EMILY CARTEE receives education award.

Awards Presented To Outstanding Students

Two awards were presented to outstanding students at Kennesaw Junior College this week. These awards were in the fields of mathematics and of elementary education.

Mu Alpha Theta presented a Math Award at the faculty meeting on Tuesday, May 28. Requirements for the candidates for the award were a 3.5 average in all math courses taken, a 3.0 overall average, two courses in math, and the student must be a graduating sophomore. The transcripts of all the eligible students were sent around campus to the six math teachers, and they voted on the student whom they wanted to receive the Math Award. Mrs. May, the sponsor of Mu Alpha Theta, presented the award to Larry Adams.

College Gets Television Set

The 1967-68 Student Government Senate at Kennesaw Junior College has succeeded in proposing an excellent addition to our campus: The Student Services Building will house a color television set in the fall.

Mr. Marc Adams, procurement officer for the college, is presently investigating the methods involved in purchasing the set.

After recommendations have been received from the purchasing agent, Mr. Adams will propose the suggestions to the Student Government Association which will then select the style and make of television set it desires.

Current plans are for a big screen, portable, color television set which will be placed in the lounge area adjacent to the private dining room in the Student Services Building.

An award was also presented to a sophomore, Miss Emily Cartee who is majoring in Elementary Education. This award was a cash savings bond and a citation.

The Town and Country Junior Women's Club will sponsor this award each year. The recipient must have at least a 3.0 grade point average and must have been a student at Kennesaw Junior College for at least one year.

Georgia College Council Approved By Regents

An advisory committee of student body presidents throughout the University System of Georgia has been established by the Board of Regents. This committee is called the University System Student Council.

Bob Myatt, past president of the Kennesaw Junior College S. G. A., attended the first meeting of this committee which was held in March of this year. Bill Berry now holds the seat in the council.

A meeting was held on Tuesday, May 21. The purpose of this meeting was to elect officers for the council. John Bell from Augusta State College was elected chairman of the council and Carrey Brown was elected vice-chairman.

The council discussed the merits of a uniform grading system for the University System of Georgia. The council recommended a 4.5 system instead of the 4.0 scale.

The council also discussed activist groups on campuses and solutions to the problem which they present. The problem of students drinking alcoholic beverages was also discussed.

Commencement exercises for KJC's graduating sophomores will be held on Friday, June 7, at 8 P. M. in the Physical Education Building. Dr. S. Walter Martin will give the address.

On the platform with the speaker will be Reverend Juel Sealey, who will give the invocation and the benediction, Dr. Sturgis, who will introduce Dr. Martin

Our guest speaker is the author of Florida During the Territorial Days, published in 1946, Florida Flager, published in 1949, and a dozen articles in historical journals. He is a member of Phi Beta Kappa (Scholastic), Phi Kappa Phi (Scholastic), and Pi Kappa Phi (Social). He is Past-Chairman of the Conference of Academic Deans of Southern States, Past-President of the Georgia Association of Colleges, Past-Secretary of the Council of Southern Universities, and a former member of the Commission on College Finance of the Association of American Colleges. He is a member of the First Methodist Church in Valdosta, Georgia, where he teaches an adult Sunday School class. Furman University. He earned his M. A. in history at the University of Georgia and his Ph.D. in history at the University of North Carolina.

From 1932 until 1935 Dr. Martin held a position in the History Department at Palatka and confer the degrees, Mr. Ingle, who will announce the graduates, Dr. Roberts, and Mr. Rogers.

Mrs. Schantz, music teacher at KJC, will play an organ selection, in addition to the postlude and the prelude.

Faculty and graduates will sit in reserved sections of the gym.

Immediately following the commencement exercises there will be a reception given by Dr. and Mrs. Sturgis in honor of the graduating class. It will be held in the Student Services Building. Dr. Martin and his wife will stand in the receiving line with Dr. and Mrs. Sturgis.

Dr. Martin graduated from Tifton High School in Tifton, Georgia and received his A. B. from (Florida) High School. From 1935 until 1957 he was first an Instructor of History, then Assistant Professor, then Associate Professor, and finally Professor of History at the University of Georgia. Also during this period of time, Dr. Martin was Acting Head of the History Department, 1943-1945; Assistant Dean of Faculties, 1945-1947; and Dean of the College of Arts and Sciences, 1949-1957. In 1957 he became President of Emory University, where he remained until he became Vice-Chancellor of the University System of Georgia in 1962. He held this position until 1966 and was Acting Chancellor for 1964-1965. In 1966 Dr. Martin became President of Valdosta State College.

Dean Meadows Transfers To Virginia University

Doctor Mark E. Meadows, Dean of Student Affairs, will be leaving K.J.C. to accept the position of Director of Counseling Services and Associate Professor at Virginia Commonwealth University, Richmond, Virginia. Virginia Commonwealth University has recently been formed by the state legislature by merging two colleges - Richmond Professional Institute and the Medical College of Virginia - and will have an enrollment of 11,500.

In his new position Dr. Meadows will be directing the Counseling Center, and he will be teaching one course per semester in counseling. He will assume his new duties July 1.

Dean Meadows, who has been with K.J.C. since its opening, pointed out what a pleasure it has been for him to be involved in the developing stages of K.J.C., but says one of the biggest pleasures has been working with the K.J.C. students in the various student associations. "It's this association with the students that I will miss the most," he said.

He also emphasized the admiration and respect he has for the administration and teaching staff at K.J.C. and feels they have been largely responsible for the fine start during the first two years.

"Though I know I shall miss my association with K.J.C. my new position will be mostly concerned with dealing with students on an individual basis in a counselling relationship, rather than on an administrative basis, and this is more in line with my previous experience and training," Dean Meadows commented.

Dr. Meadows' wife, Lois, and his two children, Lynn, ten, and Timothy, nine, will accompany him to Virginia.

KJC Day a complete success

The newly elected officers of the Kennesaw Junior College Student Government Association for 1968-69 and the planning committees for KJC Day are to be commended for a most successful and fun-filled day on Friday, May 24th.

The afternoon, beginning with a free lunch, was very entertaining. A band, The Sounds of Soul, from Dalton presented music during lunch. Members of the Cavalcades also contributed to the entertainment. During the lunch hour, trophies and honors were presented to last year's student government officers and to the most outstanding athletes at the college.

The afternoon was filled with even more excitement. Faculty, riding in the Sturge-mobile, and other students riding in their own Volkswagen had a race. Egg tosses, three-legged races, and watermelon eating contests provided afternoon activities. The dance, featuring the Cloud Nine, ended a day of fun.

Thank you student government officers and KJC planning committees for a job well done.

McCarthy thanks supporters

McCARTHY FOR PRESIDENT
National Headquarters
815 17th Street, Northwest
Washington, D.C. 20006

Dear Editor,

I am writing to you in the hope that you will communicate my appreciation to the students on your campus for their CHOICE 68 votes.

Not only because my candidacy was favored in the balloting am I grateful. More significant than the success or the losses of individual candidates in CHOICE 68 is the participation by one million students on some 1200 campuses in the political process. Student opinions, debated and expressed democratically, will influence elections throughout our nation.

CHOICE 68 opinions on military action, bombing and the urban situation have been forwarded to me. I note that 55.4 percent of my student supporters favor a reduction of military action in Vietnam and 29.1 percent are for withdrawal. Among students for me, 51.2 percent would stop the bombing and 28.4 percent prefer temporary suspension. I can assure you I shall keep these views in mind as I try to develop intelligent responses to changing international relations.

The emphasis of students for McCarthy on education and job training in our urban reconciliation efforts is reassuring to me in a very personal way. Let us remain together, and I am confident that our common cause can change the direction of our country.

With best wishes,

Sincerely yours,

Eugene J. McCarthy

Protests continue on Georgia campuses

At a recent meeting of the Georgia College Press Association in Callaway Gardens, Georgia, the subject under discussion was the question of student uprisings on campuses throughout the state of Georgia. Student leaders compared the methods which are being used to examine the capability and sincerity of the administration of each school.

Currently, the problem at Georgia State revolves around a movement to abolish compulsory ROTC. This debate has reached such a peak among students that over 900 signatures have been received on a petition proposing that the ROTC program be made voluntary.

The University of Georgia's student body has decided that unnecessary rules concerning curfews and off-campus housing should be re-evaluated by the administration and made more tolerable for all students involved. These rules have received such criticism and debate that classes are being interrupted and campus routine is in danger of being overthrown.

One common problem goes jointly at both Georgia Tech and Atlanta University. Students at these institutions are demanding more direct involvement in the life of the slums and more teaching of "black culture" in the curriculum.

Perhaps the biggest problems, however, lie on the campus at Emory University.

Here one question concerns the fraternity system. Certain student factions are engaged in reforming the present system to omit many of the long-established traditions of the fraternities concerning the acceptance or rejection of a pledge. The present policy bars a student from the fraternity if he is blackballed by a single vote of rejection. This proposal has met with the approval of the student government at Emory but, as yet, the administration has failed to act.

Another problem at Emory is alumni. The Emory WHEEL, a campus publication, recently reported that Frank Mikell, recently elected president of Sigma Chi, has been forced to resign because he was a member of a study committee which approved the report calling for change in the fraternity system. It is believed by many concerned that alumni forced this resignation.

Of course, these problems presented here are not the total of the unrest which is seen at our campuses. However, these examples do present one astounding fact: students throughout the state are desiring to get at the roots of the problems at their schools and are trying to get something done about solving them. Emory University itself reflects the changing mood of the students toward immediate reform. As the Emory WHEEL has stated, "From active involvement in supporting civil rights and the advancement of human relations, to the problems of urban living and employment, the awareness of students is gaining depth."

Students react to moral dilemma

The world in which we live today is plagued with problems of war, poverty, disease, famine, and many other things which threaten the very existence of mankind. Even in the fields of technological advancement, scientists are continually weighing the effects of their discoveries against its relationship to the balance of power among nations in the world. Chemists and nuclear physicists in particular are constantly aware of this fact in their search for new discoveries in nuclear science.

Recently, the study of nuclear chemistry at Kennesaw Junior College raised the following questions: Would you have advocated or condemned the use of the atomic bomb in Japan during World War II? What would your position have been if you had been a scientist in that era?

Varied responses to these questions came from some of the chemistry students on campus. The following remarks express their opinions:

"I think we were justified in our action against Japan. The bomb may have killed a number of innocent people when it was dropped, but if we had not used it there might have been more people killed by continuing the fight with hand weapons."

"I think the scientist's responsibility lies not only with his science but that as man becomes more knowledgeable about his universe he cannot help but stand in awe of the Creator of such an intricate system. Whether a person believes in God or not, he must somehow think beyond the limits of just science and temper his decisions by love of his fellow man."

"A scientist's responsibility to his own country in a situation such as this lies in sort of a 'balance' situation. The two sides of his balance should be the horror of killing so many innocent people all at once and also the number of American soldiers who would have been killed in an invasion with full knowledge that Japan was heavily fortified."

"In my opinion a scientist's responsibility to humanity is to save mankind from any undesirable thing in life that he can. A scientist's duty is to preserve and not to destroy."

"I can understand why the bombing of the two cities in Japan was necessary during World War II, but I can also see that today such actions would probably lead to the destruction of mankind. Man feels he must have power now to protect himself and his search will not cease until he is destroyed."

"It seems as if a country must be at war to make scientific advancements and then, however, peaceful applications branch off at a later time."

"I do not believe that scientists are morally responsible for the misuse by humanity of their discoveries. I do believe, however, that they are responsible to further all knowledge in any way that they can."

"I also believe a scientist should devote his energies to peaceful investigations, but if the lives of many can be saved through the loss of some then I believe this is right. Well, not right, but better."

As man's knowledge increases, the question of morality will inevitably arise. You may find yourself one day in the position of those scientists who had to recommend the use of the atomic bomb. What will your decision be?

Students use suggestion boxes for pranks

The newly elected student government officers at Kennesaw Junior College have been working diligently to begin their plans for the 1968-69 college year. Among their plans is an increase in better communications between the S.G.A. and the student body. However, certain factors hinder this effort. The following is an example of the expressed opinions of the student body found throughout the campus in the S.G.A. suggestion boxes:

"I think we at Kennesaw Junior College should start a Science Research and Activities Program and for the first project we should launch the flagpole."

"I think we at Kennesaw should start a Science Research and Activities Program and for the first program we should test a nuclear weapon using the Cobb County Induction Center as ground zero."

"I think we at Kennesaw Junior College should adopt Kennesaw Mountain as our school symbol and move it to the center of the campus."

"Keep a pad by your boxes to write suggestions on. Who carries paper?" (This suggestion was written on a napkin.)

"I think we at Kennesaw Junior College should organize a Young Americans League and machine gun all Communists, Nazis, and other radicals like that."

"Replace some of the oatmeal in the hamburgers with MEAT."

"The teachers should cooperate with cultural events by not scheduling a test for the morning after."

THE THREE-LEGGED race provided action on KJC Day.

STUDENTS DANCED to the music of the "Sounds of Soul".

Mrs. Linda May, Sharon Kent, and Mary Smith were only three of the many brave participants in the messy egg toss contest.

FACULTY MEMBERS crammed into the Sturge-mobile for the Volkswagon race.

THE PHANTOM revealed itself and showed its appreciation to Burns Security Guards.

B.S.U. begins prayer partnership program in Vietnam

A group of Kennesaw Junior College Baptist Student Union members along with their advisor and his wife, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Dobson, attended the Bill Glass Cobb County Crusade for Christ.

After the service the students had a hamburger cookout. Plans were discussed concerning a prayer partnership program for Vietnam.

At the B.S.U. meeting on Thursday, May 16, further plans were made. Mrs. Charlotte Landrum was appointed chairman of the program.

"I would prefer girls to write to me. I'll send a flick and I request that they do the same. "I thank you and yours again for your interest and care for us.

Yours sincerely,
Lee

Robert Myatt wins office

On May 17 and 18, the Georgia College Press Association held its annual convention at Callaway Gardens. Those attending the convention from the Kennesaw Junior College Sentinel were Louise Bishop, Claire Beale, Bob Myatt, Jim Cahill, Richard Wheeler, Jackie Hudson, Sharon Kent, Chad Keith, and Mr. and Mrs. Morgan L. Stapleton.

Bob Myatt was elected to the office of Treasurer of the Georgia College Press Association on Saturday. Bob is a sophomore at Kennesaw Junior College and will attend the University of Georgia next year.

Nick Ordway from Emory University was elected President of the G.C.P.A. at the convention.

After registration Friday afternoon, the convention began with the president's reception during which Richard Binkney of Oglethorpe University, president of the 1967-68 G.C.P.A., welcomed all delegates and outlined the convention activities. The reception was followed by a semi-formal dance in the ballroom of the Holiday Inn at Callaway Gardens.

The activities for Saturday were initiated by a business meeting at which proposals were presented to amend the G.C.P.A. constitution. Motions were also heard to formulate new committees necessary to the organization of the G.C.P.A.

A closed meeting was then held for the purpose of electing officers to the 1968-69 G.C.P.A. Two delegates represented each college. Members were also elected to the executive committee of the G.C.P.A.

Mrs. Landrum has corresponded with several chaplains and soldiers in Vietnam. An example of the response which she has received can be seen in the following letter:

"Dear Mrs. Landrum,

"I appreciate your letter and interest very much. I only wish more people felt like yourself. Maybe this war wouldn't be so hard to fight.

"I don't belong to any one church. I do believe in the Lord and in prayer.

"I'm not married and I'm 21. As for the desired partnership, well I'll just let things take their own course.

"P. S. I hope you didn't have much trouble reading my writing."

Some soldiers in Vietnam wish to write to individuals while others want to correspond with groups. Anyone interested in this project should contact Mrs. Landrum or a member of the B.S.U.

The organizational meeting for B.S.U. will be held on June 17 at 7:30 P.M.

Lucy Bird is the campus coed for June. Lucy is a sophomore at Kennesaw Junior College. Her major is education, and she is employed on campus in the admissions office. Prior to attending Kennesaw, Lucy lived in California for two years. Lucy is a graduate of Marietta High School. She attended Foot Hill College in California. Her hobbies include swimming, dancing, horseback riding and sewing. She also enjoys traveling which is evidenced by the fact that she recently made two trips to Hawaii and four trips to California.

Sports car club sponsors rally

The Kennesaw Junior College Sports Car Club will sponsor its first rally on Sunday, June 23. Registration will be held from 11:00 until 12:30. From 12:30 until 1:00, the technical inspection will take place. There will be a drivers meeting held at the same time.

The course will cover approximately fifty miles and will take about three hours to complete. Originating in the college parking lot, the rally will move over many Cobb County roads.

The field of competition will be divided into two classes. They are the equipped cars and the unequipped cars. The unequipped cars have only stop watches, paper, and pencil. Equipped cars may use computers and other special gauges. A navigator will be present along with the driver.

The entry fee for the rally will be $2.50. Students from KJC are all invited to enter the competition. Invitations to other colleges will be extended.

Jobs

Mr. Lawrence Howland has also announced that job applications are now being filled for positions in the Student Services Building for fall quarter. All interested students should contact Mr. Howland at the Campus Book Store office as soon as possible.

Library receives new books

As a result of students' requests, a new service, or category, of books, is available at the library. Called "popular books" this category is made up of both fiction and non-fiction, and is mainly recreational reading. A number of the books come off the "best seller" list. Mysteries are included.

According to Mrs. Giles, librarian, the books come from the American Lending Library. Although the service is just being set up, eventually it will contain one hundred and twenty books, which will be changed regularly.

Students are invited to submit requests for particular books. The books may be checked out for one week.

Gov. Nelson Rockefeller discusses political plans with newsmen at a news conference at the Regency-Hyatt House.

Rockefeller campaigns in Georgia

In a two-day visit to the state of Georgia, Gov. Nelson Rockefeller of New York, Republican presidential hopeful, spoke on his policies regarding war and riots in an attempt to gain the support of Republican delegates here.

On Thursday, May 23, Gov. Rockefeller spoke before a throng of students at Spelman College where he was received with both praise and contempt. One minor incident occurred on the campus when a group of young Negroes questioned the Republican about his racial beliefs. Although this heckling interrupted Gov. Rockefeller's address, he handled it with amazing tact and the Negroes quieted.

Subsequent to his address at Spelman, the presidential hopeful faced newsmen and the Georgia college press in a brief and informal news conference at the Regency-Hyatt House at which the Governor stated the purpose for his current travels throughout the nation. He stated that it was foremost in his political campaign to "impress on all Americans the importance of knowing all the candidates." When asked about the heckling at Spelman, Gov. Rockefeller said that this sort of thing is to be expected by anyone who is running for public office; however, he did feel that the disturbance came from tourists and not from students. One reporter asked if the heckling was the roughest that the Governor had faced. The Governor responded humorously by quipping, "Oh no, you haven't been in New York." The Governor also ventured to guess at the size of his support in the South by stating that he probably has more votes here than most people think.

Gov. Rockefeller ended his stay in Georgia with a rally at Emory University on Friday, May 24, where he again spoke on the urgency for all Americans to recognize the capabilities of all the political candidates.

KJC Circle K baseball team plays colleges

The Circle K Club of Kennesaw Junior College took to the ball diamonds at Piedmont Park on Sunday afternoon, May 19, to challenge the Circle K Clubs of Georgia Tech, DeKalb Junior College, and Gainesville Junior College for the inter-club softball championship. Emory University and Georgia State College were supposed to attend but were unable to come.

Several clubs did not have enough members to make up a team so they drafted the young ladies from the cheering section to man the field positions. The fields were very wet and muddy, but the teams survived without injuries.

Two diamonds were used in the game. The teams rotated until each team had played the other teams. Each of the games consisted of three innings.

To decide the overall champions, a total of scored runs for all the games played by each team was calculated. The DeKalb club won first place in the game. Kennesaw placed second because they defeated Georgia Tech and Gainesville Junior College.

An autographed softball was presented to the DeKalb Junior College Circle K Club by the Circle K Governor, Tommy Rymer.

P.E. department announces new policies for fall

The Physical Education Department at Kennesaw Junior College has announced the new policy for all freshmen who enroll for Fall Quarter, 1968.

To be eligible for a degree from KJC, a student must satisfactorily complete six hours of physical education courses. Previously, the choice of courses was left strictly to the student's discretion; however, the new policy will limit this choice to an extent.

The physical education program will be divided into five major areas from which the student may select one different course per credit hour. These groups will be aquatic sports, such as swimming and life saving; rhythm sports, such as folk dance and square dance; team sports, such as volleyball and softball; self-testing sports, such as weight lifting and tumbling; and individual sports, such as golf and tennis. The remaining one hour may be used as an elective in which the student may select any course that interests him from these five divisions.

This new program will be designed to provide the student with a more varied physical education background. It will begin Fall Quarter, 1968.

Library gets new equipment

A shipment of new, high quality musical equipment has recently been received by KJC and is now ready for student use. It is available in one of the library study rooms which has been converted to a music "listening" room. Equipped with five desks each fitted with earphones for listening, the music room also contains speakers, through which turntable or taped music can be played. Two students can be accommodated at each desk, and each desk contains a turntable. Three of the desks are also equipped with tape decks.

All of this equipment can also be played through the speakers in the listening room.

To use the equipment, all a student has to do is go by the desk and ask for the particular tape or record wanted, pick up a pair of earphones, and go into the listening room and "plug in".

In addition to this equipment there are several high-quality speakers in the seminar room through which an FM receiving turntable or tape deck can be played.

All of the equipment is stereo equipment.

Alton Jordon, winner of the trophy for the most outstanding male athlete on campus, bravely attempts to lift weights at a practice session in the gym.

Jordon and Kent win most valuable player sports awards

The 1967 - 68 most valuable player award winners were announced last week. Sharon Kent and Alton Jordon won these honors.

The trophy awarded to the outstanding female athlete for the women's intramural season was won by a girl outstanding in many fields. Sharon Kent, a 1967 graduate of McEachern High School, collected 117 points in intramural activities that included basketball, volleyball, softball, swiming badminton, table tennis, horse shoes, golf and tennis. The points are awarded each time a participant enters an event and additional points are awarded each time a participant wins or places second or third in an event. Sharon's high school record quickly explains why she was so outstanding this past intramural season. At McEachern, Sharon played varsity basketball for three years, co-captained her senior year, and was voted most athletic by her senior class.

Continuing her winning ways at KJC, Sharon co-captained the Eaglettes team that placed first in basketball, softball, swimming, and the indoor track meet.

In the individual events, Miss Kent again showed her dexterity by winning the horse shoes and badminton matches and by placing second in the free throw contest and the table tennis match.

Alton Jordon, captain of the Gorillas team, won the most valuable player award in men's intramurals.

Here at Kennesaw Junior College he is a member of the Circle K and has been very active in intramurals. He captured four first places in rope climbing, wrestling, weightlifting, and horse shoes. He also placed second in the cross country.

Alton plans to transfer to the University of Georgia next year.

Kamis captures golf championship at KJC

The men's intramural season was climaxed by a thrilling three-hole sudden death playoff in the golf tournament. Jim Kamis was the eventual winner, beating Bob Myatt and Chad Keith by a single stroke on the twelfth hole. All three golfers had a 9-hole total of 38, thereby necessitating the sudden death playoff.

In tennis, Bruce Giles won with set scores of 6-2 and 6-3. Alton Jordon, winner of the trophy for the most outstanding athlete, won the horse shoes contest beating Carl Hames by a single point.

The swim meet was won by Eddie Keith with Carl Hames again placing second.

Led by Sonny Flannagan, Mel Hafton, and Larry Adams, the Gamecocks captured the softball tournament with a 4-0 record. The Gamecocks, a team that had been strong all year by placing second in the volleyball tournament and third in the basketball tournament won the trophy for total team points.

Coach Norman, director of intramurals, said he felt that the intramural program was successful, but that a lack of student participation in most events subtracted from the enjoyment. It is hoped that next year, with better facilities and more organization, the participation will be greater.

Eaglettes win softball crown

A swinging Eaglettes powerhouse battered a spunky Aardvarks team in the playoff game of the softball competition. Captain Sheila Estes and the rest of her crew, Jodi Cannon, Linda Haynes, Cindy Attaway, and Sharon Kent kept up a continual barrage of hits and drove 25 runs across the plate.

In the first inning, the team ran neck in neck with 3 runs each, but the second inning score board registered 3 more runs for the Eaglettes, putting them ahead with a 6 to 3 margin.

The third inning will probably go down in the history of Kennesaw Junior College's softball matches. The Eaglettes burned the bat with 16 runs. This inning gave them a substantial lead over the Aardvarks who bravely attempted to hold the powerful Eaglettes team down.

The Eaglettes and the Aardvarks had previously been tied with 3 wins and 1 loss apiece which necessitated the playoff. With this victory, the Eaglettes captured the softball championship.

The Eaglettes also won first place in basketball and for team sports. In the individual events, the Eaglettes won first place in swimming and horse shoes.
