

WHAT'S IZ RAME??

SOUTHERN TECH

May 14, 1974

FORGOTTEN?
NOT BY ALL OF US!

Forgotten by most of us, but still remembered by the old 'dye in the wool' basketball fans and ex-players are the statistics that appear at the end of the season compiled by the various divisions of the NCAA.

For a player to attain a position anywhere in the top fifty in scoring or free throw percentage or one of the other categories for which statistics are kept requires some sort of nearly superhuman effort. To place in more than one category, requires that much more effort - but to attain a position in the top twenty-five in two categories is indicative of a most outstanding basketball player.

This past season was the first for Southern Tech as a participant in Division II of the NCAA and one of our players, Curtis Binins, made the top twenty-five in scoring and Free Throw Percentage. Curt was the 25th leading scorer in the nation in Division II averaging 22.2 points per game. He was third in the nation in Free throw percentage making 99 of 109 for a .908) 90.8 percentage.

Curtis was the 4th leading scorer in the South Atlantic Conference. He was 7th in field goal percentage-shooting 49.9 percent. He was seventh in rebounding with .4 reboundgs per game and was number 2 in free throw percentage by only .03 percentage points with 90.82 percent from the line.

During the season Curtis was selected Player of the Week by the SAC commissioner and he was also selected to the All-conference team.

Two other members of the team made SAC honors. Mike Braun was selected to the All-Tournament Team at West Georgia and Rodney Bowers was awarded the Commissioners Scholastic Award with a 3.55 grade point average.

The Southern Tech team set two tournament records in December at the 1973 Amphibions Force Atlantic Tenth Annual Holiday Basketball Tournament in addition to winning the tournament. The Hornets set the record for the fewest points allowed for the tournament (184) and the fewest points allowed in a game (42). Curtis Bivins and Jewel Newman were selected to the All-Tournament Team and Curtis Bivins was selected as the most valuable player. And of the top 25 scorers in the tournament Curtis was the leader with 74 points. Mike Braun was eleventh with 42 and was tied by Jewel Newman with 42, and Randy Hunter was tied with three other players for the 21st position with 33 points. Curtis scored 28 points in one game which was the third highest output by a single player for the tournament.

Even though the Hornets had a losing season there certainly were some very bright spots. . and one very important fact that this year's experience will eliminate next year is the minus 3.5 points per game losing margin. As the old sayings go - close only counts in horseshoes, hand grenades and dancing -- but I think the Hornets record will come above .500 next season and with two field goals more a game (four pts. would wipe out that minus 3.5) we will stand a good chance of becoming Conference champions.

BATHTUB RACE

The plans for the activities during the upcoming Bathtub Race weekend have been finalized, according to SGA representative, Jesse Rice. On Friday, May 17, a complete meal will be offered, featuring grilled hot dogs, beer, cokes, etc., at no cost to the students. The meal will begin at 5:30, and entertainment will be provided by "Pulp", beginning at 7:00 and continuing until 11:00. All these activities will be held in the space between the dorms, weather permitting, and are open to all students, alumni, and their guests. An effort is being made to enlist members of the faculty to serve as chaperones for the event, in order to comply with the provisions of SGA bill 73-9, which legalized the consumption of alcohol on campus for such events.

On Saturday, the race will be held, of course, and "Liberation" will present another concert on the mall for the students and their dates, beginning at 9:00 and continuing until 1:00. All in all, the schedule of events promises to be a very enjoyable one.

KEEP ON TUBIN !!

The SGA needs help Tuesday morning to distribute Bathtub Posters to the Marietta community. See Andy Burell, or go to the SGA office, for further instructions.

kwickies

Running into debt is nearly as bad as running into the people you owe it to.

Running after women never huet anybody - it's catching them that does the damage.

The difficult part in an argument is not to defend one's position, but to know it.

The SGA elections are over, and the results, at least in terms of voter turnout, were very pleasing to most observers. Unofficially, 699 students voted in this year's balloting, a tremendous improvement over last year's 125 voters. Fully 45.84 percent of the student body cast their ballots.

The voting process itself was far better managed than it has been in the past. In fact, one observer pointed out that the requirement for voting were more stringent here than those set for elections held in Marietta. There was no opportunity for any "stuffing" of the ballot box.

The students are to be congratulated for showing such a strong interest in this year's campaign. The new officers have received a clear mandate to continue the fine record of progress established by this year's SGA.
