VIEWPOINT

Time To Say Goodbye

The end of the spring quarter traditionally is a time to say goodbye to many old and dear friends. People we have come to know and respect are leaving or we are leaving ourselves. I suggest that you take the time now to say goodbye. It really makes you feel better when you truly express your thoughts. One person leaving this summer is a dear friend to all that know him. Mr. Rich Hanners is moving to Athens, Georgia to teach and also to study for his doctorate. Take the time to say goodbye.

Open Letter

Regarding my last editorial subtitled Whitewash under my editorial column entitled VIEWPOINT, I have received many oral comments, both pro and con. I commend these people for discussing this issue. However, why don't these people write a Letter to the Editor? Is it not better to let many people hear your views instead of just a few? Are these people afraid of censorship? I seriously doubt this for many of the people so vocal on this issue are members of the faculty or administration! Moving on, I must admit that I took a rather radical stand. But after talking to many students about the content of the editorial, I discovered that my personal views fairly represented the common view of the day students. I realize that different people on this campus had different ideas to relate to the Board of Regents. However, do the ends justify the means? To end on a happy note (if I am wrong, let me know), I want to convey my thanks to the students, faculty members, and administrators that helped to convince the Board of Regents that we need a new Student Center. The Board voted to give KJC a new 40,000 square foot Student Center and to turn the present one into a Fine Arts Building.

Repression At GSU

During the past two weeks a clearcut wave of administration repression has been sweeping Georgia State University. Dean England, Dean of Student Affairs, has tried to purge two established student groups, WRAS-FM and THE SIGNAL. Dean England with the support of the Publications Board (of which the out-going SGA President is a key member) recently said that next year Allen Lipsett, Editor of THE SIGNAL, and Richard Belcher, General Manager of WRAS, will be replaced. The two he has named are commonly called the Dean's flunkey. This type of censorship has got to be stopped. For one thing Allen has turned THE SIGNAL from a high school type newspaper into a thriving expression of student views. Also since the conception of WRAS Richard has established WRAS as what they call themselves "the stereo odyssey." This type of repression has to be stopped. I therefore pledge my support to Allen Lipsett and Richard Belcher. Won't you do the same? Write Dean England, Dean of Student Affairs, Georgia State University, 33 Gilmer St., Atlanta, Georgia 30303.

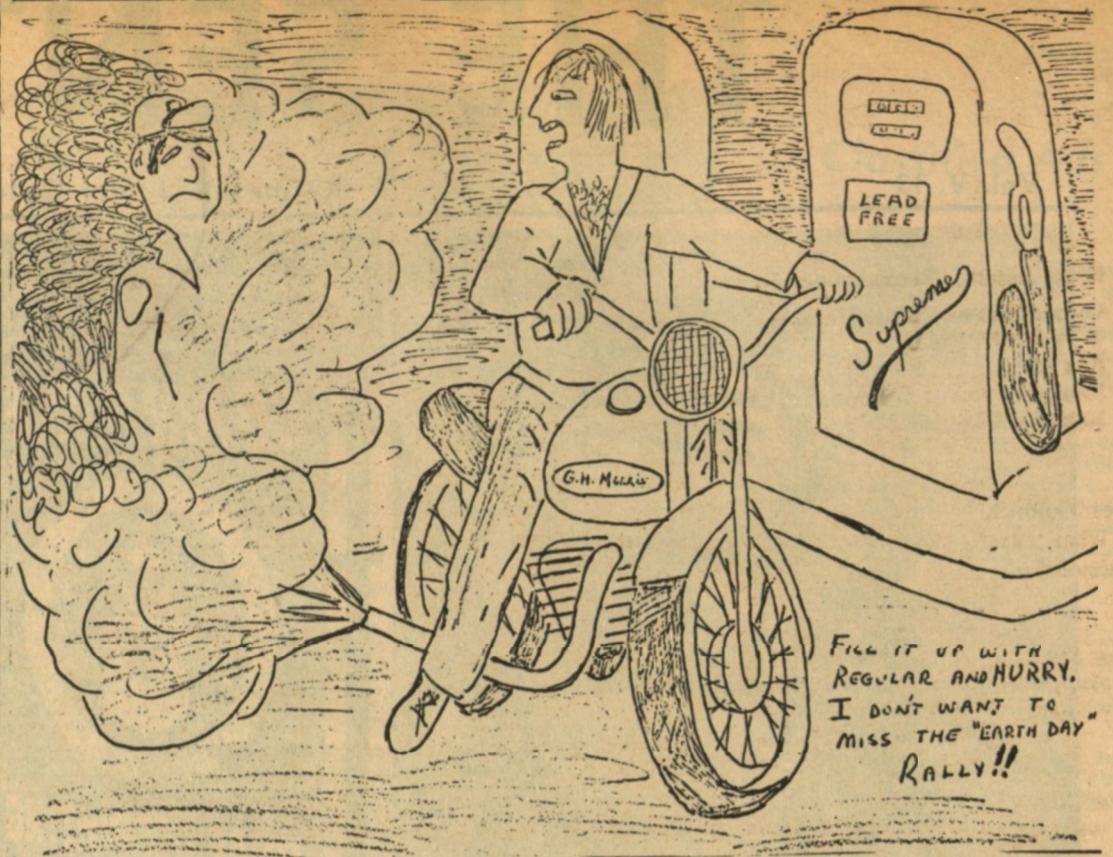

Perspective by Bud Wilson

Believe or not, the close of the academic year is approaching rapidly. Very shortly everyone will be in the middle of those nasty exams again. And then it will be all-over except the shouting at graduation on the eleventh of June. Many of KJC's finest will soon be departing; but have no fear. There will undoubtedly be more students present next fall than ever.

During this past year, student interest and involvement has been at an all-time high, according to Dr. Carol Martin, Dean of Student Affairs. I find it proper that some of the most outstanding student accomplishments be reflected upon one more time.

Perhaps the largest singular deed was the initiation of a Student Government Association under a constitution approved by students and ratified, at long last, by the faculty. President Newton has done a commendable job in attempting to represent the student body and causing both faculty and administration to "bend an ear". The SGA has been change in grade policy. Also, the SGA has been instrumental in expressing student unrest and discontent well short of any head-on confrontation with the administration.

The drama club, the Collegiate Civitan, the choral group and the photography club are also to be complimented for the fine job each has done in promoting student involvement. A few individuals have spent many long hours planning, coordinating, and promoting events such as the spring arts exhibit. It is organizations such as these which make campus life mean a little bit more than just going to a classroom three times a day, five days each week.

Conflict and the Ballot Box

By Bill Hogg

The traditional "rites of spring" of the young have become stylized beer riots in La Crosse, Wisconsin; beach riots at Virginia Beach; occupation of university buildings; disruption of classes; and more. Assassination and Counterassassination of college student leaders, as well as government officials, has long been a feature in many South American countries. It can happen here! We already have witnessed numerous bombings and burnings on several campuses. Just as strikes and purposeful property damage are filtering down through the high schools and grade schools, so the extreme forms of escalated violence can spread throughout the society if we are imprudent enough to let it do so. The power to direct and control these events lies more in the hands of the powerful than it does in the rallying cries and ambitions of the powerless.

These annual "rites of spring" as well as other issues of conflict, like the search for order and stability are inevitable in the social life cycle. When the priorities of one conflict are somehow terminated, others will rear their ugly heads and take the place of those fallen to become just as dangerous and insoluble as each predecessor was. For to live is to grow, to grow is to strive, to strive is to struggle. We must be sophisticated enough to understand the imperfect justice of all human relations; past, present, and future. It is the unfinished nature of our tasks generated by the dynamics of politics; that gives individual freedom its meaning. For justice is not to be had for any except those who shoulder the burden of political bargaining to give the stature it well deserves.

There has never been a time which was not extremely difficult and highly perplexing for most of the world's people. Today's problems always appear immense, while those that appeared the same way a year before are already forgotten. Is the prevalence of political confrontation a "sign of the times" or does its mark on the soul of America signify a cancer and the impending end? The answer to this question is a paradox: conflict is always present in human relations and constitutes a great force in keeping things loose, capable of adaptation and necessary adjustment, ready to endure other trouble-making generations. Political confrontation is and always will be "what societies do instead of committing suicide."

The answer to the conflict is in the power of the vote. It is in this single, significant, and most individualistic of acts that success in perpetuating the system of our choosing exists. The ballot is our safeguard that allows a democratic system to be seeded and nurtured to fruition. Only in death and transfiguration exists that hostile environment which cannot support the life and growth of Democracy.

"Right on brother"... to the ballot box.

Enough of the past. On to the future. A new academic year will soon begin, along with the summer quarter. As always, many of the old familiar faces will disappear. But, there will be new faces, new friends, new issues. Hopefully, student involvement will continue its upward trend, and next year will be even more eventful than the past one here in the Kennesaw pines.

Being as this is the final issue of THE SENTINEL, I would like to express my deep appreciation to all who have aided and contributed to the newspaper. I offer a special thanks to Mr. James Keith, who, as our advisor, has been most understanding, and who has stood behind us on countless occasions. Mr. Richard Hanners, thank you for "running interference" between the staff and the school administration. And finally, I thank all of the staff members for my opportunity to have known and worked with so many beautiful people.

Carter To Speak

(PIO)-Governor Jimmy Carter will deliver the commencement address at Kennesaw Junior College June 11 at 8 p.m. in the gymnasium.

Diplomas will be awarded to approximately 131 students, the largest number in the history of the five-year-old college.

The Rev. Nelson Price, pastor of Roswell Street Baptist Church, will give the invocation and benediction. Music will be furnished by the KJC Ensemble, under the direction of Carole Roach.

Gov. Carter, former state senator from Plains, became the state's chief executive in 1970. He has retained activities in the areas of business, farming and public service.

A Sunday School teacher and deacon in the Plains Baptist Church, Gov. Carter continues to operate his peanut and cotton warehouse in Plains. Carter is a past president of the Georgia Planning Association and an organizer and first chairman of the West Central Georgia Planning and Development Commission. He is former chairman of the Sumter County Board of Education.

During his two terms in the Georgia Senate, Carter served on the Education, Highways, Agriculture and Appropriations Committees. He was chairman of the University Committee, which is responsible for the operation of the University system.

The son of Mrs. Lillian Carter and the late State Representative Earl Carter, Gov. Carter is the descendent of seven generations of Georgians.

He studied at Georgia Tech and was graduated from the U. S. Naval Academy at Annapolis. After serving two years on battleships and five years in submarines, Carter received post graduate instruction in nuclear physics. He was a senior officer of the atomic submarine "Seawolf," prior to commissioning.

The Georgia Governor is married to the former Rosalynn Smith, also of Plains, and they have three sons and a daughter: Jack, Chip, Jeff and Amy.

Carter, who tags himself a political conservative, says he feels Georgia's future will be determined by leaders who believe in "self-reliance, local control and individual participation in government."

Gov. Carter will be introduced at the commencement exercises by Dr. Horace W. Sturgis, president of Kennesaw Junior College.

Total Involvement By Jack Long

How does one go about explaining an experience? Just how does one person relate to someone else something totally different than anything experienced before in one's lifetime? I have been told to use my senses. "Uh?" "You know, perception, emotions, you know." "Yea. Right, Sure." So here I am; sitting at my typewriter; trying to use my perceptive, emotional senses. I am trying to relate the new (to me) experience of the theater. More exact, I am trying to relate to you the experience of Shakespearean theater as performed by the Socc and Buskin Players May 21 and 22, 1971.

I entered the play totally apprehensive of everything from my own acting ability to how much time I would have to devote to the production. All my fears were justified. The play, just the experience of performing Shakespeare with such a group of people was worth the fears, the time devoted, the "butterfly" stomach, the minor conflicts between personalities, and the "blood, sweat, and tears." To meet so many people, so many just plain beautiful people, was worth anything I gave. The theater gave me so much, how much I just can't say, everything I gave was repaid more than thrice.

I could sit here at my typewriter and spiel off a hundred million billion adjectives such as: rampant, tame, invigorating, festive, sunny, fascinating, etc. But I am not going to describe the production of Macbeth this way. I am going to describe it with eight words; total involvement of the body, mind, and soul.

Photo Club

(PIO) -- An exhibit of 87 photographs, the work of eight Kennesaw Junior College students, is on display as part of Spring Festival activities on the KJC campus this week.

The first exhibit of the newly organized Photography Club, the display includes black and white and color prints covering a wide range of subjects from flowers to sports. It is in the downstairs hall of the Humanities Building and is open during regular college hours: 8 a.m. -- 10:30 p.m. Monday through Thursday, and 8 a.m. -- 5 p.m. Friday.

Photographers contributing to the exhibit are Rennie Austin, Smyrna; Tom Williams, Rome; Bill Engwer, Atlanta; David Russell and Carl Davis, Marietta; Ken Rose and Mike Ramplly, Dallas; and Bill Holt, Acworth.

Dr. John C. Greider, chairman, Division of Humanities, is advisor to the club.

Summer Classes

(PIO)--A program of developmental study, designed to bring the student up to college level work through remedial classes, will be included in the 46 courses to be offered this summer at Kennesaw Junior College.

The developmental curriculum will include classes in math, reading and planning. The latter course will include help with study skills, group discussions and research on vocational interests, and testing of abilities and interests.

Almost half of the summer courses will be offered at night. The 27 evening classes carry regular college credit and are taught by the same faculty members who teach day classes.

Registration for summer quarter will be June 21 from 9-11:30 a.m. and from 6-7:30 p.m. Classes will start June 22 and applications must be submitted by Friday, June 11

V.A. Help

VETS

The Veterans Administration recently reminded the GI Bill veteran students enrolled at your school that THEY HAVE THE RESPONSIBILITY of notifying the VA of their status and any changes.

A. W. Tate, Director, Veterans Administration Regional Office Atlanta, offered a few pointers:

1. FIRST-TIME GI Bill students should get their Certificate of Eligibility from the VA at least a month before registration.
2. CERTIFICATE OF ELIGIBILITY SHOULD BE GIVEN TO REGISTRAR'S OFFICE at time of registration. They will complete the reverse side and forward to VA.
3. Veterans RE-ENROLLING should make sure that the Registrar's Office forwards to VA-AS SOON AS POSSIBLE-his Certificate of Reenrollment, VA Form 21E-1999.
4. A CHANGE IN CREDIT HOURS means tha VA Form 21E-199b must be sent in by the Registrar immediately. Veteran should confirm that this is done.
5. A NEW WIFE OR BABY will affect the training allowance VA can pay. Report added dependents. Get VA Form 21-686c, Declaration as to Marital Status, from Registrar, local service organization representative, or VA office nearest you. Send this form in to your VA Regional Office WITH PROOF of the change, i. e., birth certificate, marriage certificate, divorce decree, death certificate, etc.
6. A CHANGE OF SCHOOL OR COURSE MUST BE REPORTED TO VA-get VA Form 21E-1995 in to VA well ahead of the actual change (VA may not be able to OK the change. Find out before switching.)
7. When VA writes anyone, there is a claim number shown on the letter-it is an 8-digit number with a "C" prefix. MEMORIZE THIS NUMBER.
8. Time is of essence-speed in doing these things will enable VA to pay you on time. It is the veteran's responsibility to see that these things are done.

Mr. Tate said the VA wants to get payments to everyone entitled-promptly-and if veteran students would follow these few pointers VA can do so. For further information veterans should contact the nearest VA office or their local service organization representative.

Our Extramural Tennis Team has been at it again by playing Brenau at Brenau in Gainesville. Our Girls again emerged victorious with Shelia Marlow defeating her opponent 6-4, 7-5, and Debbie Greene slaughtering her opposition 6-2, 6-3. Claudia Dodd lost in an extremely close match 4-6, 6-4, 4-6. There was no doubles competition due to an injury to one of the Brenau doubles team.

Congratulations on a fine year girls, and thanks for proving the size doesn't count.

Readers Theatre

On May 26 the Humanities Division sponsored a reading of SPOON RIVER ANTHOLOGY. The Drama Club of Dalton Junior College traveled to KJC and presented in the Seminar Room of the Library an excellent Readers Theatre.

The production was very interesting in that it was a multi-media presentation. The production included the use of music (piano) and two simultaneous slide shows along with the actual reading.

The production lasted one hour and twenty minutes and was attended by approximately sixty people including Dr. Sturgis. The Humanities Division is to be commended for bringing this excellent presentation to KJC.

Intramural Banquet

John Small, of the Atlanta Falcons football team, was guest speaker Friday, May 28, at the annual intramural awards banquet at Kennesaw Junior College.

The banquet was held in the student services building at 7:30 p. m. Awards were given to winners in individual and team sports.

S. F. Roach

S. Fred Roach, assistant professor of history at Kennesaw Junior College, will address the installation dinner of the Roswell Junior Chamber of Commerce Friday, June 5.

Roach, who currently is working on his dissertation for a doctorate from the University of Oklahoma, will speak on "Will Rogers and the American Dream."

SGA News

The spring Student Government Association elections have at last been completed. The process was somewhat lengthy this year as it included a run-off election for the office of president.

Bill Wright and Steve White ran against each other for president. In the eventual run-off election, Mr. White lost the race by a very narrow margin.

The new SGA offices, who will begin their administration during summer quarter, are:

- President-Bill Wright
- Vice President-John Collins
- Secretary-Sally Ruffin
- Treasurer-Dennis Keefe

The ten senators presently holding office will remain until fall quarter.

KJC Day

On May 20th, Kennesaw celebrated its official K.J.C. Day. It was a fantastic day, and the groups were just as great.

The WHAT BROTHERS (quite a drummer), ERIC QUINCEY TATE, and CHAKRAH provided entertainment during the daylight hours. Refreshments were provided at no charge.

A strange giant BALL attacked some of the students, but after a fierce battle with about fifteen people, it was driven off into the sunset.

Later that evening, a LUAU, complete with hamburgers, hot dogs, and other refreshments, took place. Students "parked" themselves all over the hill while a local folk group entertained. RODNEY MAY, a K.J.C. student, and an unidentified female vocalist sang various folk songs. This was followed up by some "strange" sounds from GREETINGS. After it was all over, students got together and picked up all the garbage, leaving the area in the same condition that it was in before the luau.

K. J. C. DAY was a smashing success, and with a little luck, we may re-live it again next year.
