PUBLIC NOTICE is hereby given to all persons who may incline to contract for the supply of rations, that the seven following contracts will be entered into for the year 1783. A contract for all rations which may be liable, by the United States.

- 1st, Within the four Eastern States,
- 2d, Within the States of New-York and New-Jersey,
- 3d, Within the State of Pennsylvania,
- 4th, Within the States of Delaware and Maryland,
- 5th, Within the State of Virginia,
- 6th, Within the State of North-Carolina,
- 7th, Within the States of South-Carolina and Georgia.

Proposals for these contracts will be received as follows: For the first, by James Lovell, Esq; at Boston, until the 1st day of December. For the second and third, at this office, until the 15th day of November. For the fourth at this office; for the fifth, by George Webb, Esq; at Richmond; and for the sixth and seventh, by Major-General Greene, until the first day of December.

The rations are to consist of one pound of bread or one pound of flour, one pound of beef or three quarters of a pound of pork, and one gill of rum to each ration; one quart of salt, one quart of vinegar, two pounds of soap, and one pound of candles to every hundred rations. The Contractors are to issue the rations, and upon large issues, three per cent. is to be added to the flesh, to compensate for the waste in distribution.
The payments are to be made as follow:
The accounts of the issues for the month of January, are to be made out by the Contractors, and transmitted, as soon as conveniently may be, after the close of the month, to the treasury for settlement, and the amount which shall be certified by the Comptroller to be due, shall be paid on the first Tuesday in May. The issues for the month of February shall, in like manner, be paid for on the first Tuesday in June: And in like manner for the other months, so that the issues in December 1783, will be paid on the 1st Tuesday of April, 1784.

And for the prevention of disputes, in cases where the ration or any part thereof shall be increased or diminished, the proposals are to contain the prices of the several component parts of the ration, and the Contractors shall be bound to furnish to the several officers the said component parts at such prices as specified, whether the same be drawn for by such officers proportionately or disproportionately, provided that they shall not be bound to issue in the whole to any officer, beyond the amount of the subsistence money allowed by Congress to such officer; and in like manner they shall be bound to issue to the soldiers such articles of the ration at the said prices as the commanding officer or the time being shall order and direct: And to the prisoners, such as the person for that purpose authorized by the Secretary at War, shall order and direct.

To be Sold by the Subscriber,
In Harford Town, Maryland,
THE following Lots and Improvements, viz.
Lot No. 1, in the center of the town, on which is an excellent brick dwelling house, accommodated with every conveniency, a good kitchen, smoke-house, and well of water at the door, a large stable, hay-loft, and chair-house adjoining; likewise an excellent garden, abounding with useful roots and flowers. The house is large, and every way convenient, with cellars under the whole, and finished in the completest manner. It is needless to describe rooms, stories, &c. The purchaser, it is presumed, will examine particulars, and, no doubt, will be well satisfied.

Lot No. 2, Contains two acres of meadow, adjoining the garden, inclosed with the best of fence, and at a moderate computation produces five tons of hay of the best quality, annually, one season with the other.
Lot No. 3, Of 50 acres, convenient to the town, all good wood-land, except about five acres of good meadow, and seven of pasture, both well inclosed. The situation and advantages of the whole needs no encomiums, they are plain to the slightest observation for merchant or any public business. It is a completely fitted and noble land, 2 1/2 miles from Baltimore town, on the post road to Philadelphia, and 12 from Surghemanns lower ferry, in the heart of a fine wheat country, and two fine merchant-mills, one of which is at the door.
The three lots will be sold together or separate, as may best suit the purchaser. For terms, which will be made easy, apply to the subscriber, on the premises.

As the subscriber intends moving to Philadelphia, the above lots or any of them will be exchanged for a house in that city, or other property near it.
JOSEPH STILES.
October 7. 30--35

WAS Lost about seven miles from this city, on the road to Trenton, a pair of Saddlebags, made with straps to lay across the Saddle, containing one piece of Silver lace, which was inclosed in two Silk Handkerchiefs, with two ruffled Shirts; also one Silver Stock Buckle. Whoever finds the same, and will leave them at St. Oswald's Printing Office, in Market-street, next door to the Coffee-House, shall have TWO DOLLARS reward.
32--34
CHARLES SERTOREUS.

TO BE SOLD BY

POETS CORNER.

The following copy of verses is presented to the young Gentlemen of Nassau-Hall, who exhibited such elegant performances at the late Commencement, by A SPECTATOR.

PERMIT a stranger, generous youths to pay
The heartfelt tribute of a grateful lay;
Though far from pomp removed, unknown to fame,
He loves fair science, and adores her name;
Then with what raptures muff his bosom glow,
Raptures, which lessing's votaries only know;
When Nassau's sons he saw in order stand,
Prepared to speak, and stretch the waving hand.
While from their tongues ironic praises roll,
Or eloquence to fire the patriot soul;
Or those pathetic accents reach the heart,
Which friends express, when dearest friends must part.
As to the magic of Amphion's lyre,
The Theban walls, we read, did once aspire,
And stones, enlivened by the poet's song,
In concert moved, and tuneful roll'd along;
So stateman, heroes, various passions swell;
When Morton spake, and bade his friends farewell;
Each female breast with soft emotion heave'd,
And the fair bosom falling tears receiv'd;
Nor could his insalter the fal high forbear,
Wept as he wept, and gave him tear for tear.
How will thy eloquence each hearer raise,
On the grand subject of thy maker's praise;
How lift thy audience from earth's frail abode,
To know, contemplate, and adore thy God.
To thee, to all, whom on that solemn day
Fair science blessed, and beamed her brightest ray;
An unknown muse presents this artless song;
To Nassau's sons, her grateful lays belong,
Enough of praise to her, should once her strains,
Deserve protection, where fair science reigns.

DOCTOR BAKER,

begs Leave to inform the Public in general and his Friends in particular, in the Thirteen United States, that he has just received a fresh Assortment of Medicines, which will enable him to prepare the genuine Anticorbutic Dentifrice, and Albion Essence, for preserving the Teeth, Gums, Sockets, Breath, &c. &c.

This Effluence and Dentifrice is prepared by himself, and warranted perfectly free from the least corrosive Particle or injurious Property whatever.

It is replete with that Balsamic Quality, which prevents all desquations, falling on the gums, or putrefactions that cause bad breath; it takes off the mucilaginous properties that dissolve the sockets of the teeth, and prevents the tooth-ach arising therefrom; it prevents obstructions and inflammations of the nerves and vascular parts of the teeth, and the head and tooth-ach arising therefrom; it concocts the vitiated juices, renders, beyond description, a juvenile fragrance to the breath, makes the teeth white and beautiful, causes the gums to grow firm to the teeth, makes the saliva pure and balsamic, eradicates the scrovy, and restores the gums to their pristine state, if the teeth and gums have been thoroughly cleaned by some skillful Dentist.

Its efficacy is well known to the principal nobility, gentry, and others, of France, Holland, Great-Britain, Ireland, and other principal places in Europe, altho' to some thousands in America.

The Doctor may be consulted on all disorders of teeth, gums, sockets, ulcers, cancers, abscesses, fistulas, suppurations, inflammations, fungi excrescences, exposure of the roots of teeth, reefs of the gums, formation of the different kinds of tartar, change of position, protrusions, looseness, luxation, caries, and exostosis of the bones which form the sockets, caries of the teeth, loss of enamel, matter collected in the maxillary sinuses, sometimes in the cancellated substance of the lower jaw; fractures, obstructions of nerves and vascular parts of the teeth, stiffness and bleeding of the gums, compression of tartar that obstructs the regular course of the fluids, which will be liable to putrify and destroy, in a short time, the gum, the socket, and periosteum of the root. Every one of the above diseases of the teeth and gums, will cause the tooth-ach, head-ach, ear-ach, eye-ach, loss of teeth, fetid breath, &c.

He also may be consulted in all disorders incident to children in teething, for the eruption of teeth in children, is often attended with the most fatal consequences, by exciting fevers, convulsions, gripes in the intestines, acidities in their stomachs, &c. &c. and they suffer in proportion to the delicacy and sensibility of their constitutions; also in the number and figure of their teeth that push out at the same time, for the gums are found to be more tense and liable to inflammation in some children, than others, and if a proper attention was paid, the lives of numbers of children might be saved.

Those who have had the misfortune of losing their teeth, may have natural teeth transplanted, or grafted on the old stumps. Also artificial teeth, from a single tooth, to a complete set.

The Doctor begs leave to acquaint the public, that this new method, he lately invented, of setting teeth, answers beyond description, even without pain or force, and is far preferable to any method used in Europe.

N. B. Dr. Baker's Albion Essence, and Anticorbutic Dentifrice, is sold wholesale and retail, at his house in No. 45, Second-street, below the City Tavern; where all Merchants, Shop-keepers, makers of vessels, and others, may be supplied with any quantity to send to foreign parts, with proper printed directions. By attending properly to the directions, and observing the necessary precautions, people may not only free themselves from a great deal of pain, and preserve their teeth and gums throughout life, but also those of their children; as health, and beauty of the teeth, depend in a great measure of the care and treatment of them in early life.

Each pot of Anti-Scorbutic Dentifrice, has, to prevent fraud, his name on the cover, and sealed with his coat of arms, the same as the copper-plate arms on the label of the bottle of Albion Essence.

The Dentifrice and Essence (with proper brushes) may also be had, Messrs. L'BLANC and WAGNER, and Mrs. ANN DUNNIN, Milliner, in Chestnut-street. 23-25

TO BE SOLD, By DAVIS BEEVEAN, in Second-street, one door from Pine-street, Best James River TOBACCO, in BARK in barrels.
