TEN DOLLARS, PLEASE

The Student Activities Committee has released the budget of the Student Activities Fees for the current year. The budget is determined by the anticipated income from taxing each student $10 per quarter. This year the total expected revenue is $52,460.00.

All clubs and organizations are included in the budget. Most groups, however, did not receive the amounts they requested because of decreased enrollment. The proposed budget was recommended by the Dean of Student Affairs, reviewed by the Comptroller, and approved by the President of the college.

DEAN'S LIST

One sixth of Kennesaw's spring quarter enrollment has been named to the Dean's List, according to Dean Robert H. Ackerman.

To be eligible for the list, a student must have a cumulative grade point average of 3.0 or above and must have earned at least 15 hours in residence. Of the 1,272 spring quarter students, 211 achieved recognition on the Dean's List.

SPEAKER

Finally, something is going to happen on campus. Caroline Fowlkes of the Young Socialist Alliance will address KJC students and faculty on Tuesday, July 20, at 11:00 a.m.

Fowlkes is a National Committeewoman of the Alliance, and she is recognized as the founder of the Atlanta chapter. She has spoken at colleges throughout Georgia and the Southeast. After her speech in the Student Center, a question/answer period will be conducted.

The speaker is being co-sponsored by THE SENTINEL and the Kennesaw Forum. Admission will be free.

It is particularly recommended that students majoring in political science, pre-law, sociology, history, and education attend this event.

ART SHOW

On July 17 and 18 the Marietta Fine Arts Club is sponsoring an art show titled "Gypsies in the Park." The show will be held in Glover Park Square in Marietta. It will last from 9 a.m. till dusk. Several KJC students are entering paintings, photos, and ceramics. All KJC students and faculty are invited to attend.

BUST

Darrell was released on $1,500 bond after turning himself in to authorities. Police confiscated $100 worth of manicured weed along with 36 plants and a quality of amphetamines.

Darrell's most popular song was "The Green, Green Grass of Home."

ABOUT TIME

(Thursday, July 1, 1971)

Governor Jimmy Carter today made the following statement on billboards:

"Georgia was one of the earliest states to pass legislation to control outdoor advertising in February of 1964. This law was declared unconstitutional by the Georgia Supreme Court. New legislation was passed in 1967. In addition we are now threatened with the loss of federal funds for failure to comply with the Highway Beautification Act of 1965.

"Highway Director Bert Lance and I, as Governor, are required to enforce the present law pending the result of all court cases and our discussions with the Federal Highway Administration. Some parts of the outdoor advertising industry have been eager to cooperate and to comply with our law -- others have not. Any of you who have driven along our interstates have seen that billboards are springing up like weeds. At this point we do not even know how many are in violation, but we can expect that the number will be substantial. Under Georgia law we are required to notify owners and landowners of an illegal billboard. If they have not removed the billboard within 30 days, then the State can take it down. Each individual being notified who has a billboard without a Highway permit is subject to criminal penalty of $1,000 per day fine and 12 months imprisonment. I would certainly hope that we would not have to get into the business of chopping down billboards and we will not if reasonable cooperation and compliance with the law is forthcoming. But the legal authority is there if we need it."

FEATURES

HELP FOR THE HANDICAPPED by Harry Whitehead

An administration official announced tentative plans for the construction of an elevator or a ramp to alleviate the problem of climbing steps for handicapped students. Speaking for the administration, Mr. Roger Hopkins, comptroller, introduced first the idea of an elevator to be located near the steps at the right side of the Humanities Building. If this is not feasible, an alternative would be the construction of ramps where presently a drain is located. Either would allow handicapped students to enter the Humanities Building without assistance.

The ramp or elevator should be completed by the start of the 1971 fall quarter. However, a temporary ramp will be placed at the steps directly in front of the Library until the permanent structure is completed.

MCLUHANISMS GALORE

Major and minor McLuhanisms -- vibrant, challenging and brilliant one and all -- come to light under the title, The Interior Landscape, a compilation of literary essays written by Marshall McLuhan and published today in paperback by McGraw-Hill ($2.95).

The editor of this 231-page book, Eugene McNamara, is Professor of English and Head of the Department of English at the University of Windsor, Ontario. The literary criticism he presents is culled from sources widely scattered in time and space.

"What is revealed in these essays," McNamara notes, "is a widening concern for a larger context for literature than that afforded by conventional textual criticism. Professor McLuhan's early writings exhibit the kind of closeness that a concentration on a work of art to the exclusion of the world outside can afford. But there is, as well, a faintly implied tone of moral disapproval for the world in these early essays."

McLuhan's admirers will rejoice at the treat in store for them, as indicated by the following random sampling of the book's contents: "James Joyce: Trivial and Quadrivial;" "The Analogical Mirrors;" "Wyndham Lewis: His Theory of Art and Communication;" "Tennyson and Picturesque Poetry;" "The Southern Quality;" "Edgar Poe's Tradition;" "An Ancient Quarrel in Modern America."

Marshall McLuhan has taught at numerous colleges and universities in Canada and the United States and is, at present, the Director of the Centre for Culture and Technology at the University of Toronto. Among his most famous books are Understanding Media, The Mechanical Bride, and The Gutenberg Galaxy.

GLASS

Take your glass bottles to the Laundromat at 979 Peachtree. They will take them to be recycled and make a few pennies. It's a good way to support your local crafts cooperative! Otherwise you can take your bottles to the Coca Cola Bottling Co. at 864 Spring St. They pay one cent a pound or $20 a ton. The glass must be sorted into brown, green or clear and can be broken or unbroken. Any reasonably clean glass will be taken even with labels with the exception of window glass, car windshields or lightbulbs. Three cents is given for returnable bottles such as Coca Cola, Dr. Pepper, 7-Up and NuGrape. The receiving hours are 8:30 to 3:30 Monday through Saturday.

PAPER

Atlanta Waste Paper Company pays 70¢ per 100 pounds for news--paper or $14 per ton if the paper is delivered to 346 John St. NW, from 8 am to 4 pm Monday through Friday or you can bring your newspapers to Georgia Paper Stock Co. at 229 Grant St. SE from 8:30 am to 4 pm weekdays and 8:30 to 11 am on Saturday. They pay 60¢ per 100 pounds for newspapers.

ALUMINUM

Reynolds Aluminum will take aluminum containers. They pay 1/2¢ a can, 10¢ a pound or $200 a ton. Be sure that they are aluminum. You can tell because the cans have no side seams and are non-magnetic. Many meat products, tv trays, pie pans, margarine tubs, frozen food containers, pudding containers and snack-paks are aluminum. You can bring them to 1441 Ellsworth Dr. NW on weekdays between 8:30 and 12 am and 1 and 5 pm.

EDITORIALS

(Editor's note:

In the last issue of THE SENTINEL, there appeared a letter signed by David M. Jones, Assistant Professor of English. In Mr. Jones' letter he attacked an editorial written by Jack Long and printed in the May 17, 1971, edition. Because Mr. Long was not on hand to defend himself, I made a short general reply to Mr. Jones, but reserved more specific rebuttal for the writer of the editorial. Below Mr. Long answers the attacks made by Mr. Jones.

Also appearing below is an additional letter from Mr. Jones in which he remarks on the editor's reply to his original correspondence. Spread the word, brother.)

Editor
THE SENTINEL
July 6, 1971

Dear Mr. Editor:

This letter is in response to Mr. David Jones' letter published in the July 2, issue concerning my editorial entitled "White Wash" which was published in the Spring Quarter. Before I begin my rebuttal, I want to thank Mr. Jones for the compliment he paid me. I am glad that it was MY editorial that caused such a literary outpouring from a faculty member of KJC.

Mr. Jones asks: "I wonder if the writer knows what crystal and linen really are!" Yes, I know what they are. Webster defines crystal as: "Glass of superior brilliancy, made into articles for the table." Webster also defines linen as "Clothing as shirts and collars, or house furnishings as sheets and tablecloths....." I did see crystal and linen on the tables.

The paragraph in which the writer states . . . "that it seldom pays 'to bite the hand that feeds you. . .'" reeks of repression and censorship. He asks me to . . . remember that. . .it may even slap back. . .It may punch. . .as to loosen. . .teeth. . ." Am I to remember the recent (December of 1970) repression of the University of Georgia's Red and Black concerning the publication of an ad for an abortion referral service? Maybe the author should reread the first amendment to the U.S. Constitution.

Mr. Jones then states ". . .if we had had a faculty dining room. . .we would have. . .served them there. . . ." First, the faculty had a faculty dining room at one time, but because of its lack of use it was given to another campus organization. Secondly, I would advise Mr. Jones to inquire into the Private Dining Room.

Mr. Jones says that he ". . . might require the kids. . ." Does he mean to compare the students of KJC to his children? If he has been keeping up with current events, he would know that 18 years olds have been voting in Georgia for thirty years, that just recently the twenty-sixth amendment was ratified, and that 18 year olds have been dying in the armed services of this country for many years. Also the Administration of KJC states that the median age of the students is 22.

The writer of the letter states that "there was certainly no 'white wash' intended." By whom? By Mr. Jones, or the three divisoons, or the administration, or the KJC Owl?

In the final paragraph Mr. Jones warns us (the "radical", undemocratic", "irresponsible" students) to "beware the silent majority!" One word of warning, Sir: The bulk of German Citizens during Hitler's rise to power in pre-WWII Germany were in the silent majority.

Peace,,
Jack Long

Editor
THE SENTINEL
July 7, 1971

Dear Sir:

In reply to your reply to my letter of May 26 I feel compelled to make the following observations:

1. I have never claimed to be "a silent Professor of English." That term, indeed, was used nowhere in my letter. With regard to all areas normally understood to be associated with the discipline of English, I am anything but silent! In referring to myself as a member of the "silent majority" I was referring to my previous long-suffering silence with regard to the frequent inanities of your publication.
2. I have never believed that my personal opinions reflect "a consensus of the diverse individuals who populate this campus at any one given moment." I do not believe that my opinions represent any more of a consensus than do those opinions expressed on the editorial pages of THE SENTINEL. And they are opinions; therefore I assume that the very apt analogy which you drew in your reply of July 2 applies to them as well.
3. I do not accuse you of denying the publication of any student work because of differing points of view. I simply lament the fact that so few of the students who disagree with opinions expressed in THE SENTINEL have taken the advantage of the opportunity to express their views to you. Perhaps this exchange will encourage some of them to do so.

Sincerely,
David M. Jones
Assistant Professor

VIEWPOINT: NOW IS THE SEASON
by Jack Long

"For everything there is a season, and a time for every matter under heaven: a time to break down, and a time to build up."

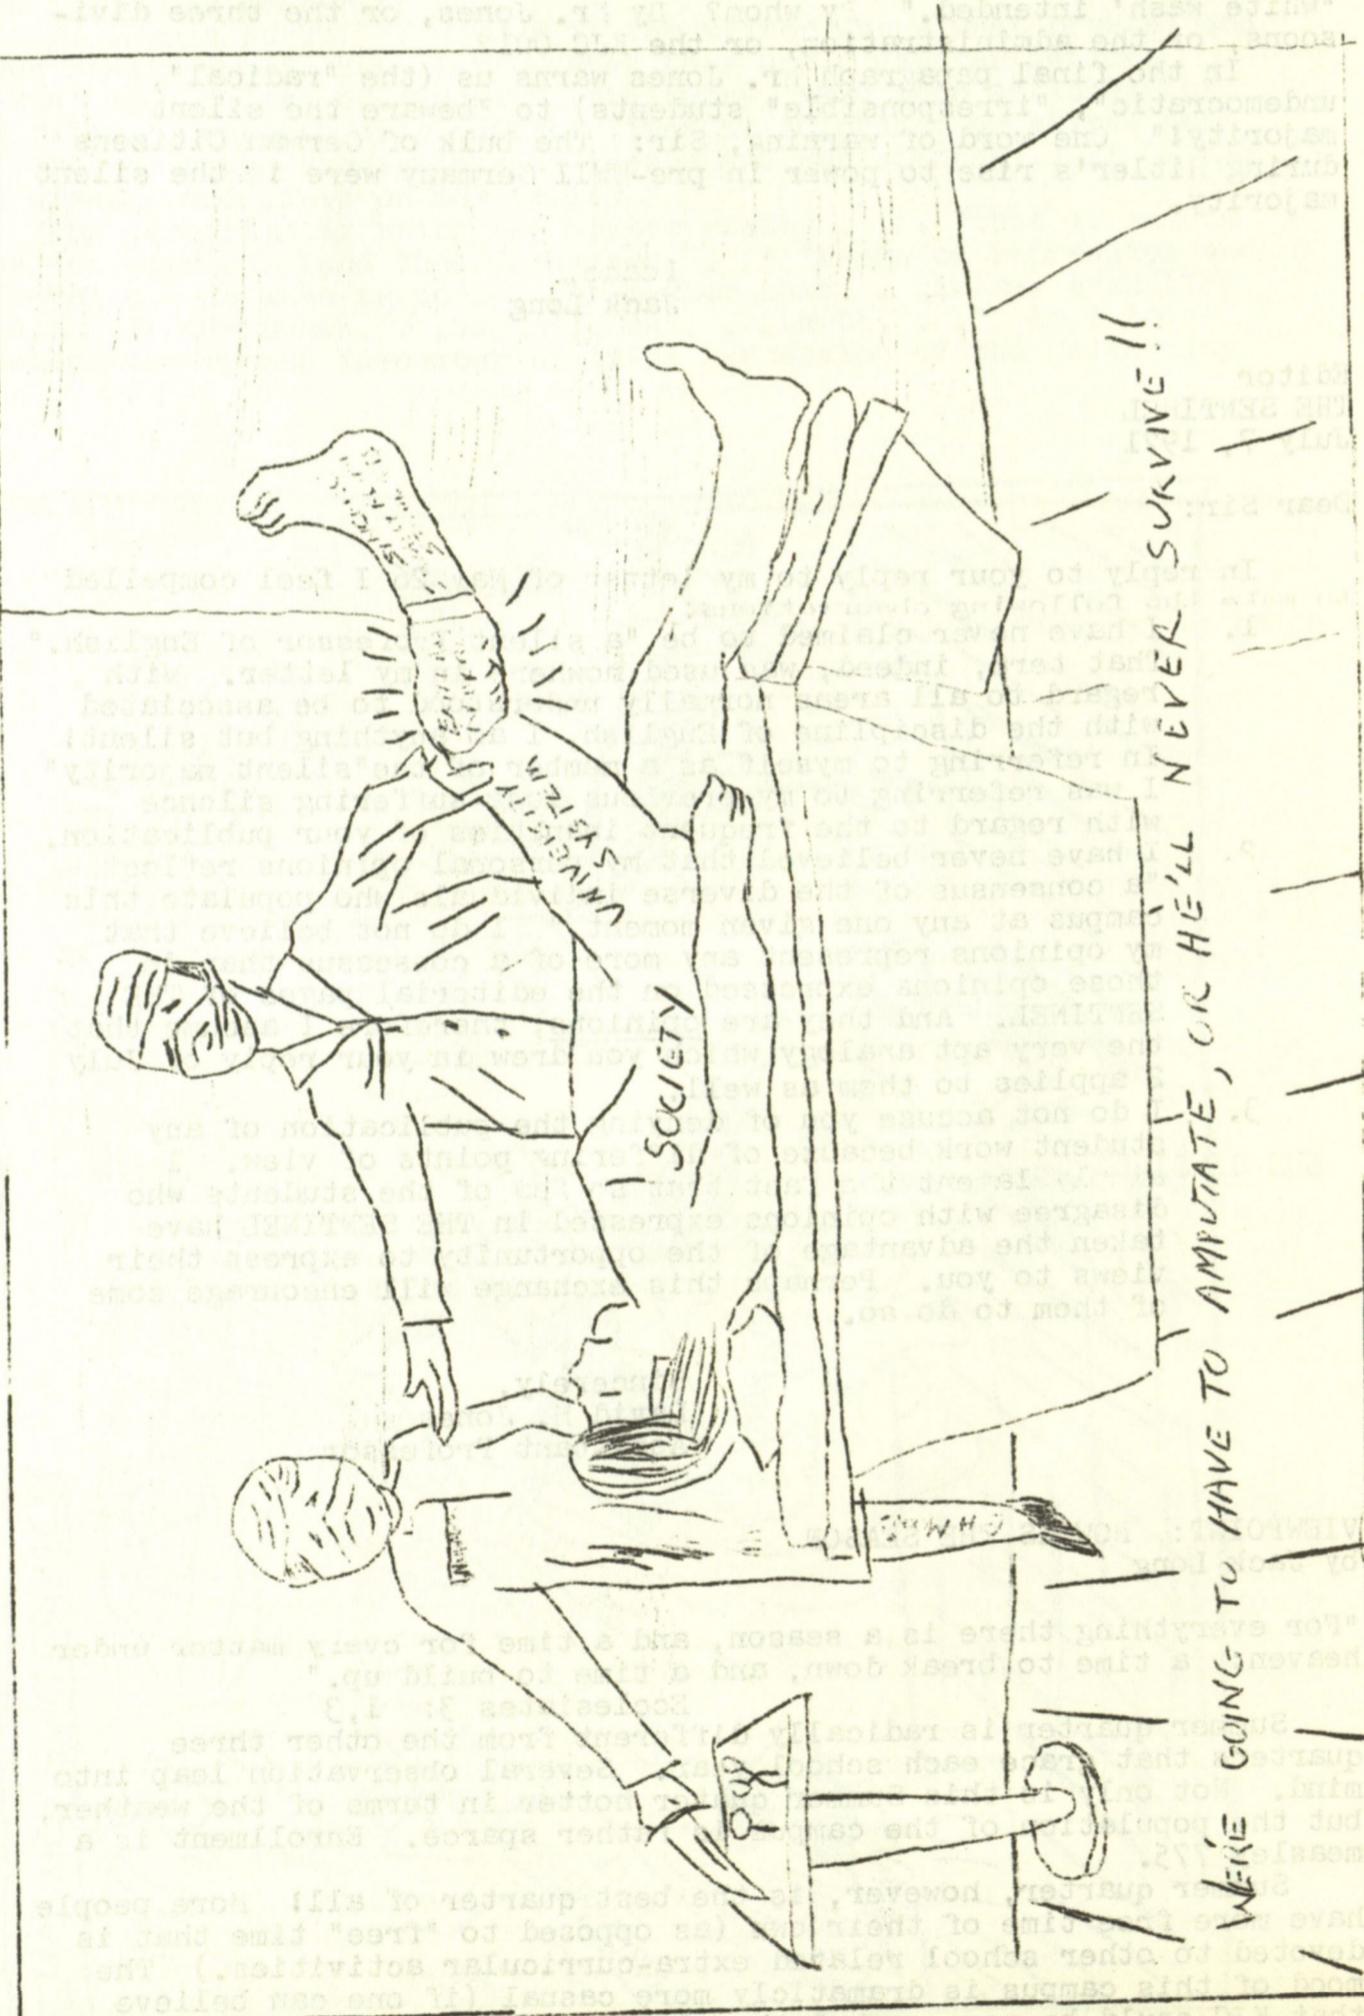

Ecclesiastes 3: 1,3

THE SUMMER quarter is radically different from the other three quarters that grace each school year. Several observations leap into mind. Not only is this Summer quarter hotter in terms of the weather, but the population of the campus is rather sparse. Enrollment is a measly 775.

Summer quarter, however, is the best quarter of all! More people have more free time of their own (as opposed to "free" time that is devoted to other school related extra-curricular activities.) The mood of this campus is dramatically more casual (if one can believe that KJC could be more casual than last Spring quarter.)

The main reason that this quarter is better than any of the previous quarters is the plain and simple fact that people are building for the future. A very good example is the work being done both jointly and separately by the SGA and the Administration. First, they are working jointly on the upcoming Freshman Orientation. Orientation is going to be different this year for there are to be several small sessions this summer along with the usual powwow in September. They are also working on such things as the plans for the new Student Center and the upcoming Leadership Conference. Several groups are also building for the future. The Photograph Club is preparing to move into the new student darkroom as soon as it is completed and it is presently teaching a photography class. The Montage staff is already working on the new yearbook. The KJC Physical Plant workers and administrators are to be thanked for the beautiful grounds. The groups that are working-building for the future can be seen if you look hard enough.

"For everything there is a season." Now is the time "to build up!" Peace.
