1994-95 Season Prospectus

The 1994-95 Southern Tech basketball season will begin with high expectations and several unanswered questions. The high expectations stem from the return of eight players from the 93-94 squad. Of these eight players, seven were at sometime during the 93-94 season, in a starting role, thus, giving the Hornets experience, depth and versatility.

These questions will be answered as the season progresses. First, the question of Melvin Hartry's rehabilitation. Progress has been very good but the knee must still be tested in a true game situation. Second, as every year, can the new players understand their roles and execute the structured team oriented system of Coach Perides.

THE COACHES

Head Coach George Perides enters his nineteenth season of leading the Runnin' Hornets with an impressive track record. In Perides eighteen seasons at Southern Tech, the Hornets have compiled a 392-185 record (winning percentage of 68%) and have captured the NAIA District title for a record five straight from 1978-1982 and again in 1987. In thirteen of his last eighteen seasons his teams have won at least 20 games.

As a former Southern Tech player, Wayne Collett returns for his fourth season as Assistant Coach with the Hornets. Wayne has a Master's Degree in Education from North Georgia and coached high school basketball for nine years compiling a career record of 159 wins and 69 losses for a winning percentage of 70%.
