I have earnestly worked and preached against violent tension, but there is a type of constructive nonviolent tension that is necessary for growth. Just as Socrates felt that it was necessary to create a tension in the mind so that individuals could rise from the bondage of myths and half-truths to the unfettered realm of creative analysis and objective appraisal, we must see the need of having nonviolent gadflies to create the kind of tension in society that will help men to rise from the dark depths of prejudice and racism to the majestic heights of understanding and brotherhood.”

from Martin Luther King, Jr.’s Letter from the Birmingham Jail
The 1994-1995 Talisman Yearbook is dedicated to all those who have struggled in the past to succeed in life, struggled to survive, struggled just to be heard... and those who struggle still.

Black History Month

This year's presentation brought to Kennesaw a chance to be reminded and inspired by the King Legacy. Acclaimed actor Al Eaton's performance moved students to empathize with the thoughts and feelings of African Americans during the civil rights movement while Ms. Rachel Williams sang songs of freedom with grace and character.

The Black History Month Committee and The African American Student Alliance sponsored and promoted many other events across the campus. From the Black Health Fair to Unity Day to Black Authors Day to Chautauqua's presentation of Cornell West, it was difficult for any student not to participate in one of the activities.

"It is not the critic who counts; not the man who points out how the strong man stumbled or where the doer of deeds could have done them better. The credit belongs to the man who is actually in the arena; whose face is marred by dust and sweat and blood; who strives valiantly; who errs, and comes short again and again, because there is no effort without error and shortcoming; who does actually try to do the deed; who knows the great enthusiasm, the great devotion and spends himself in a worthy cause; who, at the worst, if he fails, at least fails while daring greatly. Far better is it to dare mighty things, to win glorious triumphs even though checkered by failure, than to rank with those poor spirits who neither enjoy nor suffer much because they live in the gray twilight that knows neither victory nor defeat."

The Baptist Student Union is a cooperative ministry that is shared jointly by students from Southern Tech and Kennesaw State. While sponsored by the Georgia Baptist Convention as well as the Noonday Baptist Association, the BSU welcomes all students regardless of religious association. The BSU offers a weekly Bible study on KSC's campus, as well as participating in various college events through the year. In addition, BSUers can often be found at the Baptist Student Center on Southern Tech's campus. There, weekly events include free Tuesday lunches and Thursday night activities, allowing for a time of fun, fellowship and worship. Throughout the year, there are various mission trips, fund-raising activities, quarterly conferences and sporting events.

The Baptist Student Union is led on the KSC campus by Michelle Erfurt, President; Julie Goff, Outreach/Internationals; Melissa Pinson, Publicity; and James Hicks, Missions. Warren Skinner, as Campus Minister, and this year's intern, Craig Naylor, assist the group with organizational as well as spiritual leadership. They are always available for a game of ping pong or softball, adding to the team spirit of BSU as a whole.

The Nu Pi Chapter at Kennesaw State College was founded on June 1, 1994, after over two years of dedication and intense effort by members and regional advisors alike. Today, the Nu Pi Chapter encourages its members to grow and understand true business practices by offering such professional events as the "Personal Success" guest entrepreneurial panel series.

New to the professional roster this quarter is the Delta Sigma Pi Book Swap, which allows all students to save money on books they buy and make more back on books they sell through the program. But don’t think it’s all business! The Nu Pi Chapter goes all out on the social scene as well by providing the “Weekend River Riot” rafting trip, the Colorado Ski Trip and Spring Fling, an annual trip to the beach involving thousands of Delta Sigs. Nu Pi has already been ranked the second best chapter in the region in spite of its youth and states that for itself, and for Kennesaw State College, the future will only get brighter.

Habitat for Humanity is a nonprofit, ecumenical Christian housing ministry that seeks to eliminate poverty housing from the world and to make decent shelter a matter of conscience and action. By having needy and affluent people work together in equal partnership, Habitat builds new relationships and a sense of community as well as new houses.

The Kennesaw State College Chapter of Habitat for Humanity was recognized as an official campus chapter of Habitat for Humanity International in the spring of 1995. The KSC Chapter is a nonprofit student organization that works hard to make the American Dream of a safe, decent home come true for all families in our community. The mission of the KSC Chapter is to capture the imagination, energy, and hope of students in order to productively and responsibly involve them in the work of Habitat for Humanity.

The KSC Chapter performs three main functions: educate the campus and local community about affordable housing issues and the work of Habitat for Humanity; building or rehabilitating houses in partnership with Habitat affiliates and homeowners; and raising funds for the work of Habitat. Participation in campus chapters enables students to put their love into action and to build partnerships with people sharing a common goal. Participants gain greater awareness of the need for decent and affordable housing, encouraging a deeper commitment to social action.

"Our love should not be just words and talk, it must be true love, which shows itself in action."

The PSS Club’s mission is to educate its members, as well as the student body, about various social problems and career opportunities. They focus on educational, society, community and campus projects that are open to everyone.

The Lost Year: 1990-1991

The Montage of Kennesaw State College
About three or four years ago, a certain yearbook staff worked many hours on a college yearbook. The staff took photos, wrote copy, did layout and production design for the book. Some of the photos were funny, some were more on the serious side. Many things occurred that year, even interesting events happened to take place during the year and many students, faculty and staff were looking forward to the arrival of the 1990-1991 Montage.

On the arrival of the book, the staff members would rejoice because the result of all their hard work would be known to all. But, alas, this was not to be. The way a yearbook is actually produced involves many steps. To do a yearbook you would need at least one good computer and at least a few people who know how to use the computer. You would also need one, or maybe two, printers, and the right people to fix either the computer or the printer if anything happened to them. Well, something did happen a few years ago and a yearbook never reached the college campus. The pages that follow contain pages what would have been in that yearbook.
Here's mud in your eye!

Friends enjoy their just desserts after the Pie Toss on KSC Day.

As the Coordinator of Student Publications, Ed is the Talisman's Advisor and just an all around good guy. He doesn't hesitate to drop whatever he is doing to help figure out a problem or answer a question. Having Ed across the hall has made my life much easier these last few months.
Lyric Cosby

Lyric was in charge of student organizations. He obtained photos and/or copy for Delta Sigma Theta, Delta Sigma Pi, NAACP, Circle K, Tri Beta, Ms. KSC, Mr. KSC, Stepshow, John Amos, Cornell West, SGA Awards and AASA Awards.

Jefferson Holbrook

Jefferson was the editor of the Talisman Fall '94 and Winter '95. He is responsible for the opening color pages and "The Lost Years" Section.
I came the Editor at the end of April, 1995. I was responsible for the rest of the book: layout, editing photos and stories of events that occurred before I took over, meeting deadlines, cover design, etc.

Step Into A Career...With a Future

You have completed a major portion of your education. Now is the time to put your newfound knowledge to work in a way that will benefit you and the company you choose to serve. You'll begin your new career with a conviction that you have made the best career decision possible. Therefore, you owe it to yourself to thoroughly investigate all facets of any career opportunity.

Does the position provide for career advancement? Are the financial considerations healthy? Does the opportunity include competitive salary and the benefits package you need to sustain yourself and perhaps a family? Most importantly, what is the background of the prospective employer? Long-term job security can only be calculated by examining the company's track record.

At Kroger we pride ourselves in being able to assure you about these considerations. Generations of Americans have identified the Kroger name with leadership in the food chain industry. And today, we are more excited and optimistic about our future expansion than we have ever been throughout Kroger's long and successful history.

Kroger's accelerated growth dictates the need to fill a variety of positions available to college graduates. We currently have managerial openings to interest ambitious and hardworking individuals. Regardless of your training, Kroger may be able to offer you an opportunity that will help you succeed in your chosen profession.

Special thanks to Ed Bonza and Mary Kay Kimmitt, without whose guidance, patience, and advice, this book may not have come to be.

Thank you to all of the student organizations who responded to repeated memos & phone calls and submitted photos!

Thank you to the Sentinel, who I borrowed many photos from in the last few weeks, and to individuals who brought photos by the office.

Great big thank yous to Michael Redd (Director of Sports Medicine) and Coach Whitlock, without whose photos and information, there would not have been a sports section this year.

Thank you to everyone in the Student Life Center who put up with me running in and out of there for information, especially Ruthann and Brian for your help.

Finally, thanks to Ralph who didn't mind my grousing when promised pictures and write-ups didn't materialize the day before each deadline.

Good Luck to Todd Fleeman with the Talisman Quarterly next year. You're already off to a great start, I'm sure it'll be great!

To anyone who is upset about anything that is in or is not in the book, I sincerely apologize. I think I did a pretty good job in just three months without losing my husband, job, GPA or my sanity.
