Presenting Southern Tech's First Vice President, Dr. Harris T. Travis

In addition to the many superior characteristics bestowed upon Southern Tech in recent years, we have been most blessed with another jewel. On Monday, January 4, 1982, Dr. Harris T. Travis assumed the duties of Vice President and Dean of the Faculty----a Southern Tech first.

Dr. Travis is a man of many virtues. Before coming to Southern Tech, he was professor of mechanical engineering technology and head of the Mechanical Engineering Technology department at Purdue University. He earned his doctorate in Vocational-Technical Education from the University of Illinois, his master's in Industrial Engineering from Purdue University, and his bachelor's in Electrical Engineering from Tennessee State. Before joining the faculty at Purdue, Dr. Travis worked for 12 years with the Naval Avionics Facility in Indianapolis, Indiana, as manufacturing supervisor, project and design engineer.

Dr. Travis is also a Baptist minister. In Lafayette, Indiana, he pastored a congregation that began with about twelve people and increased to approximately 180 people at his departure. He has earned the love and respect of many people in his lifetime career as pastor, educator and friend.

As the latest addition to the faculty and staff, Dr. Travis comes armed with a colorful and innovative action plan. He feels it is not enough to come on this earth and just live. It is important that every person attempt to make a contribution to society. In order to make a successful contribution to society, one must first set goals and establish paths to reach those goals. Getting an education is very important. In obtaining goals, one must be willing to give of oneself. He must be honest with himself and pursue the field that will bring him the most happiness.

Dr. Travis is active in a number of national engineering technology associations, and has presented papers in his field at several national professional and technical meetings. He is also heavily involved in community affairs and activities such as the Kawanis, and NAACP. He has served as an educational consultant for a number of industries and colleges throughout the U.S.

In his role as vice president at Southern Tech, Dr. Travis shall respond as a leader in the area of academics. He thrives on being actively and openly involved with students. His goals are what's best for the student. His intent is to foster the finest quality educational program imaginable, beneficial for both the engineering technology student and progressive industrial demand. For example, he supports regulating class sizes in order to maintain the interpersonal relationship between instructor and student, most evident here at STI. He will also be teaching courses here at STI, to increase and solidify his contact with students.

As the true value of a rare and precious stone is never appreciated until another feels the joy and inspiration of its worth, so should the merits of one great man shine forth upon

The 2nd Annual Women's Career Convention

Do you know how to write an effective resume, perform well in a job interview, negotiate a high salary, or choose the career field that's right for you? Women who are about to enter the business world for the first time can get all their career questions answered at the second annual Atlanta Women's Career Convention, sponsored by Leigh Communications.

The Convention will be held March 12-14 at the Ga. World Congress Center. This conference is the largest public event in the SE devoted to women's employment.

The Women's Career Convention features three days of workshops and seminars covering every aspect of career planning and advancement. In addition, local and national companies will exhibit to recruit women and offer career guidance.

Statistics show that women with college educations are paid only as much as men with eighth grade educations. The median yearly salary for female college graduates is $12,028; for male graduates, the median is $19,433. Learn how to get paid what you're worth in workshops on "Salary Negotiation." As working women, students will also need to know about "Successful Interviewing Techniques," "Risk Taking," "Time Management," and "Creative Job Hunting."

Many students are unaware that 80% of all job openings are never advertised. Discover Atlanta's hidden job market by talking with exhibiting businesses about career opportunities in their fields. Exhibitors include Coca-Cola, Digital Equipment Corp., Equitable Life Assurance, Federal Reserve Bank, and the FBI, to name just a few.

Nowhere else can students gather so much career information so conveniently. In addition to workshops and exhibits, students will find valuable career planning books and resources, many at discounted prices, at the Convention Bookstore, located on the exhibit floor.

If you buy tickets before Feb. 28, the cost for the convention is only $15 a day or $35 for all three days. Advance tickets are available through Leigh Communications and all SEATS outlets. After Feb. 28, tickets are $20 a day, or $45 for all three days at the door and at SEATS outlets. Students showing a student ID card can buy tickets at the door for only $15 a day.

Convention hours are 9am to 5pm on Fri. and Sat. and 10:30am to 4pm on Sun. Everyone who attends will also receive a copy of The Women's Yellow Pages, a career planning booklet that contains informative articles and recruitment advertising.

For more information about the Women's Career Convention, contact Sally Harris at Leigh Communications Inc., 676 St. Clair, Suite 1800, Chicago, IL 60611, 312-951-7600; or in Atlanta, call the Women's Career Convention Hotline: 404-892-0538.

USG Studies Abroad

Students in Georgia state colleges and universities can earn academic credit and visit another country at the same time. The USG Studies Abroad Program is offering eight summer programs for 1982, about half of them in foreign languages and the others taught in English. Students can earn 10 to 15 hours of credit, which is granted by the student's home institution in Georgia. Length of programs varies from 5 to 9 weeks.

French language instruction is offered in Paris or Quebec, Spanish in Segovia or Mexico City, and German in Eflangen, Germany. The programs taught in English are in London, Italy and Greece, and Japan. Each program provides academic courses, travel in the host country, and a chance to get to know another culture on a personal level.

Interested students should contact the Southern Tech campus representative, Dr. Robert Fischer, or write to USG Studies Abroad, Box 653, Georgia State University, Atlanta, GA 30303. The application deadline is April 1, 1982.

Cutting The Bills

Bill Fannin

I'm sure that everyone is concerned with getting the most they can for the least amount of money. It seems that every day we end up paying more for less with little hope of getting a good deal on anything. This economic squeeze is particularly evident on every college campus. All of us know how hard it is to make our money stretch to the end of each quarter.

Fortunately, there are several little known ways to save a bundle on a variety of services. For example, inexpensive medical care, dental care, auto repair and beauty care are all available. Numerous other services are provided inexpensively if you know where to look.

Where, you ask? From students like yourselves, of course. Many schools rely on the public for the training aids for their students. Those students who have finished their basic training gain practical experience under the supervision of their instructors by practicing on whomever is willing to take advantage of the situation. I know this sounds risky, but take some advice from experience, I believe these schools provide a valuable service.

I get my haircuts at Marietta Cobb Vocational Technical School for $2.00. A complete shampoo, cut and dry is only $4.50 for men or women. The same school also does auto repair work for much less than the going rates. Chiropractic care is available at numerous resident hospitals like Ga. Baptist and Crawford Long. All of these services are much less expensive than the regular rates. I have used these services many times and I am pleased to say I have saved a bundle of money.

If you have a need which might be fulfilled by some of these students, then do yourself and them a favor. Pick up the phone and call for information. I found out about these services by accident, but now that I know where to look, watch out!

from de Caux

Jim Watson was the first and only solver of STINGER #44 so far but Don Comstock, Maurice Khano, John Holloway, Frank Cabeza and ZOTT all solved #45. I'm impressed!!

This week's puzzle comes from our negligent draftsman once again! He has made a note of the three altitudes of a triangle but has lost the paper on which he noted the three side lengths. He needs these exactly. The altitudes are exactly 52cm., 60cm. and 195cm. Can you help him out?

As usual all solutions may be left in my box in the Mathematics Dpt. or given to me in my office, 256 b.

VA Computers To Check Off Possible Payments To Deceased

The Atlanta Veterans Administration Regional Office and 57 other similar offices across the nation are renewing efforts to insure benefit payments are not continued after a veteran dies.

Atlanta Regional Office Director T. R. Whire said he is taking steps to insure "the prompt and accurate termination of VA benefit payments on receipt of notice of the death of a veteran or beneficiary."

He also urged persons receiving VA benefit checks after the death of the beneficiary to contact the VA Regional Office immediately. The office can be reached by toll-free telephone from anywhere in the state. Toll free telephone: 1-800-282-0232.

Whire noted that VA has begun a nationwide computer match of its records to determine whether any benefits are being made to deceased persons.

The computer check is being conducted by the VA Inspector General, utilizing approximately 7.7 million veterans' benefit files and a commercially-owned roster of deceased individuals.

Any matches uncovered by the computer, Whire said, will be thoroughly investigated, and if there is evidence of erroneous payments, recovery action will be taken.

Some Vietnam Vets Get Second Chance With GI Bill

Educationally disadvantaged and unskilled Vietnam Era veterans have a second chance to utilize their remaining GI Bill educational entitlements thanks to recently passed legislation that gives them a one-time, two-year extension of their GI Bill delimiting dates.

According to Atlanta Veterans Admin. Regional Office Director, T. R. Whire, the extended eligibility for certain training programs was included in the Veterans' Health Care, Training and Small Business Loan Act of 1981 signed by Pres. Reagan in Nov. The extension period, Whire said, opened Jan. 1 and runs thru Dec. 31. It applies to educationally disadvantaged or unskilled Vietnam Era veterans who allowed their 10-year delimiting date to expire before using all their entitlement for educational training.

He said eligible veterans may use their remaining entitlement to obtain a high school diploma, or its equivalent, or pursue a program of apprenticeship, other on-the-job training or a program with a vocational objective.

Enrollment in college degree, flight or correspondence courses is not included in the extension. Veterans who have already earned college degrees are ineligible for the extension.

Intramural Bowling Preview

In the first bowling match-up for 1982 all 8 teams had a great time. because of all levels of bowlers we are using a handicap system to give everyone an equal chance. Out of the 32 participants there are 6 ladies bowling, which is a welcome sight for the guys.

Tke has contributed the majority of the participants with three teams.

Lambda Chi has a team with a TBA as their fourth, Nancy Rice. TBA sorority makes up our 4th team. We also have 2 independent teams and a surprise administration team from Student Services. With a tough-to-meet bowling time of 3 P.M. to 5:30 P.M., it's difficult for students to bowl, but it's hard to turn down 75¢ per game and no shoe rental.

Black History Week Activities

Black History Film

"To Be Young, Gifted and Black," a film on the life and work of the late black playwright Lorraine Hansberry, will be shown for Black History Month on Tue., Feb. 9, at Agnes Scott College. Author of the Broadway hit "A Raisin in the Sun," Ms. Hansberry was the first black to win the New York Drama Critic's Award. The film, sponsored by Agnes Scott students for Black Awareness, will be shown at 7pm in Buttrick Hall Film Room. Admission is 50¢.

"To Be Young, Gifted and Black" portrays Ms. Hansberry's experiences as a black artist in America, from her first visit to the South to the streets of Harlem. Much of the film consists of excerpts from her plays, letters, diaries and interviews she gave before her untimely death at the age of 34 in 1965.

The Black Student Association of Southern Tech would like to invite you to participate in our Annual Black History Week Programs from February 8-12. This year's theme is "Progressiveness in the Midst of Adverse Times."

Thanks Jea Summers for a beautiful rush.

We began the quarter with a whole week of inspiration for our Fall pledges and finished the week with initiation. Congratulations to our newly initiates.

We hope everyone enjoyed their extended vacation due to the snow storm.

A "special thanks" goes to the Lambda Chi Alpha fraternity for a most enjoyable evening at the wine and cheese party. The live entertainment was terrific. We considered the party to be a great success. Thanks again.

We celebrated our second year anniversary of our chapter on Jan. 26.

Marathon Volleyball Game. The BSU is sponsoring a Marathon Volleyball Game on Feb. 12 from 6pm to 6am in the gym. Any team of no less than six players may play with a donation of one dollar per player to the Summer Missions Fund. Each team should come by the BSU office in the Student Center and sign up for the hour(s) your team wishes to play.

Also this quarter, the BSU regular Monday night meetings are at 7:30 pm in Room 119 of the Student Center, and the Thursday Bible Study Luncheon at 12:00pm in the Student Center Ballroom. We have some exciting meetings planned for this quarter so stop by and join the fun.

M.E.T.

M.E.T. students are reminded to check with their advisors during the week of March 22-26, 1982, to get signed up for Pre-registration. Advisors will post their office hours for advising so that you will know when to come by.

Pre-registration will open on March 2, so get your advising and be all signed up at least by Monday, March 1. Don't delay and try to handle both advising and Pre-registration (as well as attend classes) all on one day.

Some advisors will set aside certain hours for advising, others will make appointments, and yet others will maintain open office hours, so be sure you check with your advisor to see what his availability is. Do not expect that the advisor will be held captive during Pre-registration, because we have many other things to do as well.

If you come in late in the Pre-registration period and ask to start advising at that time, we may not have time to finish before the computer closes. Therefore, you may be asked to come back at Registration. Avoid this inconvenience and see your advisor before March 1.

TBA

This is for all those who do not participate in Southern Tech activities.

What? A New Wave party at So. Tech? Why, I thought all So. Tech had was a bunch of brainy engineers! Well--- if you were one of those who thought So. Tech was just books, studying and boring weekends, well, you missed last weekend!

It started out with a very tense and exciting basketball game Saturday night against North Ga. The Hornets beat the number one team in the district which led them to raise their national standing from 19th to 15th! Congratulations!!! What would ya'll do without us girls like Caye with big (I mean loud!) mouths to cheer ya'll on? Keep it up girls!

After the game, CAB put on the New Wave party and all the TBA's came dressed to kill in punk. That's not to mention those crazy Sig Eps! They've got guts. All the wild outfits imaginable could be seen at the party: purple and orange hair and gaudy outfits to name a few. Congrats go to Bill Jones who won 1st place in the costume contest.

TBA had a donut sale one early morning last week. We'd all like to thank the guys in Norton Dorm for not getting mad at us as we invaded them at 7:30 in the morning. Interesting? Yes. It was worth all the pain we had to go through to sell them though.

Our seminar for women in technology last week went well. The speaker from Western Electric answered any questions we could think of. We were sorry Gamma Phi Beta couldn't make it.

Now for the fun and excitement:

VALENTINES PARTY-FRI.-FEB. 12

TBA is going to have their first valentine party and it's going to be big! Everyone is invited so being a friend or a date and come have a good time. If you come, we know you'll have a good time! It will be at the Kenwood Creek clubhouse on Hwy. 41 starting at 8:00. Look for our posters!

PARKING

Due to the many complaints of illegal parking, parking in faculty reserved spaces, and the driving of unregistered cars, vehicles with these violations will be impounded at the owner's expense. This will result in an impound fee and a ticket for the violation, both of these must be paid before the vehicle will be released. Students will not be allowed to park in reserved spaces during working hours 8am to 5pm. Also, there are several lots on campus that have reserved spaces 24 hrs. a day; these spaces are clearly marked with a wide yellow line at the rear of the space. There will be no parking in these spaces at any time.
