

Spring Fashion Preview

Scene II LTD models will kick off the spring fashion season Sunday, Feb. 25, when they step on stage at the Cobb Civic Center in clothing from Harris and Friends, Cumberland Mall. The benefit show will help the United Methodist Women at Union Chapel Church. Among those modeling at the Sunday show, which begins at 6 p.m., will be (L-R) Jeri Bonner, Deane Bonner and Janet Arnold. Jeri is wearing a sheer wine and mocha aztec print crepe dress with plunging neckline and shirred white sleeve, plus a narrow skirt topped with sash. Scene II Director Deane Bonner shows plenty of leg with an off-white square-shouldered blazer and slim matching skirt with side pockets and front split, combined with peach blouse. Janet wears the loose woven T-shirt dress, with sienna linen constructed blazer and straw double wrap belt. These and many other fashions will be shown at Marietta show. Scene II models will also give spring shows at the World Congress Center in Atlanta, in Rome and Dallas, Ga., and in Pittsburgh, Pa. Ms. Bonner says new, fresh models who were welcomed to Scene II.
