

NSP funded

Southern Technical Institute has received a $500.00 grant from the Georgia Engineering Foundation for its nuclear safety program, according to J.R. Lee, assistant professor of physics, at the engineering technology college in Marietta.

Lee is the creator of the nuclear safety program and was recently named director. Courses in nuclear safety program got under way in the fall of 1974. In June of this year, Southern Tech received a $13,900 matching fund grant from the National Science Foundation for the program.

The program was created because of the growing interest within Georgia and surrounding states in the area of nuclear power safety, said Lee.

Thank You

November 17, 1975

To the faculty, staff, and student body:

Rebecca and I would like to express our thanks for your prayers, concern, and consideration during my recent illness and hospitalization.

I hope to see all of you in January.

Again, thank you.

Sincerely yours,

Douglas R. Floor

FRANKS' FOOD FACTS

Just a couple of announcements. The dining hall will close for the Thanksgiving holiday after lunch (1:30) on Wednesday. No dinner will be served. Take out dinners will be available to those meal plan students who plan to remain on campus.

The snack bar will operate its now normal schedule of 10:30 to 2 on Wednesday. The snack bar will close for Christmas Recess on Friday, December 5. The dining hall will serve through lunch on Wednesday, December 10, when, again, take out dinners will be available.

Have a happy Thanksgiving!

SGA

The meeting was called to order by Vice-President, Tony Chupp. Roll was taken and the minutes of the last meeting were read and approved.

Dean McClure came before the SGA to discuss the new Student Center. He was asked several questions from the SGA concerning problems and proposed plans for the Student Center.

Doug Laird presented a resolution derived by the SGA Committee on Athletics. It concerned, the SGA not funding the Athletic Dept. Motion was seconded. Discussion followed. Vote was taken and the motion passed.

A motion was then made, seconded and passed to not hold a meeting of the SGA on Wed., Nov. 26, due to the fact that it was the day before Thanksgiving.

Discussion followed on campus safety. A request was made for input from the SGA, on talent for drawing safety posters.

Discussion followed about the STI Beauty Pageant. A request was made for support from each organization.

Meeting was adjourned.

Students from Georgia can now enroll in 56 out-of-state graduate programs --including Coal Processing Research, Hotel and Food Service Management, and Marine Law and Science-- at in-state tuition rates through the Academic Common Market, a project of the Southern Regional Education Board (SREB).

The Common Market, which was formed as a sharing vehicle for Southern states, increases accessibility and discourages duplication of highly specialized and often expensive graduate programs.

Twelve states are currently participating in the arrangement: Alabama, Arkansas, Florida, Georgia, Kentucky, Louisiana, Maryland, Mississippi, South Carolina, Tennessee, Virginia and West Virginia.

There are only two requirements for qualification: Acceptance for admission in a program offered through the Academic Common Market, and proof that one is a legal resident of a state which has made arrangements to send its residents to that program.

Residents of Georgia can obtain further information on the program, including certification procedures, by writing their state coordinator: Joseph Hammock, Vice Chancellor for Academic Development, University System of Georgia, 244 Washington Street, S.W., Atlanta, Georgia 30334.

If your legal residence is in one of the other 11 participating states and you would like to have information on programs available to you through the Academic Common Market, write to the Southern Regional Education Board, 130 Sixth Street, N.W., Atlanta, Georgia 300313.

VETS

The STI Veterans Club operates a book exchange every quarter for all students. In order to take advantage of this service the student should take his used books to the Book Club and fill out the form to sell books. He may set the price as he sees fit, but the club recommends approximately 2/3 of the new book price.

The book will then be placed on the shelf to be sold. When the book is sold the student will be notified and can come by and pick up his money, less a 50¢ charge for handling, or a check will be mailed to him.

Anyone may buy or sell books through the exchange. The Book Club operates finals week and the first week of school from 10 am til 7 pm every quarter. Please take advantage of these savings and help the Book Club work for everyone.

I sincerely think it's ridiculous to pay three dollars to park on campus. I agree that a sticker is necessary to distinguish student cars from non-students.

My suggestion for improvement is that at registration a sticker is given to the registered student. That way only students will have them and we won't have to waste three dollars. Students have enough financial difficulty trying to pay tuition without worrying about five dollar parking fines. Its getting worse than dealing with the Cobb County police department. If the school needs extra funds, go to the state and not the student's pocket.

Anon.

Why are the parking spaces on campus drive not marked off?

If the spaces were marked, a lot more people could park their cars along campus drive.

Most of the time people park leaving spaces three inches too short for another parking space. If five or six cars are parked like that, a lot of space is wasted.

If the school will buy the paint, I will be glad to mark off the spaces because I am one of too many people getting ripped out of a parking space.

MIND BOGGLER

I feel the Southern Tech bookstore on our campus is nothing but a rip-off to students.

I went into the bookstore one day hoping to find a usedbook in Mechanical drawing. I looked through the books but I wasn't lucky enough to find a used one. So I pick up a new one and bought it. I took it home and began to look through it. Leafing through the pages I came across about a dozen places that had written notes and drawings that had been done.

The Drawing book had been used the quarter before. It was still in good shape, so the bookstore must have figured they could sell it for a new book.

I buy all my books I can from the Veterans Bookstore now. I want to thank them for helping me save money on books and not getting ripped-off.

ALUMNI BANQUET

The Southern Tech National Alumni Association will hold its annual alumni banquet, Saturday evening, November 29, at 8 pm, at the Fairmont Hotel in Colony Square.

This year, the STI alumni will have as its program, "The Roasting of Robert Hayes," according to Robert Azar, director of public relations and alumni affairs for Southern Tech.

"Hays, an STI faculty member for the past 23 years, will be the target of some good, clean fun-poking," said Azar. Also, Azar said that loyalty awards will be presented to the alumnus who travels the farthest distance to attend the banquet and those representing the oldest class.

Price of the banquet and program is $8.00 per person and all alumni and friends of Southern Tech and Hays are cordially invited to attend by calling 424-7351 for reservations.
