Kennesaw College, Marietta, Georgia, 1981 Montage, Volume 14

Ken-ne-saw College ('ken-ne-sô 'käl-ij), n. an institution of higher learning in the University System of Georgia. The college opened in Fall of 1966 as a junior college. Now a four-year college, Kennesaw graduated its first senior class in June, 1980.

*com-mun-ni-ca-tion (ke-myū-ne-'kā-shen),
n. a technique for expressing ideas effectively (e.g., a discussion, a lecture, a look, a song, a secret, a smile . . .)*

*pickin'
and grinnin',
lolling,
laughing,
joking, gabbing,
flirting,
dreaming . . .*

fun ('fun), n. what provides amusement or enjoyment.

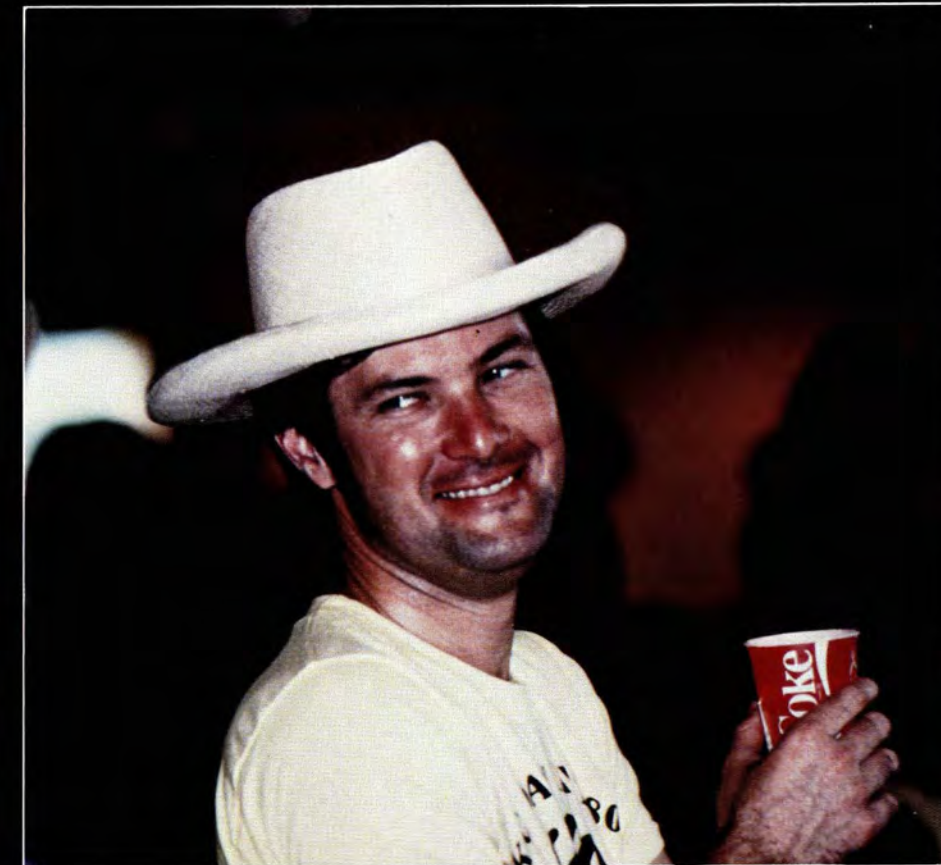

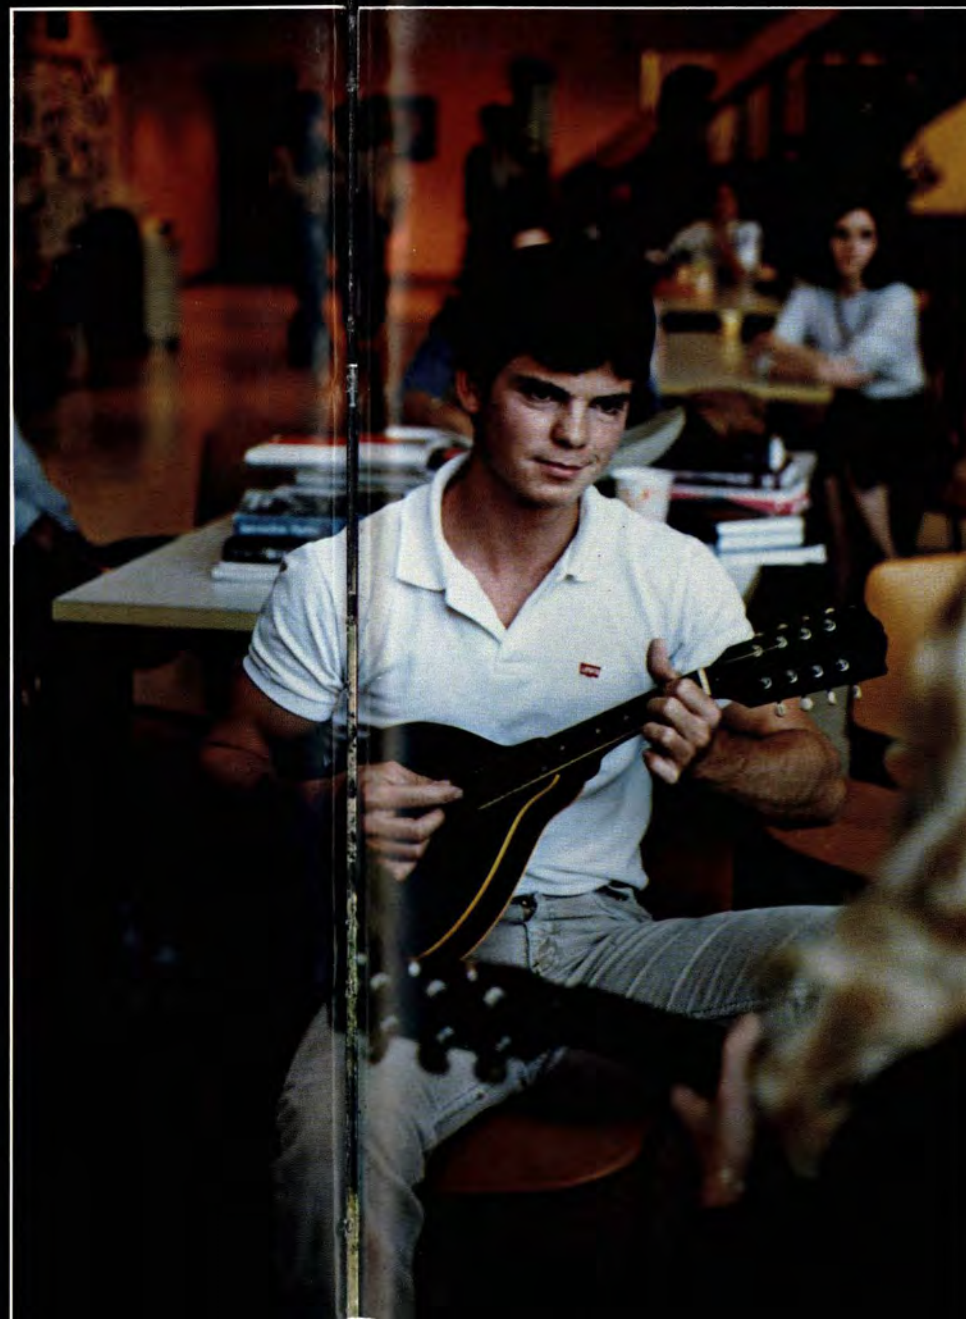

dream ('drēm), n. 1. a visionary creation of the imagination. 2. something notable for its beauty, excellence or enjoyable quality. 3. a goal or purpose, ardently desired.

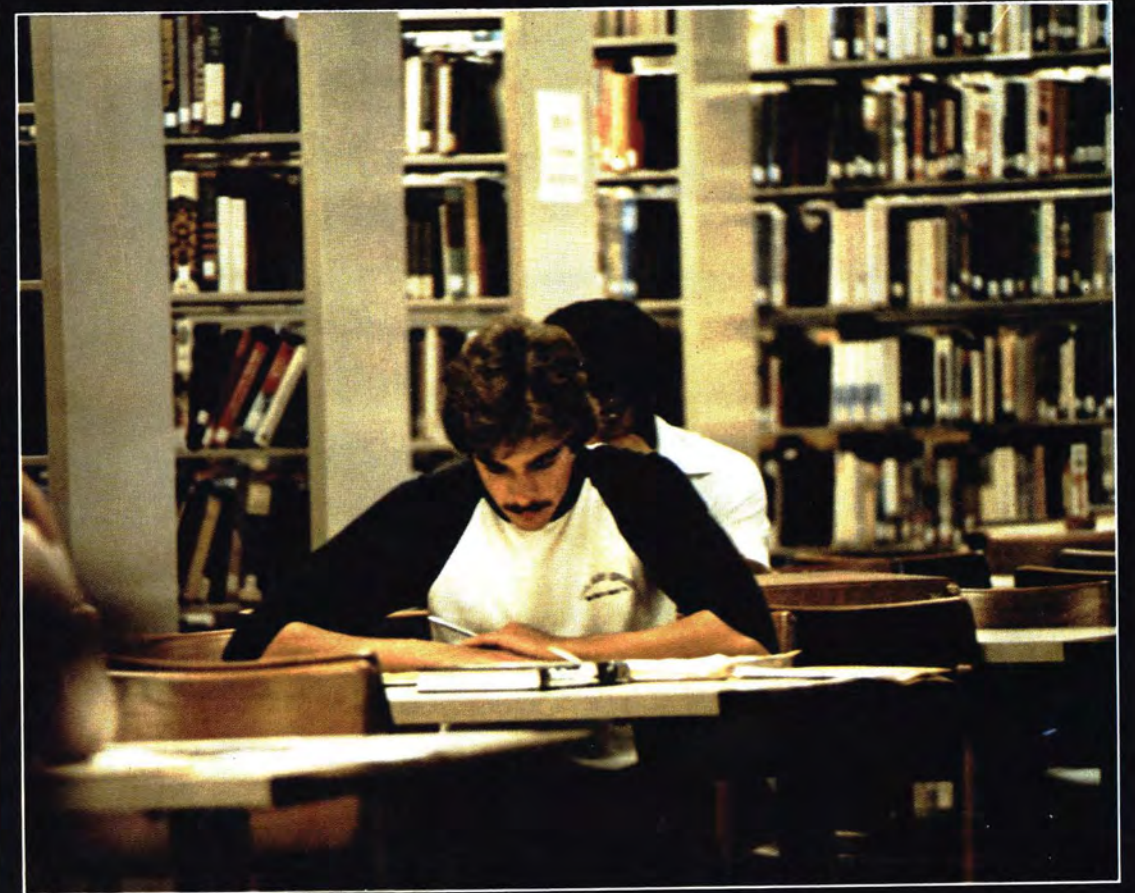

learning ('ler-ning), v. the acquiring of knowledge or skill by study, instruction, or experience (i.e., lectures and labs, headaches and homework, dissertations and discoveries . . .)

friend ('frend), n. 1. a person whom one knows well and likes. 2. a person on the same side in a struggle. 3. a person who helps, responds, and understands . . .

It is the people who give Kennesaw its life and make it something special.

create (krē-'āt), v. 1. to bring into being; cause to be; make, form, put together. 2. to produce through imaginative skill . . .

To create is to question, to strive, and to express.

mon-tage (mān-tāzh), n. a composite picture made by combining separate pictures . . .

We hope you enjoy it.

The 1981 MONTAGE is dedicated to
Dr. Horace W. Sturgis
President of Kennesaw College
From July 1965 to March 1981

Dr. Horace W. Sturgis, the founding president of Kennesaw College, retired this spring. During his sixteen-year term as president, Dr. Sturgis successfully guided the college through the growth that has made Kennesaw the eighth largest institution in the University system. Begun as a junior college in 1966 with 1,014 students, Kennesaw became a senior college in 1978, and had an enrollement of 3,903 students Fall Quarter 1980.

Dr. Vernon Crawford, Chancellor of the University

System of Georgia, gives much of the credit for Kennesaw's high academic standards and growth to Dr. Sturgis. After citing Dr. Sturgis' "strong dedication to high quality education" and his "widely recognized leadership abilities," Dr. Crawford said, "I think he has done a superb job as president of Kennesaw College."

Faculty, staff, and students miss his presence on campus, but we recall with gratitude and appreciation all that he continues to mean to the college.

Horace Sturgis
Most Popular Boy

A native of Pennsylvania, Dr. Sturgis received his BS degree from Piedmont College, his MS degree from the University of Georgia, and his Ph.D. from New York University. He served as director of the Ground School of Aviation at UGA and also served in the U.S. Navy during W.W. II.

Prior to becoming the founding president of Kennesaw, he was an associate registrar at Georgia Tech, where he had also served as an assistant professor of physics. Before beginning his 39 years in the University System of Georgia, he spent seven years in public schools as a high school principal in Fayetteville and Eatonton, and a teacher at North Fulton High School in Atlanta.

Dr. Sturgis has been active in the leadership of several professional and civic organizations as well as in community affairs. He is a member and past director of the Cobb County Chamber of Commerce, a former member of the Board of Trustees of the Metropolitan Atlanta Chapter of the American Red Cross, and a member of the Board of Trustees of the Cobb Community Symphony Orchestra. He is also a member and past president of the Marietta Kiwanis Club. Dr. Sturgis is a past president of the Georgia Association of Collegiate Registrars and Admissions Officers. He has held membership on committees of the Southern Association of Colleges and Schools, and is a past president of the Georgia Association of Colleges.

We wish Dr. and Mrs. Sturgis happiness in the forthcoming years and look forward to seeing them both frequently on campus.

Special thanks to Mozelle Manley Allen and her grandson, Todd Curlee, for the use of the Piedmont College yearbook, The 1934 Yonahian.

face ('fās) n. the front part of the head including the eyes, nose, and mouth.

Lights, Camera, Action!

The Media Club provides its members with the opportunity to gain hands-on experience with various types of media equipment and to become familiar with their functions, operations, and capabilities. The organization also provides information to its members in the form of instructional seminars, workshops, and guest speakers. Some of the activities the club has been involved in this year include the video taping of K.C. Day, the production of educational programs, equipment operation workshops, the video taping of graduation, and several tours of Cable News Network.

Have Your Say Through S. G. A.

The Student Government Association is dedicated to addressing student needs and to providing students with a voice in campus policies. The organization is a group of individuals working toward a common goal, doing collectively what they cannot accomplish individually, by working with faculty, administration, the Board of Regents, and the state legislature. The S.G.A. is an opportunity for responsible, concerned adults to have a say in their educational process.

Black Student Alliance

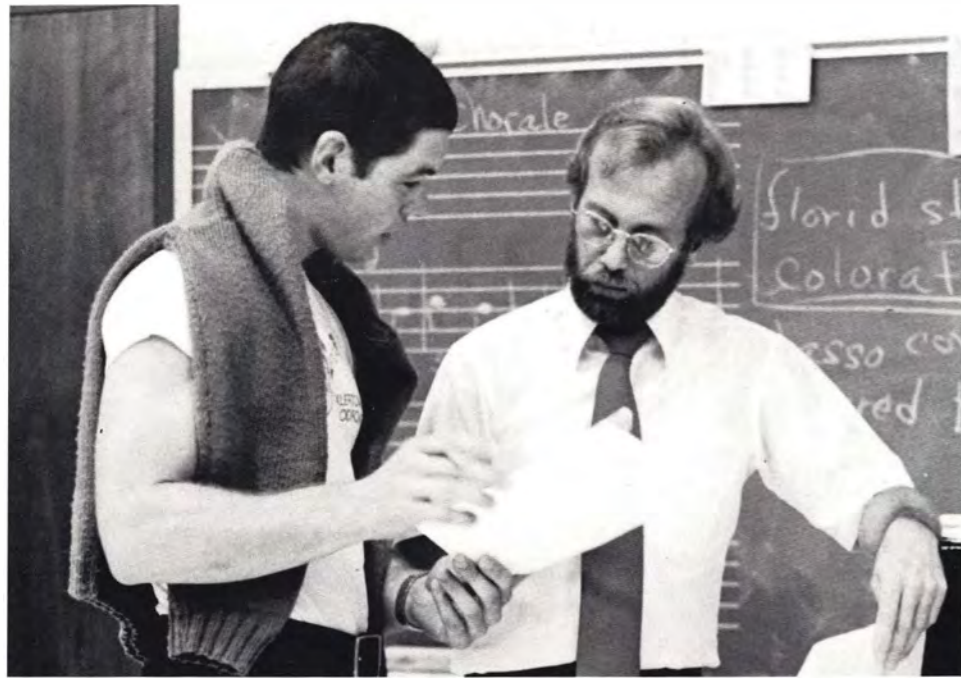

The Black Student Alliance of Kennesaw College promotes an awareness of Black culture and history on and around campus. Its interests are geared to the creation of an environment conducive to the pursuit of academic excellence, career aspiration, the search for spiritual enlightenment, and the attainment of moral integrity. The club structures itself with a dignity that all students at Kennesaw College can be proud of.

Fowl Play

It's late afternoon. It's cold and dark. The wind is blowing just enough to make shivers run up your spine. The air is full of tension. Suddenly, a gun is fired. Is it murder? No, it's the start of the annual Turkey Trot at Kennesaw College. This year most of the runners were bundled in warm-up suits and mittens to fight off the cold wind and stiffening muscles.

Despite the cold, dreary weather, everyone was determined to finish the race. Rusty (the four legged fellow shown above) provided encouragement and companionship to Toby Hopper throughout the five-mile run.

It took almost an hour, but Samir finally reached the top of the greased pole and pulled down the prize - a twenty dollar bill.

The Mr. and Ms. Legs Contests always draw an enthusiastic crowd and finding judges never seems to be a problem. Winners, Greg Queen and Becky Dawson, each received a robe, a crown, and a dozen roses.

A wide variety of musical entertainment began with a performance by Steve Everett and the Kennesaw College Jazz Band. Soon after that the campus was invaded by the John Mohr Mackintosh Pipe and Drum Marching Band.

Here, backed by Dan Manning on guitar and Dave Strohauser on percussion, she sings some of her original songs along with songs of love (Rickie Lee Jones' "Chuck E.'s in Love"), songs of lament (Nicolette Larson's "Rio de Janeiro Blues" with Martie Barrett on flute), and songs of tenderness (Dan Hicks and the Hot Licks' "How Can I Miss You When You Won't Go Away?"). Terrific!

What a Trip!

The Leadership Conference is a time for students, faculty, and administration to become more understanding of each other's needs. The peaceful setting of Rock Eagle was the site for this seminar coordinated by Danny Paulk and Chuck Goodrum. Sessions on problem solving techniques were interspersed with a Halloween party and times for relaxation. Participants (top picture) from left to right are Gird Romer, Danny Paulk, Cindi Dobbins, Tom Menendez, Cathy Brown, Ben McKenzie, Stephanie Parker, Roxlynn Spencer, Maha Fiuzalima, Mary McGarr, Mike Garner, Jodie Trail, Max Tate, Janet Hammond, Rich Olivolo, Debbie Wolfe, Howard Shealy, and Chuck Goodrum.

Kennesaw's First Fraternity - Sigma Phi Epsilon

Sigma Phi Epsilon is a many faceted organization dedicated to allowing its members to achieve their full potential at Kennesaw College through involvement in campus and community projects and activities. The fraternity attracts those students who are hard working and concerned with their school. We have members from almost every other organization on campus including the SGA and the Academic Council. However, we are not just a bunch of workhorses - there aren't many people who can work harder than we do, but there aren't many who can play harder either! That statement gets down to the real nitty-gritty of Sigma Phi Epsilon - enjoyment - enjoyment of accomplishment alongside friends who will remain friends for a lifetime.

Sigma Phi Epsilon's activities for the year included helping with the Blood Drive and the Bicycle Race, raising money for Egleston Children's Hospital, and earning funds for the chapter with poster sales in Athens and a Golden Hearts Bake Sale. But it wasn't all work. There were also a Halloween party and competition in intramural football and softball.

spe•lunk•ing (spi-'lun-king)n. the hobby or practice of exploring caves.

Some Kennesaw students and faculty members have been exploring various caves in Georgia this year. Pictured at right are Ed Bostick, Bruce Thompson, Ben McKenzie, Bob DeNyse, and Chuck McCampbell at the entrance of Salt Peters Cave near Cartersville. This cave was used as an ammunition dump during the Civil War. Other caves that have been explored are Rockmart Cave (also near Cartersville) and Ellison's and Petty John's caves on Pidgeon Mountain near Lafayette.

Caving is an inexpensive sport and it is safe as long as precautions are taken. Interested students hope that in the future they will be able to organize a Spelunking Club.

Kennesaw's First Dorm - Home Sweet Treehouse

tree•house (ˈtre-hoʊz) n. a structure that houses an enterprising young student with no means of transportation on a college campus without dorm facilities.

It all started in the fall of 1979. Just before fall quarter began, Robert Harold and I built a reclus in the trees on the north side of campus. I lived there during fall quarter. The noise of the highway eventually drove me to find another spot. Ben McKenzie helped me build a new shelter on the south side of campus. We used no nails - all points of contact were lashed. It was built with good intention and was used in the same way. I spent my days going to classes and working on campus and I spent my nights in the shelter. Then, one day in August, 1980, I found an eviction notice tacked to the tree. The administration was very kind in letting me stay until the end of summer quarter. Before I moved out, I was interviewed by two TV stations. They called me Kennesaw College's first resident student. The newspapers called me an environmentalist and a naturalist. I was just having fun.

Circle K Kennesaw

Circle K is the world's largest collegiate service organization, represented by over 13,000 members in 700 clubs on campuses throughout the Western Hemisphere. Circle K Kennesaw is sharing, caring and more. It's improving your community and giving a part of yourself. Caring is expressed by assisting the underprivileged, the handicapped, the youth, and the elderly in the community. Circle K Kennesaw was started in November, 1980 and its first projects included helping with Cobb Christmas, developing a continuous program with the YWCA Crisis Center, and helping with the Winter Olympics, the March of Dimes Walkathon, the Red Cross Blood Drive, and the Health Fair.
