began organizing, by electing officers for the coming year, and forming their Constitution. The elected officers are as follows:

President, Chip Souther; Vice President, Joel Daniels; Secretary-Treasurer, Dianne Bryan; Devotional Chairman, Lida Sanders; Social Chairman, Mary Lou Davis; Music Chairman, Cheryl Tumlin.

Students of all denominations are invited to attend the meetings, which are held on the first and third Wednesday of each month at 5 p.m. There will be notices of special events and meetings posted.

Dance Plans

Plans are in the process for a KJC Christmas Dance. It will be Dec. 3 at the Marietta YWCA for KJC students and their dates. "No one else will be admitted," stated Dean Meadows, Dean of Students.

The group to play for the dance has not been selected as of press time.

Callaway declared the prime issue of the campaign to be education. He stated that Georgia teachers received four hundred dollars less per year than South Carolina, and a good amount less than the national average. Mr. Callaway proposed expansion of the trade and vocational school program and a greater amount of money for the total educational program in Georgia.

Stressing the importance of bringing new industry to Georgia, Mr. Callaway emphasized the importance of having skilled workers in the state's industries. Callaway proposed a system of incentive for business to train workers.

The Republican candidate proposed a priority system of highway construction and an expansion of Georgia's mental health program. Mr. Callaway further stated that he was opposed to the loyalty oath requiring members of political parties to support every party candidate.

Mr. Callaway ended his address by stating that the federal guidelines violated the constitution, whereas the "freedom-of-choice" system complies with the law.

Dr. Horace Sturgis, President of Kennesaw Junior College, stated in an interview that the "possibilities are excellent" that Kennesaw will start the winter quarter on its own campus. Dr. Sturgis further stated that, barring further work stoppages, the only building on the campus that is likely to be unfinished when the quarter begins is the gymnasium.

At the present time, many of the buildings are almost completed, and almost all of the final touches will be completed by December 15.

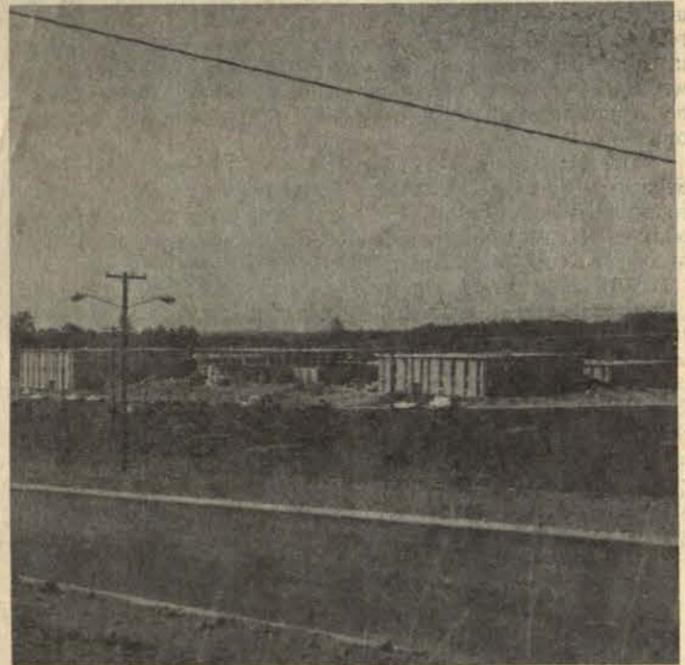

According to the construction schedule the following buildings will be completed by November 15: the Maintenance and Warehouse Building; the Science Building (housing the laboratories and lecture rooms for physics and chemistry); Classroom Building No. 2 (housing classrooms for the Humanities); and the Administration Building.

Also, the following buildings will be completed by December 15: Classroom Building No. 1 (housing the Social Sciences); Student Services Building (housing the College Bookstore and meeting rooms for various organizations on campus, along with a cafeteria and student lounge); and, as a possibility, the Library.

According to the Cobb County Commission of Roads, the paving at the campus will be finished by November 15.

Dr. Sturgis further stated that if the work stoppages had not occurred, the college would be occupying its own campus at the present time. All in all, there were twenty-four weeks of partial work stoppage, and eleven weeks of complete work stoppage in the time since the contract for the building was signed.

KJC Students Attend SGA Workshop Today

Five Kennesaw Junior College students are representing KJC in the annual Georgia Swapshop-Publications Workshop today and tomorrow at the Dinkler Motor Hotel in Atlanta. They are Bob McDearmid, Editor in Chief, and Bob Herrin, photographer of the Sentinel, our college newspaper; and Grady Eskew, Editor, and Jeff Barnes, Business Manager of the Montage, our college annual. Lynnda Bernard, Feature Editor of the Sentinel, has been asked to help register students. Thus, Kennesaw Junior College is helping to provide leadership already. Dean of Students Mark E. Meadows will represent the faculty as well as acting as an advisor to the KJC students attending this meeting.

The SGA Workshop is centered around student publications and student government.

Hinton Teaches At Episcopal Church

College age students and all interested young adults are invited by St. James Episcopal Church to attend a class on the history of the Christian Church. This group meets each Sunday morning at 9:15.

Mrs. Boyd Hinton of the English staff at Kennesaw Junior College will lead the class through a study of Bonnell Spencer's book, Ye Are the Body. Spencer employs a biographical approach emphasizing the lives of the saints. Mrs. Hinton uses other references dealing with the coming of Christ, the Apostolic church, and the early church.

Glee Club Organized

Plans are underway for a Christmas Concert to be presented by the newly organized Kennesaw Junior College Glee Club.

Meeting recently in the Choir Room of Marietta's First Baptist Church, twenty-five students, a few more girls than boys, began the organization of this group.

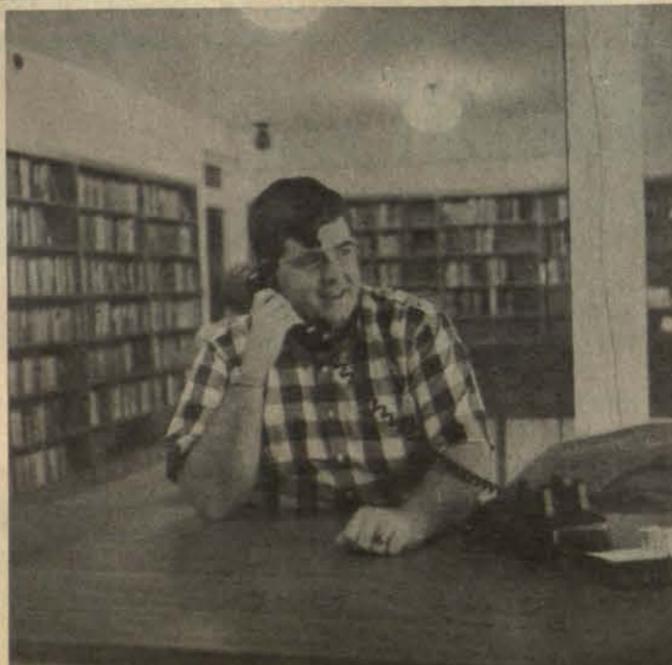

Miss Lucy Lee, Music Professor will advise and direct the Glee Club.

Practice sessions are held on Monday evenings at 8 p.m. at the church. Other interested students are urged to join the group.

The alto section needs strengthening as was evidenced by the problem in singing "Chim Chim Cheree." The melody was heavily soprano.

Plans for a dramatic club are also under way, according to Dean Meadows.

Students who wish to join the dramatics group should give their names to Mrs. McCollum of the English Department.

Gym Class Moves Out

CASEY

By Bob Herren

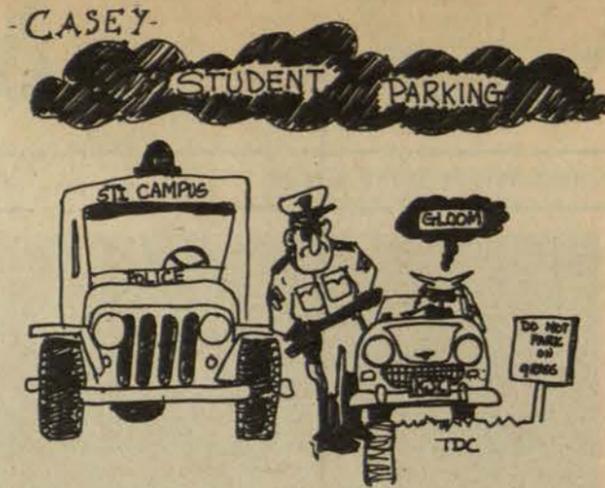

It has been very interesting to watch the developments and reactions that have taken place since Kennesaw Junior College was taken off paper and put into action. There has been some confusion, of course, and most of it seems rather amusing.

For an example, let's take a look at the physical education department. Fortunately, Southern Tech has allowed the college the use of their gym and dressing room facilities. And so we have the basic requirements for Phys. Ed. classes. But here the fun begins!

The girls have received their uniforms and look neat and proper as they trot out on the court. Then, from the other side . . . out come the boys in clean, white T-shirts and the wildest assortment of shorts that one could imagine. All types of shorts from madras to paisley to the wildest of Hawaiian floral prints are in evidence. Another new fad is that of wearing the red K.J.C. nightshirts to gym class. Perhaps the Owl holding the light of learning reminds many students of the Olympic Decameron races.

But things are moving. Nothing can stop progress. The volleyball classes have now received volley balls and are assured that they will soon get nets and standards that go with them. Badminton is progressing well; modern folk dancing is really swinging; and say . . . what is this about underwater basket weaving 101?

So march on, Physical Education! Maybe next time we can poke fun at some other department at K.J.C.

Parking Presents Problems

As I was skipping across the asphalt at Southern Tech, I noticed a rather strange-looking vehicle methodically stopping at each car and then proceeding. As the vehicle (a Jeep with a red light mounted on the hood) came to a car which was parked in an illegal zone, it would stop and a man would emerge, writing as he went. The driver of the Jeep would then deposit his cryptic message on the windshield of the car in question and move on.

This strange sight has since become known to me as the Security officer of the Southern Tech campus making his daily rounds. His duties have increased in proportion to the growing number of cars which have penetrated the campus due to the arrival of Kennesaw Junior College in its temporary facilities.

With the growing number of cars involved in the situation comes a need for greater student responsibility in these matters. It should not be necessary for the Southern Tech Security officer to hand out tickets at all. Rather, the responsible student should observe all parking signs and regulations while on the Southern Tech campus. Remember, we at Kennesaw are guests on the Southern Tech campus. I, for one, feel that most of the students at Kennesaw are responsible enough to take care of their own parking problems. A quarter-mile walk is usually not necessary if one takes the time to locate a parking place in one of the many places on the campus.

Bookstore Encounters Problems

By Mike Corbin

I'd like to start off by saying that there isn't a bit of truth in the rumor going around the campus that the bookstore staff has been telling the students that those red night shirts are really the new men's P.E. suits.

In an effort to clear their good name we have traced the whole episode about the night shirts down, and here are the facts. Two students whose names I won't mention, but whose initials are Howard Tuttle and John Kohler, bought the darn things to begin with, and then they couldn't figure out what to do with them. They had just about given up hope of ever figuring out what they were, when they noticed that the owl holding the candle pictured on the night shirt seemed to be running. Upon further investigation and discussion they reasoned that this symbol stood for the spirit of Kennesaw (the owl) running in the Olympic marathon carrying the torch (the candle), and they further reasoned that the only logical place that they would do any running was in P.E. So the next day they appeared in all their resplendent glory. I noticed later when they retold their tale for posterity, their faces turned approximately the same shade as the night shirts.

The real P.E. suits will be in the near future, but nobody's saying when for sure. When you ask a bookstore staff member a question about them, he always answers you with another question. (Just how much difference will it make five-hundred million years from now?)

Have you seen the new black and gold notebooks with the school crest and the owl on the cover? I may as well tell all the non-conformists in the crowd that you best buy one, because reliable sources inform me that the bookstore has no intention of stocking those notebooks bearing the inscription Big Shanty U. that you have been asking about. (Sorry, fellas, I kind of wanted one, too.)

Letters

To The Editor:

Dear Editor,

Is the Southern Tech campus becoming the Marietta City dump? Statistics show that this statement may be on its way to the truth. One can observe litter in ruts, on the road, and on the fertile green grass. If this trend does not stop soon, the Southern Tech campus may very well become an ocean of litter.

Kennesaw Junior College students should appreciate Southern Tech's kind hospitality and use of its beautiful campus. However, this campus may not be lovely much longer if litter bugs don't go into hibernation.

Let's show our thanks to Southern Tech by keeping our trash to ourselves.

Sincerely,
L. H.

Dear Editor,

There are certain students at this school who seem to think that classrooms are a place to make wise cracks about anything the instructor says. I wonder if these students realize what they are doing.

First, they are disrupting the class and making it difficult for the students who want to learn. Secondly, they can not possibly be getting the full worth of the material that is being covered. And thirdly, they are harming themselves for even though they do not realize it, the instructor knows what is happening.

I believe if people are going to college, they should be mature enough to conduct themselves accordingly in class. Also it is pure decency to let others do their work if they want to. These "students" should either shape up or get out! The Army has a great need for manpower.

WELCOME STUDENTS:

The Marietta Daily Journal is proud to congratulate you on your enrollment at the Kennesaw Junior College.

Here at the Marietta Daily Journal we have reported with much interest and pleasure the exciting developments of your new college—selection of the site, ground breaking ceremonies, progress reports on construction work, selection of a very dedicated and capable president and faculty, and now the official opening.

Our staff members look forward to continue to tell the story of Kennesaw Junior College, with special emphasis now on you—the students—, your activities and accomplishments.

We are also happy that you have selected the ultra-modern composing room of the Marietta Daily Journal for composition of THE SENTINEL. The type for your newspaper was set on high-speed photocomposition equipment that operates at speeds four times faster than conventional typesetting machines.

Casey's Nitelines

D. C. & R. M.

How many times have you sat down and wondered: what can I do this Saturday night? Too often the answer is, "I guess we'll go to movies or something like that." This attitude is all right for the usual high-school harem set, but college students are by nature more discriminating and are continually seeking out new and different things to do at night.

There is usually quite a bit of action in the Atlanta area, most of it being simple to find. There are, however, quite a few new (and old) places that are as yet undiscovered by the college set in Greater Atlanta. One such place is the Comic Book Club, a brandnew establishment dedicated to the fine principle that a general rock-out is the only way to fly. The Comic Book is located on Peachtree in the Peachtree Battle Shopping Center, and is quite a groove just about any time. One hang-up that does not affect the majority of Kennesaw students is the age limit. The minimum age is eighteen, and identification is carefully checked. There have been several extremely good bands at the Comic Book recently, including the Rockin' Romans, the Remicks, a Nashville group, The group Therapy from Holland, and the Fugitives, a local group who just got back from a tour of the United States.

For the ethnic or folk music crowd, there are several excellent spots offering the best in Atlanta and the south in the field of folk music. The Bistro, located on West Peachtree just up from Fourteenth, features Ray Whitley, recording and night club artist, every Monday and Tuesday night. Appearing along with Ray at other times during the night are various guest artists, many of them from other parts of the country. At other times in the week, such greats as Buddy Moss, Columbia recording artist, are to be heard. The Cuisine at the Bistro includes pizza for everybody and assorted beverages.

One of the most exciting new places for folk music is the Studio, just opened and really going strong. The program at the Studio is generally a kind of freewheeling happening, but the program usually includes Bob Barnes, DeVon Bogue, Mike Austin, and Dave Campbell. The Studio is open only on Saturday nights and features one of the most unique atmospheres in the Atlanta Scene. The Studio is located on Cheshire Bridge Road, N. E. behind the Shamrock Lounge near the corner of Piedmont Road and Cheshire Bridge.

Bad news of the week! NO DANCE UNTIL DECEMBER THE 3rd. I hear it will be a big show, however, when the Christmas Dance does come. From the grapevine I heard it might be James Brown, the Kingsmen, The Swinging Medallions or maybe the Boston Philharmonic Symphony Orchestra, although none of them have been confirmed by the faculty as of yet. Sorry constituents, they are not even considering Doug Clark and the Hot Nuts.

Oops! Sorry!

Somehow the Sentinel failed to include the name of one of the college's main administrators, Mr. Toney W. Bryant, in listing the administrative staff in the last issue.

Mr. Bryant is Controller and will direct the overall business operation of the college. He was formally Accountant at the Georgia Institute of Technology and is an active native of Marietta.

Who's Whoo Among KJC Students

While Dave Campbell appears to be a normal, everyday college student when one first sees him, the fact that he is more than just a college student becomes obvious when any conversation with him has been completed.

Dave was born in Charleston, South Carolina, and he spent five and one-half years in Southern California. He graduated from Santa Monica High School in 1964 and attended Santa Monica City College for one semester. Dave came to Atlanta in 1965 and attended DeKalb College for one year before transferring to Kennesaw.

As the new Managing Editor of the Sentinel, Dave is carrying on with the work in journalism which he started while he was working on the staff of the "Open Door," the DeKalb College newspaper. Dave was also active on the staff of the "Baron," the DeKalb College an-

While in high school, Dave became interested in the guitar and in folk music, an interest which has carried through to the present time. Two years ago, when Dave decided to come to the East Coast, he helped pay his way across the United States by singing in coffee houses in Las Cruces, New Mexico, Houston, Texas, and Charleston, South Carolina. He has performed in several clubs in the Atlanta area, and is now appearing at The Studio, a new coffee house in the Atlanta area.

it "just for kicks." Aside from folk music, Dave's interests include women, surfing, and motorcycles.

Although he is as yet undecided as to which college he will attend after graduation from Kennesaw, Dave says that he definitely plans to attend a senior college and major in psychology with the aim of obtaining a post as a college professor.

When asked about his opinions on Atlanta and Kennesaw College, Dave stated that he enjoyed Georgia and that Atlanta was by far one of the friendliest cities that he has been in. He is also greatly impressed with the academic freedom at Kennesaw and the greater amount of responsibility which is given to the student as opposed to other junior colleges.

We Apologize

THE SENTINEL wishes to make apologies concerning the last issue.

In the article on the faculty, the name of Miss Kay Chaney, was omitted.

Miss Chaney received her BA degree from Alabama State College and her MA from the University of Iowa.

She is a physical education instructor here at Kennesaw Junior College.

Who's Whoo On KJC Faculty

Dr. Mark E. Meadows of Kennesaw Junior College has dedicated his time and energy to help college students in search of counseling. His job as Dean of Students is not only an occupation, but to him it is a lifetime vocation. He finds a deep satisfaction in helping young people to help themselves.

Before coming to Kennesaw this year, Dr. Meadows was Associate Director of Guidance at Georgia Tech in Atlanta. He received his B.S. from Georgia Southern College in 1957, his M.A. from George Peabody in 1960, and his Ed. D. from the University of Georgia in June of this year. Since 1961 he has served as Consultant for the Career Clinics at Emory University; he also has been Consultant for the College Guidance Clinic at Pace Academy in 1964.

Dr. Meadows presently resides in Atlanta with his wife, Lois, and his two children Lynn, nine years old and Timothy, seven.

In November of this year, Dr. Meadows will speak in New Orleans to the Southern College Personnel Association. His topic will be derived from the theme of his doctoral dissertation.

As Dean of Students, Dr. Meadows organizes and coordinates activities which Kennesaw Junior College offers its students. His office is located in Banberry Elementary School and is open to students during the day. Any student seeking counseling is welcome to come confer with Dr. Meadows at anytime.

Currently Dr. Meadows is constructing a temporary constitution for the Student Government Organization. It will serve as the basis for the organization until K.J.C. moves to its own location.

The Sentinel is very fortunate to have Dr. Meadows as "a friend and fellow traveler along the road to success." He greatly adds to the spirit of work with his wonderful personality and inspirational guidance.

Kennesaw students are very privileged to have Dr. Meadows as their counselor and friend. Such a man as dedicated as he is not easily found.

Baptist Student Convention

The annual session of the Georgia Baptist Student Convention with students from more than 43 Georgia Colleges attending, will be held October 28, 29, and 30 at Rock Eagle 4-H camp, Eatonton, Georgia. Students, faculty members, pastors, ministers of education and youth, and Young People's leaders in Sunday School and Training Union will attend seminars given by various Baptist leaders.

The registration fee is 50c. Meals and housing are available from the 4-H Club camp at $11.00 per person package deal for entire convention. Cards for registration have been sent to the Baptist Student Union presidents and are also available from the State Office. Each student should give his money and card to the Baptist Student Union president who will transmit all of them together to the state office.

Kennesaw Junior College will be represented by the president of the newly organized Baptist Student Union, Chip Souther, and by the vice-president, Joel Daniels. Many Southern Tech students also are expected to attend the convention.

The theme of the convention is "Learn of Me" from Matthew 11: 28-30. William W. Lancaster, pastor of the First Baptist Church, Decatur, will bring inspirational messages and lead discussion groups. Mr. Lancaster is known throughout the state of Georgia as one of the great ministers of the gospel of Jesus Christ. In addition to Mr. Lancaster, there will be Mr. W. F. Howard, Director of the Division of Student Work of

Developmental Programs Help Students

As a part of its efforts to serve the entire community, Kennesaw Junior College has initiated this quarter a developmental non-credit program aimed at creating educational opportunities beyond those of high school.

All of the students involved in the program are block programmed for certain non-credit courses such as Math 020, English 020, and Developmental Psychology 020. The grades given in all these courses are simply U (unsatisfactory), or S (satisfactory).

Miss Roberts is a former student of Shorter College where she was a member of the Baptist Student Union.

Business matters of great interest to all Baptist Student Union members will include the 1967 Summer Mission Committee Report and the International Student Conference.

Of interest to all members will be the presence of students who participated in the summer missionary program in Costa Rica, Taiwan, and Germany. They will tell of their most exciting adventures this summer doing God's work in the missions.

The convention will try to impress on college students the responsibility of a Christian on campus.

Dr. Carrol Martin, Director of Guidance and Testing, is in charge of the program with the help of Mrs. Inez Morgan, Psychology; Professor Morgan Stapleton, mathematics; and Mrs. Mary Swain, English. The instructors involved in developmental programs are all volunteers, selected and interviewed before assignment.

Smoking Rules Clarified

By John Hoffman

Many Kennesaw Junior College students have asked what the smoking regulations are on the Southern Tech campus and if it is permissible to smoke in classrooms.

Southern Tech's policy does not permit smoking in classrooms. However, smoking in other areas is allowed. The reasons for this ruling are that insurance rates are quite reduced with this policy and that smoking may be detrimental to classroom study and instruction. The same policy holds true at Marietta Place.

Dean Meadows commented when asked about the smoking policy for Kennesaw Junior College students when they are on their new campus this winter that there are as yet "no specific rules for the Kennesaw campus." He mentioned that rules would likely be similar to the ruling at Southern Tech.

The Dean said that this was, in comparison to high schools and some other colleges, a fair and liberal ruling.

Dear Students and Parents:

We are highly honored to have been selected as the carrier of your "STUDENT PROTECTION POLICY", which we are making available to the students of the Kennesaw Junior College.

Your Administration has approved the kind of life insurance program we have found that a college student needs. Soon, you will be receiving a brochure explaining its benefits.

We are very happy to see the "University System" grow as evidenced by Kennesaw Junior College and are proud to be a part of that program.

Very truly yours,
John L. Nau, Jr.
