1993-1994
"There were cattle grazing in the field -- this was a pasture," said Charter President Horace W. Sturgis of KSC in 1965. Thirty years, and thirteen thousand students later, Kennesaw State College has matured from a backwoods farm pasture into a full-fledged four year university. In thirty years of history, the campus has seen numerous expansions and renovations including the addition of a new business building, a new bookstore, a science building currently under construction, a new music building and an expanded student center. Thirty years of history have brought many famous faces to KSC including a former US president, our current U.S. Vice-President, and many well-respected and highly praised writers, lecturers, and personalities.
With cheers and confetti students celebrate the April 14, 1976 decision to make Kennesaw a four-year college.

Founder's Day

Governor Zell Miller and KSC President Betty Siegel

The Kennesaw State College Alma Mater

Kennesaw, Dear Kennesaw,
Nestled in the Georgia pines,
What a special place you hold,
Treasured in this heart of mine.
For the candles you set burning,
Lighting paths of love of learning.
For the gifts you have given me,
Kennesaw, I will cherish thee.

Kennesaw, Dear Kennesaw,
Forrest of the Southland's fame,
Sons and daughters gathered here,
Stand to praise thy lovely name.
For the friendships that were made here,
For the dreams we dare to dream here,
Kennesaw, we will cherish thee,
Kennesaw, we will cherish thee.

The Student Government Association (SGA) is the student elected body responsible for representing student views to the administration. Members of the SGA Board actively solicit student input on issues to address, then work with the administration to instigate needed changes on the campus level.

On the state and federal level, the SGA keeps abreast of issues and concerns relevant to higher education, and serves as conduit of information between the students and state and federal officials.

The Student Government Association is one of the most influential organizations present on the KSC campus. By responding to students views, the elected board along with the college senate are able to relay concerns to the administration. Some of the projects SGA addressed this year include the Mascro Name, providing financial aid liaisons between students and financial aid officers, petitioning to remove social security numbers from schedules, and rallying for an indoor smoking area.

Some of the ongoing issues that the SGA addressed include: childcare; student center addition; healthcare; Open House.

Many conservative students were outraged at Share, the student magazine of KSC, for its choices of accepted art in the Fall issue. Not only that, but some found fault with the magazine because one of the poems published in Share was written to broaden society’s awareness concerning the problem of child molestation. Several panel discussions were held by the school to insure that everyone’s voice was being heard. State Representative Stephen Clark made several comments criticizing the Student Government Association of KSC, and the staff of Share Magazine. Clark’s initial comments about the magazine itself were made before he had actually seen a copy of the magazine. Those who were familiar with the Constitutional rights of freedom of expression found Clark’s comments to be uninformed at best.

HALLOWEEN PARTY
PEACH BELT CONFERENCE
Champions!
In its last year of competition in the NAIA, the Kennesaw State Fighting Owls baseball team shocked the nation by breezing through the NAIA’s National Championship and bringing back the title of best team in the nation to North Georgia. Next season the Fighting Owls will be competing in the NCAA Division II.

The Owls finished off the season on a 17 game winning streak, including the Southeastern Regional Tournament and the World Series itself. Left-hander Chris McKnight nailed down the title in Des Moines, Iowa, with a 2-0 complete game win over Southeastern Oklahoma.

Kennesaw State pitcher Todd Kirby was named the Most Valuable Player for the World Series and second baseman Darrell Bagget received the Golden Glove award. Ryan Coe, who hit a homerun in the bottom of the ninth inning of the District 25 Championship game, garnered All-Tournament honors along with first baseman David Armstrong and pitcher Chris McKnight.

Other standouts on the team were Fabian Herndon who hit the team with a .382 batting average and stole a team high 17 bases, Perry Shiver who hit for a .371 average while knocking 42 runs and hitting 11 homers, Steve Meyer who knocked in 47 RBI while knocking out 12 homers and Coe who batted .369 knocked in a team high 79 runs in 62 games and connected for 18 home runs.

From the mound John Kown compiled an 1.88 ERA in 95.2 innings with a record of 9-1. Chad Morris and McKnight both had identical records of 10-2 while Morris had a 2.15 ERA and McKnight a 3.15 ERA.

As a team, the Owls batted .330 while holding opponent’s to .239, scoring 496 runs to their opponent’s 253. The pitching staff compiled an ERA of 3.48.

Before starting the post season run for the National Championship, head coach Mike Sansing’s club held a 31-14 record. The fighting Owls would never lose again, finishing with a 48-14 record.
Going into post season play with the number one ranking in the country, the Kennesaw State Lady Owls softball team finished exactly as they had the previous year, in fourth place.

The Lady Owls tore through the schedule, ending the season with an overall record of 48-4 and a perfect conference record of 14-0. The Owls finished the season as the Tri-District X Champions and District 25 Champions.

Cara Dornstauder led the team with a .399 batting average and 55 RBI and Tracey Britt batted .387 with 14 triples.
A s potent as the Lady Owls were in the batters box, they were just as overwhelming while pitching. Freshman Jackie Hall compiled a record of 20-3, struck out 132 batters while only walking 20 and ended with a 0.74 ERA in 151.2 innings pitched. Hall left the team after the season to return to her native Canada to pursue her Judo career. Teammate Kelly Rafter faired along the same lines with a 21-1 record and a 0.82 ERA in 136.2 innings pitched.

As a team the Owls scored 399 runs to their opponent’s 79 while running up a .334 batting average to the competitions .191, and in pitching had a team ERA of 0.99 in 333.2 innings while striking out 232 and walking 67.

Next season the Lady Owls take the jump with the rest of KSC athletics into the NCAA Division II.
After a successful 1993 season in which they won the District 25 championship and advanced to the NAIA Nation Championship Tournament in Kansas City, MS, the Fighting Owls basketball team added new faces to this year’s squad, hoping it would be enough to push them over the top and back into the National Tournament.

While head coach Phil Zenoni’s squad did post an impressive 20-8 record over the ’94 season, cross town rivals Life College dashed the Owls hopes as the Eagles defeated KSC in the NAIA Southeast Region Tournament final, denying Kennesaw a second chance for national glory.

Of the team’s eight losses, three were to Life, a very bitter pill to swallow.

Even though the Owls lost stars and crowd favorites Daniel Dunlap, Jeff Wilson and Columbus Ballard Owl fans got a taste of next season while watching newcomers Lamont Akins, Teddy Parrish, Curtis Richardson and James McKnight run the floor.

Next season the Owls will play in the Peach Belt Conference of the NCAA’s Division II.
After adding four new talented players to a squad which a year ago had earned an appearance in the NAIA National Tournament, the Lady Owls basketball team looked to be in prime position to once again make the tournament. But after losing two players to injury, one to academic problems and one to personal reasons, the Lady Owls had to settle for a 12-10 record and a post season spent at home.

The season started on a bad note when newcomer Stacy Pickens suffered a knee injury in the pre-season and returning player Mandy Smith was declared ineligible to play for the season due to grades. The situation only got worse when returning starter Amy Sullivan decided to leave the team just Before the season began. Midway through the season the Owls were beginning to come together, transfer guard Keira Irwin was lost for the season when she went down with a torn anterior cruciate ligament in her knee.

Coach Susan Montgomery’s squad, which had started with twelve players was now down to eight, not even enough for an intersquad scrimmage. Instead of folding and making excuses, the Lady Owls hung tough and finished the season with a winning record, the highpoint being a sound rousing of then ranked number 25 Berry College Vikings in the last game of the regular season.

In the post season the Owls did not have enough fresh legs off of the bench and took an early exit from tournament play.

The end of the season also spelled the end of two great players as Shannon Bradley and Tara Solomon played their last games dressed in gold and black. Through all of the grief and frustrations, freshman Sarah McAllister developed into an imposing figure on the court, trailing only Shannon Bradley in scoring, and staking her claim as the Owls' next star.

From the Editor...

Thank you for your interest in the 1994 Talisman! What you see between these covers is the relentless dedication of a handful of individuals. Through some unfortunate, and perhaps unavoidable, circumstances, this yearbook had to done, start to finish, in just seven weeks. I would like to take this opportunity to personally express my undying gratitude to the following people: First, Mary Kay Kimmet, our Walsworth Representative, who has devoted much of her valuable time in assisting myself and the rest of the staff; R. Todd Fleeman whose eye for art never ceases to amaze me, for all the pictures...thanks; Jason Hardin, for all the sports copy; Lee Oliver both for his pictures and his ideas; Dave Garrison for his gracious contribution of pictures; everybody at the Sentinel, there would not have been a yearbook without your cooperation and support; Ed Bonza, for his interest in and support of all publications; Alison Breeze, for her professionalism and advice; Susan Wimberly, for her time and effort; Jason Herrmann, who spent hours upon hours wrestling with an unfriendly computer; my wife, Jennifer, who patiently watched the hours I spent in the Talisman office move from hours to days to weeks; and, for everyone I forgot about, sorry, catch ya next year.
