OUR CAN OF WORMS

There's an ancient cliche that alludes a problem to "opening a can of worms". That is because once freed, they start slithering about, crawling out of the can, and moving so that at no two moments do they present the same picture.

Severance is very much like that can of worms. For every person in the know that one talks to, a different slant on the picture is presented. Severance is not a cut and dried "if we sever we get this; if we stay we get that".

It is more of a matter of weighing all the pros and cons and going with the heaviest argument. But those arguments have to be weighed with the right attitude. We all have heard of the impending faculty vote on the matter, but it should be understood that even if the vote is unanimous, severance will not instantly take place. It is more likely to take several years.

"Then why bother at all?" some would ask. "It's not going take place while I'm here." The answer is that status quo simply isn't good enough. Southern Tech has reached the ultimate point of maturity in staying tied with Georgia Tech, and we're beginning a slow slide backwards.

Our biggest problem is one of not having direct representation with the Board of Regents. Every time we need something that must be approved by the Board, it first has to cross Dr. Pettit's desk and then it is he that pleads the case before them. What happens when there is a conflict between that cause and GT's?

Put yourself in Pettit's place. Imagine that it is 4 a.m. in the dorms and you are suddenly wrenched out of a sound sleep by your neighbor's 4000 decible stereo system. I would like to see you plead your case to the dorm super that your neighbor has the right to blow the windows out of the building and wake everyone up because turning down the system makes it harder to hear. Pettit is the president of GT and that is where his loyalty is. It is simply against human nature to do something well that your heart simply isn't into doing at all.

There is also the question of money. Not for the future, but rather, in the past. As one example: Dorm deposits are one of the few student funds that may draw interest in the bank [to be used for improvements, etc.] and Georgia Tech's deposits are doing just that. But no one seems able to pin down what STI's deposits were doing. This is because of what I call "jet-lag" between us and Georgia Tech. Our business office is merely a clearing house and has no real authority to approve expenditures. That is GT's turf.

And what about all of the contributions made to Georgia Tech in our name that haven't been delivered to us? Can GT present the Chancellor of the Regents with exacting books showing the disposal of all cash? Our own Foundation here on campus has done surprisingly better in its short history than GT did for us in all the 30 years of our association.

There is so much involved between our two institutions over the past 30 years that it will take time to straighten out. Severance is not an overnight affair.

Severance then has to be looked at from the point of view of "what's best for the student in the future?" If we keep waiting for the right time, then we will always be stuck where we are.

It is similar to trying to save enough money to get married...that day never comes. We simply have to jump in and keep thrashing about until all problems are minimized.

Next week I will include several interviews with faculty and staff here on campus and examine the severance issue from both points of view.

Dear Editor:

I think the smart-alecked crack by Stan Otts in the last issue of the STING was in very poor taste considering his standing on the newspaper and all. I believe he'll know what I'm talking about.

To get to the point, I, and I would presume quite a few other people, am sick and tired of this constant raking of Paul Smith every time the chance presents itself. As to Mr. Smith's efforts in advancement up the ladder being described as "too Machiavellian", I would like to hear some credible evidence that Smith himself is the power behind his promotions.

I also recall reading in a past issue of the STING where some student wrote that he could not see how Paul Smith could handle any new promotion when he could not get people jobs in the position he is in now. Buddy, whoever wrote that letter had better open his eyes to the facts of life. When you're on the market with hundreds of other graduates you had better be sure of the fact that your [chance of] getting a job right away is pretty slim. Even the job folders in the Placement Office have between five and twenty signatures; so in other words: "There's competition out there!" If you weren't complaining about Paul Smith, it would likely be someone else. He's doing everything possible to get people jobs.

In all fairness, though, I don't believe the circumstances of Smith's promotion were in order. The job was not open to all candidates. However, I think one important fact is being overlooked as to the entire matter: Regardless of how anyone thinks, it is the administration which runs this school and if you say otherwise you are simply deceiving yourself. What the administration has given the students is what it felt the students could have, otherwise you can be damn sure we wouldn't have it. Sounds tough, but that's the way it is.

Besides, we're not here to play politics, we're here to learn.

Steve Rowland

Mr. Rowland:

If you're going to quote my column, at least get it correctly. The complete sentence from which you extracted the quote reads: "The usual student opinion (those that even care) of Paul Smith has been that he is....somewhat power hungry... that his tactics, etc..." The day this publication comes out, you will find another copy of the 16 Jan 78 issue with these statements flagged in your mailbox.

As for his handling of the Placement Office, I personally have no comment. The letter you mention was published in the 14 Nov 77 issue, and I have contacted its author for a reply that may or may not make next issue.

I will say that I realize jobs are scarce. Mr. Smith received high praise from one faculty member I spoke with concerning the operation of Placement/CoOp (P/C) during the sizable economic slump of 73-75. Noteworthy, however, is that at that time, P/C was Mr. Smith's sole responsibility. P/C is a full time job that must be constantly hammered away at in order to attract all available industries to our campus; and I don't see how Mr. Smith can do P/C justice while simultaneously supervising 60-odd per cent of the services and departments on campus.

You as much as agree with my first point in that column when you admit that you perceive irregularities in the appointment of the Dir. of the Off. of Development.

The administration on campus is simply Dr. Carlson and Mr. P.V. Smith. Jack Selter and Hoyt McClure have left the GoatShed. Robert Azar has been reduced to a minor role as was Lewis G. Van Gorder several quarters ago.

Regretably our worst loss was in 1974 when a heart attack took the life of William Glenn. He was perhaps the finest man I've ever known.

Continuing...as far as our not having what we don't deserve, I suggest you reread last week's cover story. I reference Dr. Kennedy's sixth question. It is this writer's opinion that the GoatShed puts up very little question to Dr. Pettit's whims, and Pettit's loyalty is justifiably with GT not STI.

And finally, if somebody doesn't play politics here on campus for you students, you're going to wake up some sad day to find yourself plowed under and a crop of GT graduates basking in the sun with their roots firmly grasping what is rightfully yours as an STI grad.

The fact that I personally am not thrilled by Paul Smith is a very minute concern in the great scheme of things.

I believe you'll find the faction that is Pro-Smith a minority compared to either those that are anti- , or those that don't give a damn.

Dear Editor:

Are the students of STI aware of the fact that our institution is having its first program review of the Financial Aid Department by HEW?

It will take place from 8 to 12 on Tuesday, January 31, 1978. Guidelines for the review have been sent to the Goat Shed and are a matter of public record and are open to your inspection.

Students who would like to air Financial Aid grievances should be present at this time to speak with Don Woodside.

COORDINATOR OF STUDENT DEVELOPMENT POSITION

Dean of Students, Charles E. Smith has announced that the selection process for the new Coordinator of Student Development is nearing completion. This position will fill the counselor vacancy left by Mr. Jack Selter over a year ago.

Shortly after Smith's arrival at Southern Tech in October, he appointed an Advisory Screening Committee to assist in the selection of a Student Development Coordinator. Serving on this committee were Mr. Ron Young of the TET Department, Ms. Mary Gunn of the AET Department, Ms. Reginia Doyle, Co-Op Coordinator, Mr. Charles Lumsden, Director of Housing, Mr. Paul Tippens, Director of Special Studies, and Ms. Davina Henderson, a student in the TET Department. Along with Dean Smith, this group reviewed approximately 40 applications and recommended a top list of 12 candidates. From this list Dean Smith has selected 5 individuals who have been invited to campus for interviews.

Each candidate invited to campus has been interviewed by school personnel who will be working most directly with the Student Development position. Student leaders have also been involved in the interviewing process. The selection process should be finalized by the end of January and the position filled by mid-February.

STUDENT CENTER MOVIE SCHEDULE

On Wednesday, February 1st at 8:00 p.m. we will show MOTHER, JUGS AND SPEED. This movie, in the style of M*A*S*H*, is a "black and blue" comedy about the trials and tribulations of a private ambulance service. Their frenzied antics involve outmaneuvering both their creditors and their competitors and, incidentally, saving lives along the way. This film is a mixture of fast-talking anti-heroics, pure slapstick and brutal realism. Each character imparts charm, while trying to survive the terror which comes with dealing with disaster in the urban night, where human life has its price, plus 50¢ per mile.

Fund-raising is aimed primarily at industry, business, individuals, corporations, other organizations or associations and friends of Southern Tech. Funds are used to aid STI in its educational, cultural, social, civic and professional endeavors and development.

The officers for 1978 are President-L. Glenn Dewberry, Jr., president of Atlantic Steel Company; Vice-president-Jack R. Kelly, executive vice-president of Scientific Atlanta, Inc.; Treasurer-Robert W. Hays, STI English professor; and Executive Secretary-Robert Azar.

The Foundation recently made its Distinguished Service Awards ranged from $300 to $500 and were presented to: Thomas H. Carmichael, IET; Robert C. Carter, EET; Charles R. Freeman, MET; Kathleen A. Hall, Math; James W. Hardwick, Math; Albert J. Hunkin, English; John L. Keown, EET; Edward J. Muller, AET; John R. Murphy, MET; Ranakumar Nadella, Physics; W.S. ### GEE, DAVE, DIDJA HAFTA?

Mr. David Duty, Director of the Southern Tech Student Center since July 1, 1977, recently tendered his resignation effective at the end of the current academic year. No official reason was given for his, resignation. Dean of Students, Charles E. Smith said, "Dave's resignation came as a surprise to me and I am sorry that he has chosen to leave Southern Tech at this time. At the same time I wish Dave every success in his new position. During Dave's short stay at Southern Tech he has made some real contributions in getting the Student Center off to a good start, putting food service back on its feet and improving the orientation program for new students and parents. Dave's energy and experience will be difficult to replace." Dean Smith has indicated that he will spend some time reevaluating the student affairs needs in the Student Center - Student Activities area before initiating a selection process to find a replacement for Mr. Duty.

VETERANS BENEFITS ARE NOT AUTOMATIC!

Veterans eligible to draw V.A. Benefits while attending college should be aware that mere attendance does not ensure their receiving a monthly check.

Southern Tech, adhering to governing laws relative to responsibility when unnecessary overpayments have been made, requires that each veteran or dependant who wish to draw V.A. Benefits process through the Veteran Affairs Office each quarter. This is a good policy as often Veterans decide to forgo their benefits to use them at a later date.

Veterans, or dependants who are attending Southern Tech, and who have not completed their "Veteran Status Card", for payment, will not be processed by the Veteran Affairs Office until this has been accomplished.

NEW FOR IET

Chancellor Simpson of the Board of Regents has authorized President Pettit of Ga. Tech to go ahead and offer the Option in Industrial Distribution under the Bachelor of Industrial Engineering Technology Degree here at Southern Tech.

This is part II of an article dealing with the Southern Tech Dormitories. The interview is between Don Perry and the Director of Housing, Coach Charles Lumsden :

Q: What are the responsibilities of dorm residents?

A: Responsibilities of the residents are outlined within the Dormitory Resident Guidebook, the Student Rules and Regulations Handbook and their individual dormitory contracts.

Q: How are dorm supervisors selected?

A: Any person interested in being a supervisor must complete an application. Supervisors are then selected by interview sessions which include the Director of Housing and the two resident supervisors.

Q: What can dorm residents do to improve living conditions?

A: Residents are constantly urged to present ideas and suggestions on ways and means to improve the environment and conditions of residence living.

Q: Who establishes dorm rules and policies?

A: The present dormitory rules and policies as stated in the DORMITORY RESIDENT GUIDEBOOK were established in a rough draft by the Dean of Students and the Housing Director in the summer of 1976.

Copies were distributed to a number of residents and also to the administration for further input and recommendations. After reviewing this information the guidebook was approved by Dr. Carlson. Beginning Fall Quarter, 1976 the guidebook was distributed to all resident students.

The Guidebook will be periodically reviewed and revisions made when appropriate.

Q: What is the alcoholic beverage policy for the dorms?

A: In the dormitory it is permissible for a Southern Tech student, or a student and guest, to consume an alcoholic beverage in their room. If he/she proceeds outside of the room with the beverage, or invites additional guests into the room for a drink, it is illegal. For more than a Southern Tech student and guest, and/or roommate and guest, regulations require registering for a Southern Tech private event.

Q: Define the open house policy for the dorms.

A: The policy is enforced and is as follows:

1. Visitation hours are:

12:00 Noon - 12:00 P.M. Monday through Thursday
12:00 Noon - 2:00 A.M. Friday
9:00 A.M. - 2:00 A.M. Saturday
9:00 A.M. - 12:00 P.M. Sunday

2. Guests of the opposite sex who are not registered as Southern Tech students are to be accompanied by their host/hostess while in the building.

3. Any resident holds absolute veto power over his/her roommate's Open House Privilege. That is to say, if one roommate does not want a male/female in the room at any time, he/she may so state, and his/her wish must be granted.

4. The open house policy sanctions only visitations, meaning periodic visits by guests. Specifically, over night visitation of the opposite sex, is forbidden in campus living units.

Just a reminder to everyone to keep supporting the Hornets.

TAU ALPHA PI

Many Southern Tech students may not be aware of what Tau Alpha Pi actually is.

Tau Alpha Pi is a National Honor Society who's purpose is to provide recognition for a high standard of scholarship among students in technical institutes. Southern Tech's chapter of Tau Alpha Pi is very active in school and social events. All Southern Tech members benefit from being an active part of this fine society.

If you are interested in finding out more about Tau Alpha Pi please feel free to come to the next meeting on Thursday, February 2 at 12 noon in room 277.

SIGMA PI

In our meeting on January 12, the Sigma Pi's elected two new officers. John McCann was elected as Fourth Counselor and Peter Larson was elected as our new Herald. Congratulations from all the Brothers to these two fine men. We're sure they will do a great job.

Sigma Pi just returned from a ski trip at Sky Valley. The slopes were good and we had a great time. We're planning another trip soon, so all brothers make plans to attend. You'll have a great time.

Sigma Pi's basketball team is still undefeated with impressive victories over BSU, Bombers, and the Backstabbers. Norris McElroy, the coach, has done a great job along with good shooting and defense from the team. Our next game is Tuesday, January 31 at 9:00 p.m. against the Muskrats. We will also play Sigma Nu on Thursday, February 2 at 6:30 p.m. Everyone come out to see Sigma Pi win.

The Brothers of Sigma Pi would also like to congratulate our new pledges: David Peabody, Mark Cormier, and Tim Strickland. If you feel interested in Sigma Pi please attend our meetings every Thursday at 12:00 noon in room 120 of the Student Center.

ALPHA XI ALPHA

Well, another week has gone by--this one filled with tests, homework, and quite a few worried faces. But, we don't despair, the sisters of Alpha Xi Alpha can study and have fun, too! For example, our Wednesday night beer bust was great fun and we especially appreciated the use of David Lynn's escort/chauffer service.

This week we had a chance to swap recipes and clothes at our covered dish dinner. This turned out to be a good time to compare tastes in clothes and enjoy tastes in food. Everything was delicious, especially Ann's pie!

We're planning a lot of get-togethers and projects for the future, so come share your ideas with us. Open meetings every Thursday 12 noon in Conference room A.

WE WANT YOU!

AIA

Our Student Chapter of the American Institute of Architects will hold another meeting Wednesday, February 1 in room 568 at noon. At last Wednesday's meeting we ran out of time discussing programs and activities for the rest of the year so we will continue this Wednesday with the formation of committees and voting on activities. We had a large turnout and heard many great ideas. But we can never have too many members so all AET Students are urged to come and see what your AIA is doing for you.

A tour of the new building at the Coca-Cola plant on North Avenue is planned. Details will be announced next week.

AIE

Southern Tech AIE will host former graduate Frank Trowbridge on Tuesday, January 31 at 12:00 noon in room 358. All students are welcome.

ASCE

The next meeting of the ASCE will be Tuesday, January 31 in room 568 at 12:00. This is an organizational meeting to form programs and activities for the next year. Plans will also be discussed for a slide presentation of Rapid Transit Systems on February 14.

This is an important meeting and all CET Students should make every effort to attend, especially sophomores and freshmen, as a lot of the programs initiated will concern you. Remember, the only way to effect change is through action. See you there.

ATTN: ALL ORGANIZATIONS & GREEKS:

The running Hornets of STI played LaGrange College, Wednesday night January 25. It pitted the GIAC number one and number two teams. LaGrange was 5-2 going into the game, STI was 7-0.

I arrived a few minutes late, but as I walked in I glanced at the scoreboard and it was 12-6, our favor. There was much court action from both teams. A good example of this is the score. With five minutes left in the half it was 31-22, Hornets ahead. Within those five minutes the score jumped to 39-34, with the Hornets still in the lead.

Halftime over, both teams came bounding back on to the floor. The ball was put into action and it all started again. There was just as much action as in the first half. It was a close game, but the Hornets led it all the way. At ten minutes left it was 53-43, five minutes left saw the score at 60-55. Within four minutes the score went to 65-61. That shows a well played game. In that last minute there was a total of six points scored. The final was 67-65. This win brought STI's G.I.A.C. record to 8-0.

The stands were jammed with fraternities as well as the other fans. Lets try to keep it that way for the rest of the season.

Keep up the good work team.
