student of the quarter

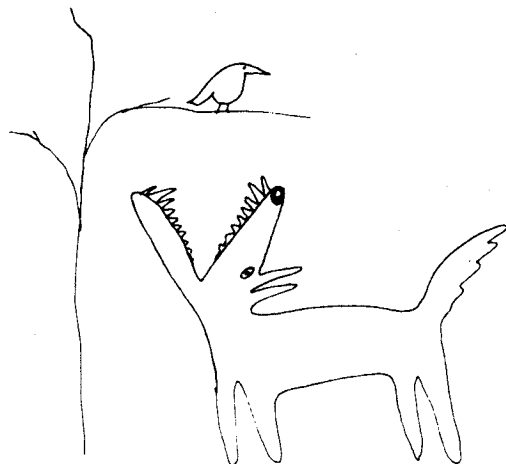

As many know the Student of the Qtr. award for fall was presented to George Rocco Cirelli. George received the award for his outstanding work as intramural commissioner and as "Mayor" of Southern Tech. As commissioner, he has worked hard to organize the intramurals to best benefit everyone and worked to get equipment and funds for future use.

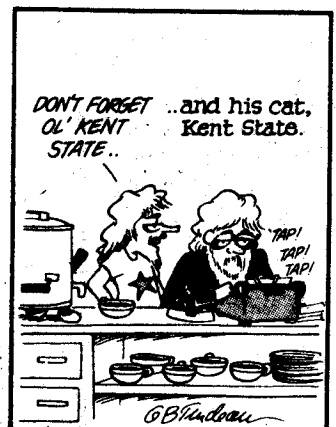

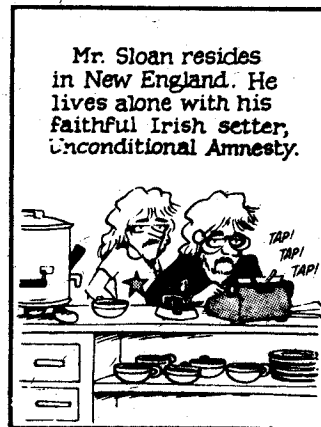

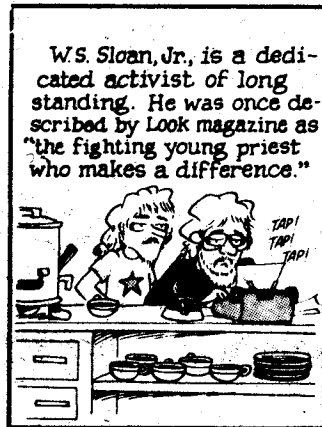

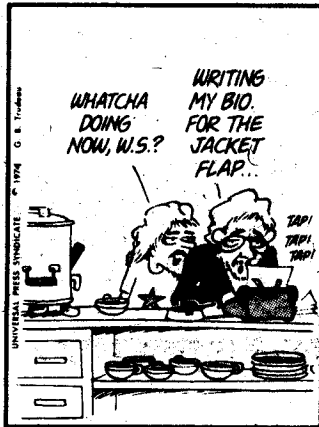

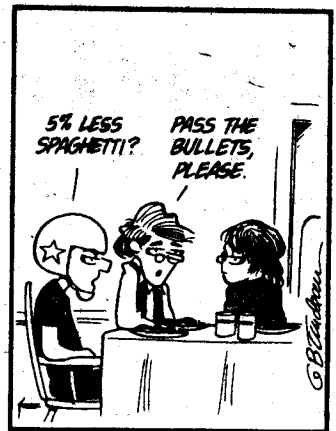

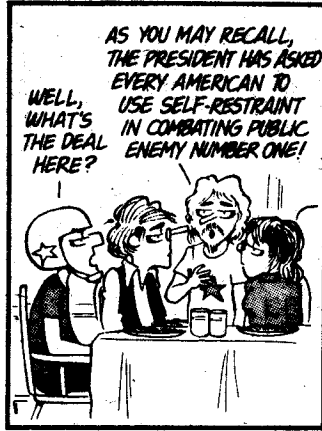

Jesse Rice received the Student of the Qtr. award for Winter Qtr. Jesse, a very active and concerned vice-president of the SGA, has sought the best for the Southern Tech faculty and students. As Jim Axley put it, "Jesse has been my right-hand man. He's handled the SGA meetings and business very well." Jesse is also actively involved in many other school organizations while still maintaining a high academic average.

The Awards Committee is proud to congratulate these outstanding students of Southern Tech. It also thanks you for your concern to notify us of deserving students. There is yet two more awards to be received by the end of Spring Qtr. They are Outstanding Student awards for Spring Qtr. and for the year, 1974-75. Forms for nominations will be out later this quarter.

Again, congratulations George and Jesse.

FRANKS' FOOD FACTS

sale

1. This past week we had to inconvenience our meal plan customers by asking them to use paper and plastic utensils. This was caused by an emergency situation; our dish machine had split a seam in the tank, and it had to be replaced. The cause of the crack was an operator's error about three years ago; it now surfaced as our problem. Cost: $670!

2. We began closing the dining hall at 6:00 (Instead of 6:30) on Fridays. We did this for several reasons: participation in the Friday dinner was below 100 persons; because we use student labor, we could cut our labor costs; and finally, it is Friday for us, just as it is for you.

3. If any of you have any questions or suggestions, bring them to my attention. That's the only way we can work together.
