Porgy And Bess Singers Bring Broadway Talent To Campus

The Porgy and Bess Singers will entertain Kennesaw students Saturday, July 22 at 8:00 p.m. Students will be admitted either by ticket or by Student Identification Card.

Although this program was originally to be held in the Student Services Building, the demand for tickets became so great that the location has had to be moved to the Marletta Fine Arts Auditorium, the site of previous KJC cultural activities.

The Porgy and Bess Singers will present a concert of show music, operatic numbers, and spirituals.

They have performed in Trinidad, Canada, the Bahamas, and in many states. The group is composed of Miss Lucia Hawkins, Levern Hutcherson, and Avon Long. The trio is accompanied by pianist, Miss Kelly Wyatt.

Miss Hawkins offers a voice of beauty and a lowing, colorful, musical line. She has toured Alaska, Canada, and the United States, as a soloist with the trio. The Smyphony of Air, the Miami Symphony, and the Trenton Symphony include some of her appearances. Her vocal coach is Lola Hayes.

Levern Hutcherson, tenor for the group, has an impressive background in radio and television. In "Carmen Jones", he has received high acclaim for his performance as Joe. Levern was chosen to sing the role of Porgy in the New York production of "Porgy and Bess". He also appeared in "Show Boat".

Avon Long first achieved fame with his outstanding portrayal of Sportin' life in "Porgy and Bess". Avon Long has been featured in more than a dozen Broadway plays and musicals, including "Bloomer Girl", "Green Pastures", and "Shuffle Along". He has also appeared in films for Warner Brothers, M.G.M., and Twentieth Century Fox. His television appearances include the "U.S. Steel Hour", and "Showtime U.S.A."

Sadie Hawkins Dance Set

Saturday, August 12th, is the date set for the Summer Quarter dance. The dance will be unusual because this time the girl will ask the boy for the date.

The entertainment will be furnished by the Rogues, a local band. The dance begins at 8:30 and is over at 11:30 P.M.

Dress will be cut-offs and sweat skirts. Guys and gals will wear blue jeans and maybe even a straw hat.

Ladies - now's your chance to show who's the favorite man in your life. Now it's the man's time to wonder if he'll have a date!

The Porgy and Bess Singers will entertain Kennesaw students Saturday, July 22, at 8:00 P.M. Tickets are available in the student center. Each student may have two free tickets.

Beggs Lectures

The first lecture in Kennesaw Junior College's first program designed for community participation will be given (August 1) Tuesday night at 7:30 p.m. in the Seminar Room of the Library on the college campus.

Dr. George H. Beggs, Chairman of the Social Sciences Division and Associate Professor of Political Science, will discuss the development of American foreign policy. Time will then be allowed for questions and discussions by the participants.

The final session, on August 10, will be devoted to the discussion of two contemporary books on international politics, "May Man Prevail," by Eric Fromm, and "The Ambassador," by Morris West.

On August 3, he will continue the series with a lecture on the Cold War and the United Nations, followed on August 8 by an analysis of the Moscow-Peking dispute.

Walraven Receives Doctorate

Wesley C. Walraven, Chairman of the Division of Natural Sciences and Mathematics, received his Ph. D. degree in Biology from the University of Georgia in graduation exercises held on June 3, 1967.

His dissertation was entitled "Taxonomy of the Genus Phynchosia (Leguminosae) of the United States" and involved a study of a plant of the pea family.

Dr. Walraven traveled over the entire southeastern area of the United States on field trips to collect plants which he later analyzed. The purpose was to determine if, in the light of recent advances in analytical biochemistry, cytology, morphology and statistics, these plants had been properly identified, named, and classified.

A native of Dalton, Georgia, the divisional chairman attended the University of Georgia, and then received his B.S. degree in Science Education from the University of Chattanooga. He later returned to the University of Georgia for his Master's degree.

He is a member of the Association of Southeastern Biologists, the Georgia Academy of Science, American Society of Plant Taxonomists, Kappa Delta Pi National Educational Honorary Society, Phi Sigma National Honorary Biological Society, National Association of Biology Teachers, and the American Institute of Biological Sciences.

Dr. Walraven has held a number of scholarships and fellowships, including several from the National Science Foundation.

Before joining the faculty at Kennesaw Junior College, he taught at Valley Point High School in Whitfield County, Georgia, and also at the University of Georgia.

Dr. Walraven lives with his wife and two children, Starr Elaine (12), and Wesley, Jr. (5), at Route #1 in Kennesaw.

LOUISE BISHOP

Quarterly-Not Cumulative!

Should a student entering Fall Quarter with the high aspiration of making the Dean's List be penalized for his past record?

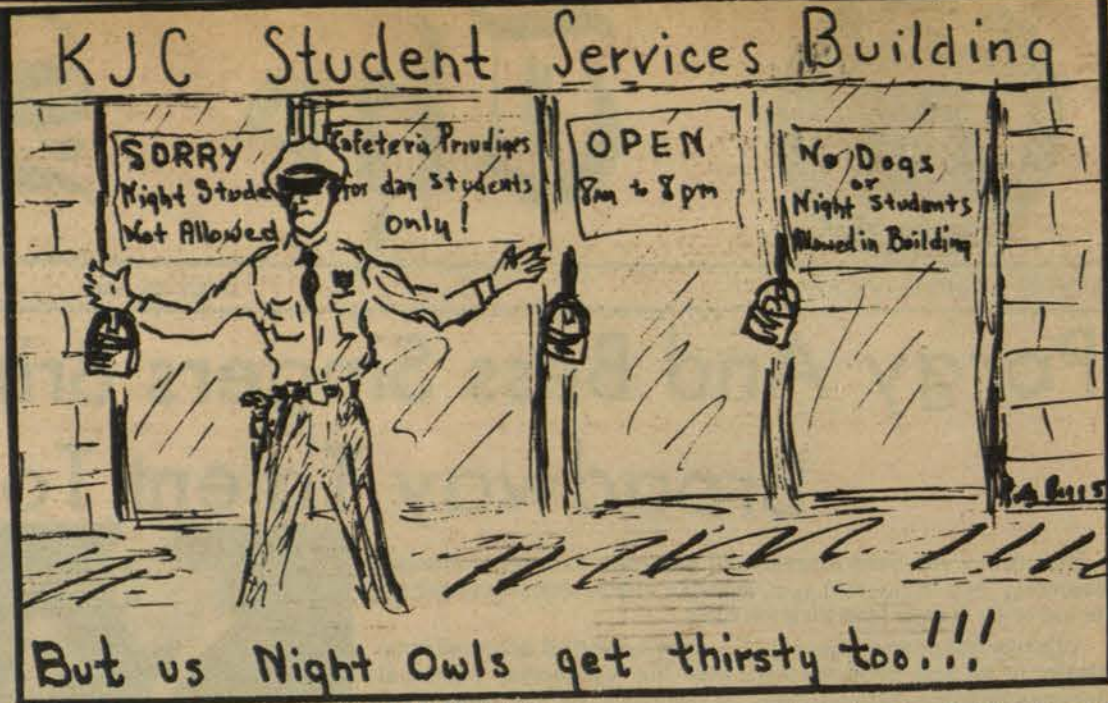

Though he has the required grad point average of 3.0 for fall quarter, he still may not gain this intellectual honor because of a 2.8 average during summer quarter.

According to the handbook, "Student Rules and Regulations", students who have a cumulative grade point of 3.0 or above, who have earned a minimum of 15 quarter hours of credit, and who are neither on academic probation or on warning are eligible for the Dean's List.

The cumulative average is calculated as the over-all average including the entire time that the student has been enrolled at the college.

The Dean's List is published quarterly. It seems only fair that it should be based on the student's work for that quarter only. A student enrolls by quarter, pays his fees by the quarter, and is graded by the quarter. His past grades should not interfere with his present scholastic achievement.

In a recent discussion of this matter with a member of the Administration, the reason given for the cumulative plan was that the number of part time students is large and those students could, by taking one subject, and excelling in it, make the Dean's List.

This reasoning seems fallacious since qualifications for Dean's List stated in the official handbook require that a student must have 15 quarter hours credit before being considered for the Dean's List.

The Dean's List should be put on a quarterly basis as are the schedules, credits, enrollments, and other aspects of the college.

you want to, but let somebody scream obscenities at you twenty-four hours a day and see how you can hate. They make you hate, then they teach you how to kill with a knife, a gun, or anything that happens to be handy. When they do this, they tell you that you will last only a month or so in Viet Nam because you're too soft. They play on your emotions until you will turn on your friends and fight when they do something wrong.

In all my life, I've never been so confused. I realize that this is a necessity for the existence of our great country, and I am proud to do my part, but I do wish I'd finished college and entered this Army with a little rank."

This letter gives us much to think about.

Do any of you who have "been there" have any comments?

DEAR EDITOR:

Recently I've heard a number of students say that they would like for the snack bar to stay open until 9:30. These students at night are tired, worn-out, and hungry.

Many students arriving for 8:30 classes have come straight from work. A hamburger and coffee before class would be most acceptable.

Students who finish class at 8:10 may have had no time for dinner before coming to the campus.

If something could be worked out and I feel that it could, it would not only refresh the students, but help to raise their morale, enabling them to be more physically alert for classes. When could we see about this situation? S. A.

DOUG COUCH

Teeners Slash New Pupil Because "She's A Misfit"

"As she walked home from her third day at Torrance High School, fifteen year-old Margaret Mary Little saw a carload of teen-agers pulling up along-side her. One yelled, "We don't want misfits in our school".

Then, said the girl, three boys and two girls jumped out. The others watched as one boy ripped her skirt and her blouse, and, with a rusty razor blade, cut slashes on her cheeks and forearm.

...Margaret is a cerebral palsy victim. She has been handicapped since birth."

Six people enjoyed the above Associated Press news release: those fifteen-agers and you, the reader.

The teen-agers enjoyed it because they are probably sadistic. You enjoyed it because you, like the vast majority of us, are a lover of violence.

Why are we so obsessed with killing, and blood, and hate, and...?

We flock to the movie houses to see Clint Eastwood kill thirty-five or so in one picture.

We then go see twelve dirty men kill off half of Nazi Germany.

This is what fun is. This is how we get our kicks, thriving on violence, watching someone having his entire abdomen removed with a pair of pruning shears, and no relief in sight, not even an Alka-Seltzer.

Yes, this kind of mess is great, just what we want. That's why the newspapers print murder and rape, and blood -- it sells.

Maybe violence as entertainment wouldn't be so bad but for the fact that "Violence breeds violence". Things happen today that were unheard of fifty years ago.

Take Richard Speck. He killed eight nurses. This was an isolated incident, right? Less than a month later Charles Whitman killed thirteen. A week after that three people were killed in Fort Worth.

And of course, we can't forget the Boston Strangler.

With all this real violence going on, publishers are printing, and producers are filming all the gore and hate the public will take, and we are having the time of brief, violent lives.

JACKIE BROOKS

To School Or To War?

It seems that one of the big decisions of the males of our generation is the question of whether or not to go into the service. "Should I quit school?", "Should I join before I'm drafted?", "What's the use of studying? ... I'm as good as gone now anyway."

What is the use? It all depends on what you want to do with your life. Do you want a college education-- something that is very necessary for survival in the outside world? Or would you rather claim that the whole world is against you, give up, and permit yourself to rid yourself of your problems by "joining up" for the next few years of your life.

Don't misunderstand me. I am not trying to advocate a draft card burning on our campus. I believe that the service is a very necessary and rewarding organization, and as for the draft, it will have to remain as it is until somebody comes up with a better idea.

But I think if someone does go into the service, it should not be because he just "doesn't care" and uses it as an outlet, but because he has properly finished his education or has gone to the limit of his mental or financial ability.

Let me share part of a letter with you.

"The Army has done many things for me. It seems that most of them are changes in my outlook on life. I can't even remember how I was when I was in college, but now I'm in the school of hard knocks where only the tough survive.

When you knew me in college, I was one of the group; I was one of the many "Joe Colleges". Now I've become an animal in a jungle of people who hate to be what they are. The Army has taught me things I never knew were inside of me. They showed me how to hate with a fury that's unbelievable, and they taught me to kill without mercy. You can laugh at that if

SENTINEL SPOTLIGHTS

Jodi Cannon, Gary Gardner

JODI CANNON

GARY GARDNER

The eyes of the Sentinel have stopped on Jodi Cannon, one of our featured students. This cute, petite blonde, who moved to Marietta from Long Island, New York, is a familiar sight especially in the student lounge and cafeteria where she works as a cashier.

Jodi, who is majoring in Physical Education, with hopes of teaching college students, excels in water skiing, softball, horse back riding, and especially tennis. She certainly qualifies as a competent life guard as she has earned her senior life saving badge.

Our student made the Dean's List her first quarter at KJC. She entered Kennesaw because "it was closest to home and a good school."

When asked what she thought a good time would be, her answer was, "being active and intelligent."

The most outstanding characteristic about this young woman is her warmth and friendliness. It is hard to catch her without a smile or a word of encouragement.

"Never a dull moment!" are the words that Gary Gardner uses to describe Kennesaw Junior College.

Gary, who is a native of Deland, Florida, graduated from Deland High School, and transferred to Kennesaw last Winter Quarter from Georgia Tech.

His ambition is to transfer either to Georgia or back to Georgia Tech Fall Quarter. Gary is interested in pre-engineering and is thinking of teaching sociology on the college level. Gary has made Dean's List twice.

Our featured student is a well-rounded individual, as is evidenced by his interest in poetry, as well as in engineering. He is serving as life guard at the college pool during Summer Quarter. He also has a great interest in art. He claims that his main hobby is "interacting effectively".

His interest in poetry was influenced by the song "Garden of Eden" by Bob Dylan. A sample of his creativeness can be seen in his poem in this issue.

I feel no shame or responsibility
For the peace eye
That is staring at me
Through its dying and discolored cornea.
I am but one small part
Of the pin of ignorance that broached
Its umbilical nerve-link to humanity,
Severed by the stainless steel
Two-edged sword of X-tianity.
Feeling nothing

Canadian Student Wins $500 Prize

Mrs. Betty Thom, a freshman at Kennesaw Junior College, has won a $500 prize for writing the best essay on the use of colloquial English by Georgians.

A will filed in DeKalb County set up this prize money to be awarded the freshman at Emory University or any unit of the University System of Georgia who submitted the best essay on this subject.

The prize-winning students entered Kennesaw Junior College when it opened in the fall of 1966 and took her first college English course from Mrs. Marge Coulton. At the time she entered the contest, her English Professor was Mrs. Mary Swain.

After completing two years at Kennesaw Junior College, Mrs. Thom plans to continue her education and major in journalism. She has served as a reporter on the student newspaper, "The Sentinel", since it began functioning in September, 1966.

In announcing the winner, Mr. Charles Watson, of Emory University, commented that Kennesaw Junior College, as well

SKELETON CREW PRODUCES EDITION

Four Sentinel Staff members, aided by several volunteers, have produced this summer special.

Jackie Brooks took time from her job as secretary in an Atlanta law office to work with Louise Bishop, who is working at Ather-ton Drug Company.

Lynn Northcutt, taking time from her full time night job, and Bob Herrin, squeezing in Sentinel advertising work, in addition to his job have also contributed to the issue.

Doug Couch, who will enter Kennesaw in the fall; Joy Ryals, KJC student, and David Mayben, a transfer student from Alabama College, have done yeoman service.

Jim Pittman, Associate Editor of the Sentinel, who had hoped to assist in producing this issue, is hospitalized at Kennestone Hospital.

assist in producing this issue, is hospitalized at Kennestone Hospital.

And, of course, Mrs. Mary Swain, Faculty Advisor, who always comes to the aide of the Sentinel Staff when in need.

Five Students Receive Diplomas

On Friday afternoon, June 9, Kennesaw Junior College held its first graduation exercises in the Seminar Room of the Library.

The invocation was given by Dr. John C. Greider, and Dean Derrell Roberts certified that the students were eligible for the awarding of their degrees by Dr. Horace Sturgis. Dr. Cecil Jackson presented the diplomas and Bob D. Démonbreun gave the benediction.

Students graduating were Sarah Marguerite Faw, Wilson Jack Gilbert, and Roy Herman Price, Jr. Liberal Arts degrees were given to Carla Eldson Eidschun and Stephen John Hanges.

Babbling Brooks

This summer edition of the Sentinel brings the first column of a new series. Material for this column will be gathered in different ways; from interviews from students, humorous events, and the writer's meanderings here and there, including the law office where she is employed this summer.

MRS. JUDY BENTLEY-University of Georgia-"Kennesaw is extremely friendly. The buildings are convenient." (There's no chance of getting lost up here!)

DIANE BROWN - Mars Hill - The teachers are very good, and the school has made a lot of progress, but the social life is lacking." (Don't we know it!)

SAMMY FITE - University of Georgia. "The campus is nice, but it surely is a change from that giant campus in Athens... having everybody know everybody else is very different from chasing around among 14,000 people." (Sammy, you're ONE in a million!)

SANDRA CHAMPION-Reinhardt - "The food is very good. I like the cut system, and the teachers are very friendly and polite." (How naive can you be, honey; you might not be around here too much longer!)

KAY ORR-Reinhardt-"Kennesaw is harder than Reinhardt." (You say you're planning to return to Reinhardt Fall Quarter?)

SUE CHASTAIN-Reinhardt -"The study rooms in the library are great, but there's a lot more going on at Reinhardt." (You just don't know where the action is, Sue.)

GREG HARTSOOK - Tennessee Tech. "The teachers are good, but the Coke cups in the student center have holes in them." (Of course there has to be ONE in every group!)

Rogers Becomes New Registrar

THOMAS HOWELL ROGERS, JR. Thomas Howell Rogers, Jr., of 317 Keeler Woods Drive in Marietta, assumed his duties on Saturday, July 1, as Registrar of Kennesaw Junior College.

The new Registrar, a native of Dallas, Georgia, came to Kennesaw Junior College from John McEachern High School in Cobb County, where he had served as a Guidance Counselor. He also taught chemistry at Marietta High School for one year.

After receiving his B.S. degree from the University of Georgia with a major in chemistry and a minor in psychology, Mr. Rogers entered the United States Marine Corps and was sent to the first of several service schools.

A combat veteran in the Pacific during World War II, Mr. Rogers attended Old Dominion College in Norfolk, Virginia, and earned his M.Ed. degree with a major in Guidance from the University of Virginia. He has continued his graduate work at the University of Georgia and Georgia State College.

His assignments carried him from Alaska to Mexico, into Europe, and from Hawaii to Japan. He retired in 1964 with the rank of Lieutenant colonel. Mr. Rogers is a member of the American Personnel and Guidance Association, American School Counselors Association, National Vocational Guidance Association; Gamma Sigma Epsilon, Honorary Chemical Fraternity; and Pi Kappa Alpha social fraternity.

Mr. and Mrs. Rogers, who is the former Miss Marcia McGarity, have three children: Patricia Lynn, a student at the University of Georgia; Thomas Howell, III; and Marcia Ruth. They are members of the First Baptist Church of Marietta.

Assistant Librarian Named

A new assistant librarian, Mrs. Martha Ann Giles, of 250 Alpine Drive in Roswell, Georgia, will assume her duties on August, according to her appointment announced by Dr. Horace W. Sturgis, President.

Born in Birmingham, Alabama, the new assistant librarian received her A. B. degree with an English-History major from Alabama College in Montevallo, and her Master of Librarianship from Emory University.

She is married to Ted Andrew Giles, and they have two daughters, Deborah Joan, 14, and Andrea Dorian, 12.

Kirk Fires 69 In Tournament

Mark Kirk, sophomore at Kennesaw Junior College, won the trophy for the recent golf tournament. Kirk held a 19 stroke lead on Ron Howington at the Suburbia Golf Course in Canton.

Mark shot one under par for the 36 holes. He fired a sizzling 69 on the first match and a 72 on the second match, totaling 140.

Ron Howington placed second with rounds of 72 and 87 for a total of 159. In third place was Ronnie Keown who scored 79 and 86.

The tournament was played on a volunteer basis. Any male student could enter. A total of nine men participated in this event.

Mark Kirk, the first place winner, played on the golf team at Marietta High School for two years. In his senior year, he won the "Most Valuable Player" award.

All persons interested in the subject are invited to attend. There is no registration or charge, although participants will be urged to purchase the two books, both of which will be available in the college book store on the campus.

There will be ample parking facilities near the library, which is the central building on the campus.

Riggins And Stewart Nail Championship

The first annual tennis tournament for Kennesaw Junior College was held in June at Pine-tree Country Club.

In the women's match, Freda Stewart defeated Cheryl Tumlin 6-0, 6-1. Miss Stewart was active on her high school team for three years.

Paul Riggins, winning with a volley, shut down Bruce Giles with 6-3, 6-0. When commenting on the game, Riggins related, "It was hot as hell!" Out of the five matches, Riggins only lost five games.

Riggins' background as a tennis player is versatile. He was the previous junior winner and men's double winner in city and Cobb County matches. He participated in the Lockheed tournaments in both singles and doubles.

Riggins played on the Marietta High School team for three years. In his senior year, he and Thad Lane won third in the state doubles tournament.

Students Represent College At Governor's Law Committee

The Governor's Conference for Law and Order was held on Monday, July 17th. The meeting took place in the North Ball Room of the Marriott Motel.

Dr. Martin and two students, Peter Pomeroy and Cindy Skidmore, represented the college. Those invited included prominent civic, educational, spiritual, and business leaders.

Governor Lester Maddox stated that he would like to see Georgia as a pacesetter for law and order. Maddox wants to begin a war on crime.

Those committees will meet later on in the year.

Dr. Sturgis

Dr. Horace W. Sturgis, President of Kennesaw Junior College, will leave Friday to attend a week-long seminar in Endicott, New York for Presidents of Junior Colleges.

Some of the specialized areas to be considered include the use of computers in student scheduling, forecasting class loads, and doing institutional research and long range planning.

STUDENTS ENJOY Athletic activities in the new gymnasium.

Gym Opens For Activities

The gymnasium, the final building in a complex of eight structures on the campus of Kennesaw Junior College, has been completed and accepted by the college.

Dr. Horace W. Sturgis, President, in announcing the acceptance, said the indoor facilities now available for the physical education program will be utilized during the summer quarter.

An outstanding feature of the building is an indoor pool, which will enable the college to offer its first courses in swimming. At the same time that the last of the original buildings was turned over for use by the college, Dr. Sturgis reported significant progress is being made on the landscaping of the campus.

Virtually all of the shrubbery has been planted, he said, and other areas are being graded and prepared for the seeding of the lawns.
